THE SOUTH SUFFERED.

The Cold Weather Was Disastrous to Fruit.

CROPS AND VEGETATION INJURED.

San Antonio and Brazos Rivers Frozen Over—Some Deaths Due to the Cold. Train Service Resuming in Pennsylvania—Conditions Improved in East.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 15.—Letters were received from Florida telling of the direful effect of the freeze in that state. The orange growers' letters are recitals of ice-bound trees and fruit that is ruined by the cold. The price of Florida oranges advanced in one hour from the receipt of the Florida mail from $3 to 5 per box.

The crops about Savannah are a total loss. Early vegetation was backened and killed by the freezing weather. The melting snow is adding to the freezing water that these plants have received.

The steamship William Lawrence, which went aground on the coast of South Carolina on Saturday, will be a total loss. Captain Fisher of the Ocean Steamship company's vessel Kansas City, from New York, who came into port with his ship looking like a big icicle. Captain Fisher stated that this was the worst trip down the coast she has undertaken. She came near going ashore several times.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 15.—Prevalent weather for the past week has been the severest experience in Southwest Texas for many years. For the first time since 1882 the San Antonio river has been frozen over and skating is permissible. No snow or sleet has fallen, however, and little losses are reported among stock. The mercury has continued slightly below the freezing point. Clear skies and bright sunshine during the past seven days had done much to temper the strong winds.

LAKED, Tex., Feb. 15.—The continued unprecedently cold weather of the past week seemed to culminate when the temperature went down to 18 degrees above zero, and ice several inches thick has stood in the open air during the past three days. Two Mexicans died from exposure on the river bank.

HOUSTON, Feb. 15.—Early vegetables are damaged to the amount of at least $1,000,000. There has been no great amount of human suffering, but cattle are in a horrible condition, having no place to lie, as the prairies are wet and the marshes frozen over.

WACO, Tex., Feb. 15.—Oats were ruined and wheat so seriously injured as to amount to destruction. The fruit crop is not injured. The Brazos river is frozen from bank to bank, and all streams and ponds are covered with ice thick enough for skating. Great damage has been done to live stock.

LITTLE ROCK, Feb. 15.—Sunday the temperature reached the lowest record here, 12 below zero. Since then a rise occurred. There was much suffering among the poor, as they were lacking proper food, protection and clothing and in being so scarce it has been unobtainable by even those who could afford to buy their necessities. One person was frozen to death, a mailcarrier named Brozier.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—The general railroad conditions last night showed considerable improvement both locally and throughout Pennsylvania. The Pennsylvania railroad yesterday succeeded in raising the snow blockade on all its divisions in this city except on the Philadelphia division, which will likely be opened today. Trains were running with fair regularity between here and New York and also chief points south. In the state trains on this line were gradually being put through. There was a strong probability that traffic will be generally resumed today. The Reading railroad remained tied up until late yesterday afternoon, when trains began running irregularly. The Baltimore and Ohio was at a standstill, although one or two trains were sent south late yesterday afternoon.

Charles J. Summers, a letter carrier, aged 62 years, and Joseph Evans, aged 60, were frozen to death.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 15.—The first train to reach this city since Monday noon arrived yesterday afternoon. It was Niagara express, which left Philadelphia Monday morning with 34 passengers, including four women. The train stalled about half a mile east of Ronks and the passengers were compelled to remain there in the cars until yesterday morning, when they waded through drifts often neck deep to Ronks. The only food they had was a few crackers and these were obtained by one of the passengers after a perilous trip to a store half a mile away.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 15.—The Pennsylvania railroad was open to Harrisburg. The Central Railroad of New Jersey will be running regularly today. The Delaware and Hudson and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western were open. Trains on all roads will likely resume regular time today.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 15.—The Harrisburg and Pittsburgh divisions of the Pennsylvania railroad and all of the branches connecting with these divisions were cleared for business and some freight and passenger trains were moved, but the Philadelphia division remained snowbound, no effort was made to start through trains. A train representing the last line and made up at Harrisburg reached here on time and went on through to Pittsburgh. East-bound passengers delayed here were sent as far as Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—Arthur E. McCord of Sunbury, a fireman on the Northern Central railway, was brought to the Harrisburg hospital with both feet frozen. He was caught in the blizzard and his condition is serious.

WHEELING, Feb. 15.—Fatalities from freezing are already about 30 in the state. Reports are current of many fatalities in the mountains. Two lumber camps in Braxton county are without provisions and cannot be reached.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 15.—A coal famine existed here. Families were moving together to keep from freezing.

READING, Pa., Feb. 15.—At Robeson three engines were caught near the station and frozen up.

Henry Graul, aged 35 years, was found frozen to death in West Reading.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 15.—The tracks of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads were cleared of the big snow drifts and traffic was resumed.

HOUSTON, Feb. 15.—Reports to The Post during the two days of intense cold showed that 14 lives were lost in Texas by freezing. At Houston, 2; in Collins county, 2; in Lamar county, 2; in Robertson county, 2; in Bexar county, 1; in Jefferson county, 1, and three children in Coryell county.

In the past ten days The Post chronicled the cremation of 20 persons, of whom 16 were children, the majority having their clothing catch fire from open fires.

TRENTON, Feb. 15.—The storm conditions in this vicinity abated and trains between New York and Philadelphia were beginning to get through, but irregularly and with difficulty.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—With clear skies and warmer weather New York started to dig itself out of the snow. The great blizzard of 1899 had gone as quickly as it came. There was not a cloud in the sky, but under foot lay 15 inches of snow on the level, with drifts about ten feet high in some places.

After Saturday's half holiday and the suspension of business on Sunday and Monday, Tuesday's street traffic was tremendous with the result of blockades everywhere. There was no place to go save along the car tracks. On either side of them the roadways in all the streets were heaped high with snow thrown there by the snowploughs and workmen.

The New York Central continued to be tied up, as far as incoming trains were concerned. The great drifts 30 miles south of Poughkeepsie and near Cold Springs were too much for the snow plows, and trains were massed at both sides of this point in great numbers.

The Pennsylvania did nearly all the business that was done.

The Lehigh Valley road dispatched and received no trains. Conductors and trainmen were put to shoveling snow in the Lehigh yards north of the Jersey Central depot.

The Erie got in a few local trains. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road kept its local service to Newark, Orange and Morristown open.

WOODWARD, O. T., Feb. 15.—Stockmen from all points of the territory, who are attending the annual convention of the Oklahoma Live Stock association, believe the reports as to the effects on the cattle of last week's blizzard and cold wave were exaggerated. While there have been reports of heavy loss in scattered herds, the majority of cattlemen report losses ranging from 1 to 5 per cent and on the whole it is not believed that losses will reach 10 per cent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Not a through train on the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio or southern roads reached the city yesterday or up to 10:30 o'clock last night. All the companies were putting forth their best efforts, however, and confidently expect to resume through business north and south today.

The storm suspended a large part of the business of the city and also many social functions. The president ordered that the reception to the general public be postponed until the weather is more auspicious.

Coal went up over $1 a ton. Eggs have advanced from 28 to 50 cents a dozen; pork went up 7 cents a pound; Irish potatoes have jumped from 45 to 85 cents and vegetable prices have advanced 75 per cent.

FIRED ON U. S. TROOPS.

Filipinos Fought From Surrendered Pateros.

DRIVEN OFF BY CALIFORNIANS.

Later They Made a Stand and a Brisk Engagement Followed—The Californians Were Reinforced—The River Gunboat Laguna de Bay Started to Scene.

MANILA, Feb. 15.—The insurgents at Pateros, ten miles southeast of Manila, who surrendered last Wednesday, but which place was not occupied by our troops, opened fire on some detached troops of the First California infantry stationed nearly north of the town. The Californians replied with a hot fire, driving the rebels out of the town.

They moved to the south, where they made a stand and a brisk engagement followed, continuing until dark.

The Californians in the meantime were reinforced by companies from the First Washington and First Idaho infantry and the Utah light artillery. The former Spanish river gunboat Laguna de Bay was on her way to shell the enemy's rear.

MANILA, Feb. 15.—Particulars of the capture of Iloilo by the United States forces under Brigadier General M. D. Miller, on Saturday night, were received here. On the morning of Friday, Feb. 10, General Miller sent an ultimatum to the commander of the rebels on shore notifying him that it was his intention to take Iloilo, by force if necessary.

Non-combatants and foreigners were warned to leave the town within 24 hours. The rebels were also warned that they must make no further belligerent preparations.

The gunboat Petrel was then moved to a position close in shore and near the rebel fort, while the cruiser Boston took up her station at the other end of the town.

Friday passed quietly. During the day many refugees left the town of Iloilo. The majority of them were taken on board foreign ships lying in the harbor.

Searchlights from the United States warships were kept all night long illuminating the town and its defenses. The rebels, so far as the lookouts on the ships could discover, remained quiet throughout the night.

About 8 o'clock on the morning of Saturday, Feb. 11, the gunboat Petrel signalled to the cruiser Boston that the rebels were working in their trenches. In return the Petrel was ordered to fire warning shots upon the town from her three-pounders. This was done and the rebels replied with a harmless fusillade. The Boston and the Petrel then bombarded the rebel trenches, completely clearing them of their occupants in a very short space of time.

Soon after the bombardment began flames broke out simultaneously in various parts of the town. Thereupon the marines, acting as infantry and artillery, were landed from the cruiser Boston and a company was sent ashore from the gunboat Petrel. These detachments marched straight into the town of Iloilo and, hoisting the Stars and Stripes over the fort, took possession of the place in the name of the United States.

The capture of the town and its defenses having been accomplished, the marines and soldiers who had been sent ashore proceeded to the task of saving the American, English and German consulates from destruction by the fire, which was raging among the frail and inflammable buildings of the town. The Swiss consul's residence, which was in the same row as the consulates named, was burned. The entire Chinese and native sections of the town were destroyed, but foreign mercantile property escaped with slight damage.

There was some desultory firing by the enemy in the outskirts of Iloilo, but not a single American was injured. General Miller's force had complete control of the situation when the gunboat Petrel sailed from Iloilo for Manila. The Sixth United States artillery regiment occupied a position commanding both the bridges leading into the town, and the Tennessee volunteers and the Eighth United States infantry were occupying the trenches that had been constructed by the rebels.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The navy department has received the following cablegram:

"MANILA.

Secretary Navy, Washington:

"Petrel just arrived from Iloilo. That place taken by our force Saturday and now occupied. No prisoners. No casualties on our side. Insurgent loss not known but believed to be slight. They attempted to burn town, but foreign property generally saved by our force. (Signed) "DEWEY."

"Two-thirds of the charges against me have been cleared up and I now propose to clear up the remaining third. On the advice of my attorneys I propose to fight the case to the last court."

The trial of State Senator Burke upon the disbarment proceedings instituted against him by the trial committee of the Bar association will begin in the circuit court Saturday morning.

A large part of the record in the Dellenbaugh trial will be admitted in evidence, so that the trial will be much shorter than the Dellenbaugh trial. Each side, however, will offer some additional testimony.

DECLARED ACT UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Standard Oil Company's Answer to the Averments by Monnett.

POINTER FOR MILES.

Conner's Intimation as to the Beef Charges.

THEY HAD BETTER BE PROVEN.

If Not, the Former War Investigator Said a Certain High Officer Would Be Dismissed From the Army—Declared Investigators Sought the Truth.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 15.—Dr. S. P. Conner, after long service on the war investigating commission, having returned to his home here, was complimented by a dinner at the Grand hotel by his friends and neighbors. The guest spoke freely of the work of the investigating commission, which, he said, had been assailed from the beginning as one created to void the truth. He declared that the commission labored earnestly to find and to declare the truth. The work, he said, would have been closed much sooner but for the remarkable charges promulgated by the commanding general of the army in his statement before the commission.

The doctor sketched the investigation of the statement made to commission and said he hoped the court of inquiry which is to examine the same matter would probe it to its depth. He hoped they might get more light than the commission had found. The doctor was sure that if the court of inquiry found the facts as the investigating commission had found them, a high officer of the army would be dismissed from the service.

CANAL BILL AS RIDER

Hepburn Tried to Have Nicaragua Measure Fastened Upon an Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Nicaragua canal bill was offered in the house as an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill by Mr. Hepburn (Ia.), chairman of the committee that reported it, and the leaders on the respective sides were engaged in a desperate struggle which involved the fate of the measure at this session of congress. After Mr. Cannon, chairman of the committee on appropriations, served notice last week that there was no time for the consideration of the canal bill at this session, the supporters of the measure determined to force it onto the sundry civil bill as a rider if possible.

As soon as it was offered Mr. Cannon made four points of order against it, and one of the most interesting parliamentary contests of the session was on. As a rule the appeals of the house leaders are able to hold the members in line, but strong arguments were adduced in support of the pertinency of the amendment and besides the bill had strong friends on both sides of the chamber who were seemingly ready to adopt any expedient to provide for the construction of the canal. The debate on the points of order lasted about two hours and was not concluded. It promised to consume several hours today. It seemed to be a foregone conclusion that the chairman of the committee of the whole (Mr. Hopkins, Ill.) would sustain the points of order, so that the real test would come upon the question of overruling the chair. Should the chair be overruled there was no doubt that the amendment would command a majority of votes. About 20 pages of the bill was disposed of. No important amendments were adopted.

The detailed vote follows:

Nays—Bacon, Bate, Caffery, Carter, Clay, Cockrell, Hawley, Hoar, Lindsay, McBride, Martin, Money, Morgan, Murphy, Pettigrew, Platt (Conn.), Rawlins, Ross, Simon, Smith, Stewart, Warren—22.

SEVENTEEN VOTES FOR QUAY.

Jenks Received Two Votes and One Was Cast For Dalzell.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—Seventeen votes were polled for Senator Quay, two for a George A. Jenks and one for Congressman John Dalzell. Although only ten sets of pairs were announced several members refrained from voting on account of the absence of those with whom they were paired for the day before.

The ballot follows in detail:

The document was referred to the committee on naval affairs. It was stated that a statement would be prepared in Admiral Schley's behalf, and this also will go to the naval committee.

Non-combatants and foreigners were warned to leave the town within 24 hours. The rebels were also warned that they must make no further belligerent preparations.

The gunboat Petrel was then moved to a position close in shore and near the rebel fort, while the cruiser Boston took up her station at the other end of the town.

Friday passed quietly. During the day many refugees left the town of Iloilo. The majority of them were taken on board foreign ships lying in the harbor.

Searchlights from the United States warships were kept all night long illuminating the town and its defenses. The rebels, so far as the lookouts on the ships could discover, remained quiet throughout the night.

About 8 o'clock on the morning of Saturday, Feb. 11, the gunboat Petrel signalled to the cruiser Boston that the rebels were working in their trenches. In return the Petrel was ordered to fire warning shots upon the town from her three-pounders. This was done and the rebels replied with a harmless fusillade. The Boston and the Petrel then bombarded the rebel trenches, completely clearing them of their occupants in a very short space of time.

Soon after the bombardment began flames broke out simultaneously in various parts of the town. Thereupon the marines, acting as infantry and artillery, were landed from the cruiser Boston and a company was sent ashore from the gunboat Petrel. These detachments marched straight into the town of Iloilo and, hoisting the Stars and Stripes over the fort, took possession of the place in the name of the United States.

The capture of the town and its defenses having been accomplished, the marines and soldiers who had been sent ashore proceeded to the task of saving the American, English and German consulates from destruction by the fire, which was raging among the frail and inflammable buildings of the town.

The Swiss consul's residence, which was in the same row as the consulates named, was burned. The entire Chinese and native sections of the town were destroyed, but foreign mercantile property escaped with slight damage.

There was some desultory firing by the enemy in the outskirts of Iloilo, but not a single American was injured.

General Miller's force had complete control of the situation when the gunboat Petrel sailed from Iloilo for Manila. The Sixth United States artillery regiment occupied a position commanding both the bridges leading into the town, and the Tennessee volunteers and the Eighth United States infantry were occupying the trenches that had been constructed by the rebels.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The navy department has received the following cablegram: "MANILA.

Secretary Navy, Washington: "Petrel just arrived from Iloilo. That place taken by our force Saturday and now occupied. No prisoners. No casualties on our side. Insurgent loss not known but believed to be slight. They attempted to burn town, but foreign property generally saved by our force. (Signed) "DEWEY."

POINTER FOR MILES.

Conner's Intimation as to the Beef Charges.

THEY HAD BETTER BE PROVEN.

If Not, the Former War Investigator Said a Certain High Officer Would Be Dismissed From the Army—Declared Investigators Sought the Truth.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 15.—Dr. S. P. Conner, after long service on the war investigating commission, having returned to his home here, was complimented by a dinner at the Grand hotel by his friends and neighbors. The guest spoke freely of the work of the investigating commission, which, he said, had been assailed from the beginning as one created to vilify the truth. He declared that the commission labored earnestly to find and to declare the truth. The work, he said, would have been closed much sooner but for the remarkable charges promulgated by the commanding general of the army in his statement before the commission.

The doctor sketched the investigation of the statement made to commission and said he hoped the court of inquiry which is to examine the same matter would probe it to its depth. He hoped they might get more light than the commission had found. The doctor was sure that if the court of inquiry found the facts as the investigating commission had found them, a high officer of the army would be dismissed from the service.

CANAL BILL AS RIDER

Hepburn Tried to Have Nicaragua Measure Fastened Upon an Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Nicaragua canal bill was offered in the house as an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill by Mr. Hepburn (la.), chairman of the committee that reported it, and the leaders on the respective sides were engaged in a desperate struggle which involved the fate of the measure at this session of congress. After Mr. Cannon, chairman of the committee on appropriations, served notice last week that there was no time for the consideration of the canal bill at this session, the supporters of the measure determined to force it onto the sundry civil bill as a rider if possible.

As soon as it was offered Mr. Cannon made four points of order against it, and one of the most interesting parliamentary contests of the session was on. As a rule the appeals of the house leaders are able to hold the members in line, but strong arguments were adduced in support of the pertinency of the amendment and besides the bill had strong friends on both sides of the chamber who were seemingly ready to adopt any expedient to provide for the construction of the canal. The debate on the points of order lasted about two hours and was not concluded. It promised to consume several hours today. It seemed to be a foregone conclusion that the chairman of the committee of the whole (Mr. Hopkins, Ill.) would sustain the points of order, so that the real test would come upon the question of overruling the chair. Should the chair be overruled there was no doubt that the amendment would command a majority of votes. About 20 pages of the bill was disposed of. No important amendments were adopted.

The detailed vote follows:

Nays—Bacon, Bates, Caffery, Carter, Clay, Cockrell, Hawley, Hoar, Lindsay, McBride, Martin, Money, Morgan, Murphy, Pettigrew, Platt (Conn.), Rawlins, Ross, Simon, Smith, Stewart, Warren—22.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

THE SOUTH SUFFERED.

The Cold Weather Was Disastrous to Fruit.

CROPS AND VEGETATION INJURED.

San Antonio and Brazos Rivers Frozen Over—Some Deaths Due to the Cold. Train Service Resuming in Pennsylvania—Conditions Improved in East.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 15.—Letters were received from Florida telling of the direful effect of the freeze in that state. The orange growers' letters are recitals of ice-bound trees and fruit that is ruined by the cold. The price of Florida oranges advanced in one hour from the receipt of the Florida mail from $5 to 5 per box.

The crops about Savannah are a total loss. Early vegetation was backened and killed by the freezing weather. The melting snow is adding to the freezing water that these plants have received.

The steamship William Lawrence, which went aground on the coast of South Carolina on Saturday, will be a total loss. Captain Fisher of the Ocean Steamship company's vessel Kansas City, from New York, who came into port with his ship looking like a big icicle. Captain Fisher stated that this was the worst trip down the coast she has undertaken. She came near going ashore several times.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 15.—Prevalent weather for the past week has been the severest experience in Southwest Texas for many years. For the first time since 1882 the San Antonio river has been frozen over and skating is permissible. No snow or sleet has fallen, however, and little losses are reported among stock. The mercury has continued slightly below the freezing point. Clear skies and bright sunshine during the past seven days had done much to temper the strong winds.

LAREDO, Tex., Feb. 15.—The continued unprecedently cold weather of the past week seemed to culminate when the temperature went down to 15 degrees above zero, and ice several inches thick has stood in the open air during the past three days. Two Mexicans died from exposure on the river bank.

HOUSTON, Feb. 15.—Early vegetables are damaged to the amount of at least $1,000,000. There has been no great amount of human suffering, but cattle are in a horrible condition, having no place to lie, as the prairies are wet and the marshes frozen over.

WACO, Tex., Feb. 15.—Oats was ruined and wheat so seriously injured as to amount to destruction. The fruit crop is not injured. The Brazos river is frozen from bank to bank, and all streams and ponds are covered with ice thick enough for skating. Great damage has been done to live stock.

LITTLE ROCK, Feb. 15.—Sunday the temperature reached the lowest record here, 12 below zero. Since then a rise occurred. There was much suffering among the poor, as they were lacking proper food, protection and clothing and in being so scarce it has been unobtainable by even those who could afford to buy their necessities. One person was frozen to death, a mailcarrier named Brozier.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—The general railroad conditions last night showed considerable improvement both locally and throughout Pennsylvania. The Pennsylvania railroad yesterday succeeded in raising the snow blockade on all its divisions in this city except on the Philadelphia division, which will likely be opened today. Trains were running with fair regularity between here and New York and also chief points south. In the state trains on this line were gradually being put through. There was a strong probability that traffic will be generally resumed today. The Reading railroad remained tied up until late yesterday afternoon, when trains began running irregularly. The Baltimore and Ohio was at a standstill, although one or two trains were sent south late yesterday afternoon.

Charles J. Summers, a letter carrier, aged 62 years, and Joseph Evans, aged 60, were frozen to death.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 15.—The first train to reach this city since Monday noon arrived yesterday afternoon. It was Niagara express, which left Philadelphia Monday morning with 34 passengers, including four women. The train stalled about half a mile east of Ronks and the passengers were compelled to remain there in the cars until yesterday morning, when they waded through drifts often neck deep to Ronks. The only food they had was a few crackers and these were obtained by one of the passengers after a perilous trip to a store half a mile away.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 15.—The Pennsylvania railroad was open to Harrisburg. The Central Railroad of New Jersey will be running regularly today. The Delaware and Hudson and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western were open. Trains on all roads will likely resume regular time today.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 15.—The Harrisburg and Pittsburgh divisions of the Pennsylvania railroad and all of the branches connecting with these divisions were cleared for business and some freight and passenger trains were moved, but the Philadelphia division remained snowbound, no effort was made to start through trains. A train representing the fast line and made up at Harrisburg reached here on time and went on through to Pittsburgh. East-bound passengers delayed here were sent as far as Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—Arthur E. McCord of Sunbury, a fireman on the Northern Central railway, was brought to the Harrisburg hospital with both feet frozen. He was caught in the blizzard and his condition is serious.

WHEELING, Feb. 15.—Fatalities from freezing are already about 30 in the state. Reports are current of many fatalities in the mountains. Two lumber camps in Braxton county are without provisions and cannot be reached.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 15.—A coal famine existed here. Families were moving together to keep from freezing.

READING, Pa., Feb. 15.—At Robeson three engines were caught near the station and frozen up.

Henry Graul, aged 35 years, was found frozen to death in West Reading.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 15.—The tracks of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads were cleared of the big snow drifts and traffic was resumed.

HOTSPRING, Feb. 15.—Reports to The Post during the two days' of intense cold showed that 14 lives were lost in Texas by freezing. At Houston, 2; in Collins county, 2; in Lamar county, 2; in Robertson county, 2; in Bexar county, 1; in Jefferson county, 1, and three children in Coryell county.

In the past ten days The Post chronicled the cremation of 30 persons, of whom 16 were children, the majority having their clothing catch fire from open stoves.

TRENTON, Feb. 15.—The storm condition in this vicinity abated and trains between New York and Philadelphia were beginning to get through, but irregularly and with difficulty.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—With clear skies and warmer weather New York started to dig itself out of the snow. The great blizzard of 1899 had gone as quickly as it came. There was not a cloud in the sky, but under foot lay 15 inches of snow on the level, with drifts about ten feet high in some places.

After Saturday's half holiday and the suspension of business on Sunday and Monday, Tuesday's street traffic was tremendous with the result of blockades everywhere. There was no place to go save along the car tracks. On either side of them the roadways in all the streets were heaped high with snow thrown there by the snowploughs and workmen.

The New York Central continued to be tied up, as far as incoming trains were concerned. The great drifts 30 miles south of Poughkeepsie and near Cold Springs were too much for the snow plows, and trains were massed at both sides of this point in great numbers.

The Pennsylvania did nearly all the business that was done.

The Lehigh Valley road dispatched and received no trains. Conductors and trainmen were put to shoveling snow in the Lehigh yards north of the Jersey Central depot.

The Erie got in a few local trains.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road kept its local service to Newark, Orange and Morristown open.

WOODWARD, O. T., Feb. 15.—Stockmen from all points of the territory, who are attending the annual convention of the Oklahoma Live Stock association, believe the reports as to the effects on the cattle of last week's blizzard and cold wave were exaggerated. While there have been reports of heavy loss in scattered herds, the majority of cattlemen report losses ranging from 1 to 5 per cent and on the whole it is not believed that losses will reach 10 per cent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Not a through train on the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio or southern roads reached the city yesterday or up to 10:30 o'clock last night. All the companies were putting forth their best efforts, however, and confidently expect to resume through business north and south today.

The storm suspended a large part of the business of the city and also many social functions. The president ordered that the reception to the general public be postponed until the weather is more auspicious.

Coal went up over $1 a ton. Eggs have advanced from 28 to 50 cents a dozen; pork went up 7 cents a pound; Irish potatoes have jumped from 45 to 85 cents and vegetable prices have advanced 75 per cent.

Fish, at one time an assessor of the District of Columbia and assistant register of the treasury under President Cleveland's first administration, died in a coal office here, where he had stopped for rest. He was over 70 years of age, and the exertion of walking through the deep snow probably caused heart failure.

Filipinos Fought From Surrendered Pateros.

DRIVEN OFF BY CALIFORNIANS.

Later They Made a Stand and a Brisk Engagement Followed—The Californians Were Reinforced—The River Gunboat Laguna de Bay Started to Scene.

MANILA, Feb. 15.—The insurgents at Pateros, ten miles southeast of Manila, who surrendered last Wednesday, but which place was not occupied by our troops, opened fire on some detached troops of the First California infantry stationed nearly north of the town. The Californians replied with a hot fire, driving the rebels out of the town.

They moved to the south, where they made a stand and a brisk engagement followed, continuing until dark.

The Californians in the meantime were reinforced by companies from the First Washington and First Idaho infantry and the Utah light artillery. The former Spanish river gunboat Laguna de Bay was on her way to shell the enemy's rear.

MANILA, Feb. 15.—Particulars of the capture of Iloilo by the United States forces under Brigadier General M. D. Miller, on Saturday night, were received here. On the morning of Friday, Feb. 10, General Miller sent an ultimatum to the commander of the rebels on shore notifying him that it was his intention to take Iloilo, by force if necessary.

Non-combatants and foreigners were warned to leave the town within 24 hours. The rebels were also warned that they must make no further belligerent preparations.

THE VICTORY AT MANILA

Captain March Describes Conditions at Scene of Fight.

TROUBLE WAS LONG EXPECTED.

Commander of the Astor Battery Says Filipinos, Misconstruing General Otis' Leniency, Thought Our Troops Feared Them—Rebels Cannot Fight With Modern Weapons.

Captain Peyton C. March, U. S. A., who was recently in command of the Astor battery, is resting at his old home in Easton, Pa., his father being Dr. Francis A. March, the famous English scholar and philologist at Lafayette college. The students of the college gave him a reception the other night. Several hundred of them marched over to the pretty home on the west of the college grounds and cheered and cheered until the gallant captain came out and made a speech to them. His speech over, he answered a number of inquiries concerning the recent battle at Manila. He said:

"I am intensely interested in all the news from Manila. Our line now forms a semicircle about Manila. It starts on the water edge on the north of the city and circles around until it meets the water again on the south side. This line was about 16 miles in length, possibly a little more. Now that our troops are occupying advanced positions, it is probably nearer 20 miles. It reaches the south shore at Malate, and it was here that the Astor battery was stationed. The Fourteenth infantry is now encamped in that locality. The line from the Fourteenth's position to that of the Third artillery, on the other side of the city, is six miles."

"Were there any anticipations of trouble when you left Manila?"

"Yes. This attack has been anticipated. We had repeated warnings, and there were numerous alarms at night, when we turned out, expecting the crisis had arrived. The general policy of General Otis was to be as moderate in dealing with the Filipinos as possible. They misunderstood this, and in the opinion of many this policy is considered to have been too lenient. They thought we were afraid of them."

"What do you think of the fight?"

"I expected it, and the outcome is settled in advance. We have beaten them, and if we go at them vigorously we will clean them off the island. They are brave and fearless, it is true, but they do not know how to fight. I have no doubt that the terrible slaughter which they sustained will teach them a lesson they will not forget."

"How many of them are armed with bows and arrows?"

"I do not take any stock in that story. I was out in their lines a good deal, but did not see any bows or arrows. I did see many Mauser rifles, however. They are well armed, but they do not know how to use their guns."

"Did you see them under fire?"

"Yes; at times I reconnoitered their lines during the time when they were exchanging shots with the Spaniards. They would keep their bodies well concealed behind the trenches and would lift their rifles in the air over their heads, point them toward the Spanish lines and blaze away. They never saw where they were shooting. I could not tell much about their firing at night. The Spaniards and insurgents would crack away at each other by the hour at night. The only evidence would be the flash of the gun and the report. As for killing anything, that rarely occurred. Still, the Filipinos were hard fighters in their way, for they drove the Spaniards from the island and penned them in Manila before we arrived."

"The severest fighting seems to have been near Paco. Are you familiar with that locality, captain?" was asked. Here the Astor battery commander grew more than ever interested, and his eye flashed as he recalled this place.

"Oh, yes! I know Paco. I fought there. It was across the open and through the bamboo about Paco that we charged when we had our fight. It was hot work then, and now that I am out of it I don't mind saying I am glad I am and that I was lucky to escape. We went right up the trenches, and I never expected to come out alive. The charge was made for the moral effect. The men behaved wonderfully well, and the way they went up over and into the trenches I will never forget. It was only the abominable marksmanship of the Spaniards that saved our lives, for there were enough Spaniards there and they fired enough bullets to have wiped out an entire regiment had the shots been well aimed."

"The present intrenchments of our troops at Paco face the level laid thick with bamboo and rice fields. It is a good country for the insurgents to fight in, as they can conceal themselves, but our position is most securely intrenched, and the Filipinos could never endanger it. The situation is absolutely controlled by the Americans. General Otis is a firm and excellent officer. One would think that if we would start right in and clean out the insurgents now it would settle matters. The reason the attack was made at night was very probably because most of the fighting has been done between sunset and sunrise, as it is too hot during the day to fight."

"What do you think of the troops now in Manila?"

"The Fourteenth infantry and the Third artillery are magnificent troops," replied Captain March. "The Eighth corps is composed of fighters. The troops from the western states are fully as good as the best of those coming from eastern states and are as good as any in the service. There need be no fear that they could not cope with the insurgents or any other body of men."—Philadelphia Press.

SOLD ARMS TO SPAIN.

Unpleasant Predicament of an Exporting House.

"There are a lot of queer inside stories connected with the war," said a northern visitor in the lobby of an up town hotel, according to the New Orleans Times-Democrat, "but I think I can tell the very oddest of the lot. I don't care to call any names, but the facts are these: Late last summer a certain manufacturing concern, one of the biggest in its line in the world, received quite a large order from the Spanish government for supplies to be sent to Cuba. There was nothing remarkable in this, because Spain was at that time a liberal customer in the American market, but it already owed a pretty good stiff bill to the house in question, and there was some doubt about filling the last requisition. However, the stuff was finally sent on promise of a 90 day settlement in full. That was in September, 1897."

"When the 90 days elapsed, a small payment was made and the balance promised directly after New Year's. Some time in January there was another small payment and another big promise. On Feb. 15, as you may happen to recall, the Maine was blown to smithereens in Havana harbor, and in the swift succession of events that followed the bill was simply ignored by the Spanish authorities. That very briefly is the commercial history of the case, and the house now finds itself in a peculiar predicament."

"It is possible that it might get its money by an appeal to the president, but as most of the stuff furnished to the dons was used as munitions of war against our own troops it is reluctant to make the claim for fear of exciting popular prejudice. The amount involved runs away up into the thousands, but they figure that it would be more than offset by loss of home trade. So they have concluded to keep their mouths shut and charge it to profit and loss. Funny situation, isn't it? The facts are exactly as I have stated them."

BURGLAR PROOF POOR BOX.

Church Thieves Defied by a Device Now For Sale.

A store in Boston which sells church supplies has among many things for sale a burglar proof poor box. The box is about one foot square and is surmounted by a golden cross. It is made of steel of the hardest kind. Should one try to lift the box, he would find that it would weigh at least 50 pounds.

The outside case, of iron, is not what gives the weight, but the arrangement inside. This is a device to prevent money from being pulled out of the box. The obliging clerk explained, "When a man has the patience to squat himself in front of an altar and by the light of the sanctuary lamp unscrew a poor box from the altar rail, the job occupying over two hours, it is hard to know what to expect next."

The same precautions are now taken in guarding valuables in a church as in a private house. This burglar proof poor box is the invention of a French priest. The mechanism inside is complex. The coin, when dropped into the box, travels downward in a spiral course. Should the coin stop in its passage a bell rings and continues ringing until the coin has reached the end of its course. Should a chisel, knife or hairpin be thrust into the box this ringing immediately warns the church people that some one is tampering with the poor box. It is thought that the unusual weight of the box and the mechanism inside will keep the money from being taken away.—Boston Herald.

A New Senator's Great Fortune.

W. A. Clark, senator elect from Montana, is worth $20,000,000. Taking into account all the various business interests with which he has a connection he probably stands, with his own wealth, surrounded by $100,000,000 of capital. His copper mine holdings in Montana and Arizona are most extensive, and at this time are worth about 200 per cent more than they were one year ago. He is said to have the ambition of being known as the "copper king" of this country. He is not an orator or a bookish man. He comes into the senate as another type of the era of business men legislators. It has been frequently said that his real reason for seeking the senate ever since 1889 has been due to a desire to gratify his family, who are rarely seen in Butte, but live in the east.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Captain Anson thinks the approaching season will be a most successful one for baseball. "With no war in the way and interest in the game constantly growing, I see no reason," says Anson, "why it should not be a successful year."

MANY QUAIL FROZEN

Cold Weather Too Much For the Birds.

SNOW CUT OFF THEIR SUPPLIES

Farmers in Some Sections Are Feeding Them, but Where the Custom Is Not General the Loss Has Been Great. Sportsmen's Hopes Gone.

Prominent sportsmen claim that the extreme cold weather last week killed more quail in Ohio than all hunters combined during the past season.

Thousands of birds have perished for want of food or have been frozen in localities affording poor cover. The snow has prevented them from feeding on seeds which have fallen to the ground, and unlike the pheasant, quail cannot survive weather 20 degrees below zero. Whole covies have been found stiff in death in neighboring thickets. Numerous farmers in this part of the state are feeding the quail, and the shrewd little fellows soon learn where to find an ample breakfast. If this method was practiced throughout Ohio thousands of quail would be saved.

At the close of last season quail were yet plentiful everywhere, and the prospects for an unprecedented season to come were never better until last week. The winter was open and not extremely cold, leaving the owls, hawks and foxes the only enemies of Bob White. Six years ago a similar cold snap nearly exterminated the quail, but since the winters have been more favorable and the birds have multiplied rapidly.

"I have heard that a great many quail have been frozen," said one prominent among the sportsmen of the city, "and I guess it is right. We had hopes for a good season next fall, but if the stories we hear of dead quail are true I think the shooting in this part of the country will not amount to much. Hard winters always kill off the birds, and if there are many more like this in Ohio there will be few if any quail left."

ELWOOD PUSEY,

On Feb. 15, as you may happen to recall, the Maine was blown to smithereens in Havana harbor, and in the swift succession of events that followed the bill was simply ignored by the Spanish authorities. That very briefly is the commercial history of the case, and the house now finds itself in a peculiar predicament."

"It is possible that it might get its money by an appeal to the president, but as most of the stuff furnished to the dons was used as munitions of war against our own troops it is reluctant to make the claim for fear of exciting popular prejudice. The amount involved runs away up into the thousands, but they figure that it would be more than offset by loss of home trade. So they have concluded to keep their mouths shut and charge it to profit and loss. Funny situation, isn't it? The facts are exactly as I have stated them."

BURGLAR PROOF POOR BOX.

Church Thieves Defied by a Device Now For Sale.

A store in Boston which sells church supplies has among many things for sale a burglar proof poor box. The box is about one foot square and is surmounted by a golden cross. It is made of steel of the hardest kind. Should one try to lift the box, he would find that it would weigh at least 50 pounds.

The outside case, of iron, is not what gives the weight, but the arrangement inside. This is a device to prevent money from being pulled out of the box. The obliging clerk explained, "When a man has the patience to squat himself in front of an altar and by the light of the sanctuary lamp unscrew a poor box from the altar rail, the job occupying over two hours, it is hard to know what to expect next."

The same precautions are now taken in guarding valuables in a church as in a private house. This burglar proof poor box is the invention of a French priest. The mechanism inside is complex. The coin, when dropped into the box, travels downward in a spiral course. Should the coin stop in its passage a bell rings and continues ringing until the coin has reached the end of its course. Should a chisel, knife or hairpin be thrust into the box this ringing immediately warns the church people that some one is tampering with the poor box. It is thought that the unusual weight of the box and the mechanism inside will keep the money from being taken away.—Boston Herald.

A New Senator's Great Fortune.

W. A. Clark, senator elect from Montana, is worth $20,000,000. Taking into account all the various business interests with which he has a connection he probably stands, with his own wealth, surrounded by $100,000,000 of capital. His copper mine holdings in Montana and Arizona are most extensive, and at this time are worth about 200 per cent more than they were one year ago. He is said to have the ambition of being known as the "copper king" of this country. He is not an orator or a bookish man. He comes into the senate as another type of the era of business men legislators. It has been frequently said that his real reason for seeking the senate ever since 1889 has been due to a desire to gratify his family, who are rarely seen in Butte, but live in the east.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Captain Anson thinks the approaching season will be a most successful one for baseball. "With no war in the way and interest in the game constantly growing, I see no reason," says Anson, "why it should not be a successful year."

MANY QUAIL FROZEN

SNOW CUT OFF THEIR SUPPLIES

Farmers In Some Sections Are Feeding Them, but Where the Custom Is Not General the Loss Has Been Great. Sportsmen's Hopes Gone.

Prominent sportsmen claim that the extreme cold weather last week killed more quail in Ohio than all hunters combined during the past season.

Thousands of birds have perished for want of food or have been frozen in localities affording poor cover. The snow has prevented them from feeding on seeds which have fallen to the ground, and unlike the pheasant, quail cannot survive weather 20 degrees below zero. Whole coveys have been found stiff in death in neighboring thickets. Numerous farmers in this part of the state are feeding the quail, and the shrewd little fellows soon learn where to find an ample breakfast. If this method was practiced throughout Ohio thousands of quail would be saved.

At the close of last season quail were yet plentiful everywhere, and the prospects for an unprecedented season to come were never better until last week. The winter was open and not extremely cold, leaving the owls, hawks and foxes the only enemies of Bob White. Six years ago a similar cold snap nearly exterminated the quail, but since the winters have been more favorable and the birds have multiplied rapidly.

"I have heard that a great many quail have been frozen," said one prominent among the sportsmen of the city, "and I guess it is right. We had hopes for a good season next fall, but if the stories we hear of dead quail are true I think the shooting in this part of the country will not amount to much. Hard winters always kill off the birds, and if there are many more like this in Ohio there will be few if any quail left."

ELWOOD PUSEY,

The Veteran Ferryman, Died at an Early Hour Today.

Elwood Pusey, aged 49 years, died at his home in Fourth street at 3:30 o'clock this morning after a lingering illness. Death was caused by typhoid pneumonia with which deceased had been suffering for almost three weeks.

Mr. Pusey was born in Wellsville, and when but a boy his parents moved to the Virginia side opposite this city. After living there several years he moved to this place where he has since resided. He had been in the ferry business about 25 years. He is survived by a wife and four children. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

TO THE VOTERS

To the Republicans of Columbiana County.

I hereby confirm what has been generally known for the past twelve months, that I will stand for the nomination of state representative at the coming county primaries.

Asking your favorable consideration, I am, in the interest of clean politics, honest government and the success of our party, faithfully yours,

ELIJAH W. HILL.

JOLTED THE METER.

Now They Have Gas For Heating at City Hall.

Frequently during the recent cold weather the supply of gas at city hall has been very low and at times the large court room and mayor's office have been too cold for occupancy. Someone, however, gave the meter a jolt yesterday and within a few moments a large amount of gas was burning in the several stoves.

LINES ARE ALL RIGHT.

Western Union Men Have Completed All Repairs.

Linemen of the Western Union company have repaired all the wires that were rendered useless as a result of the recent cold weather. The through lines are now in the best condition, as is also the stock wires which run through this city to Steubenville and Marietta.

"SQUIRREL INN NO. 1."

Bishop Potter's First Saloon
Without Liquors.

A NEW YORK CLUB FOR POOR MEN.

Noted Divine's Temperance Ideas
Will Be Carried Out in the New Inn.
All Attractions of the Saloon Will
Be Offered Excepting Intoxicants.
Plans of the Inn.

Sandwiched between the Equitable hotel and ex-Alderman Patrick Farley's saloon just above Grand street on the Bowery, in New York, the Church Temperance society will open the first of the "twentieth century saloons."

These are the saloons which are favored by Bishop Potter as the proper successors of the present "poor man's clubs." They will offer all the attractions and more than the ordinary saloon, but intoxicating drinks will have no place there. The $15,000 needed for the experiment has been subscribed. The six story building at 131 Bowery will be fitted up as speedily as possible as Squirrel Inn No. 1. Bishop Potter hopes that in ten years there will be in New York a "Squirrel Inn No. 100, and that they will solve the great social problem of providing for those who like to patronize the saloon something they will like better." It was to further the interests of this undertaking that Bishop Potter recently made an address at the Waldorf-Astoria. His remarks were construed by many as a defense of the saloon. Bishop Potter believes the saloon exists because it meets a want, but he also believes that it meets it in a way destructive of home and all that the name stands for.

His idea of a "twentieth century saloon" is that it should be a bright, cheery place, accessible as the saloon,
where a man may get a clean, well cooked meal at a cheap rate, some form of entertainment, and where he can

BISHOP POTTER.

read his newspaper, smoke his pipe and talk with his fellows, with a freedom tempered by good behavior—a place that will only differ from the saloon in that it sells no intoxicating liquor.

Squirrel Inn No. 1 is the crowning result of the labor of Bishop Potter, Mr. Graham and their associates of the Church Temperance society. It is their idea that the saloon can be beaten only by something bright as itself and at the same time more beneficial to the workingmen. The Squirrel inn promises to be both.

It has been told how Mrs. W. H.
Bradford, a wealthy woman of Lenox, Mass., decided to evict a saloon from 131 Bowery, a building she owned, and turn it over to the Church Temperance society. She agreed to donate three years' rent of $3,500 a year and also pledged the taxes for that period. The conditions attached to her generous offer were that the society raise, as a gift, $10,000 for remodeling and furnishing the inn and $5,000 for working capital. This sum it became necessary to have in bank by Jan. 31. Mr. George S. Bowdoin gave $1,000 to the new inn, and Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt gave another thousand. Mr. W. E. Dodge gave $500. Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan gave $500, and then, in sums ranging from $5 to $500, the whole amount was made up.

The ground floor is to be occupied by a restaurant, and there will be no temperance labels in view. Mr. Graham's idea is to attract people by a first class bill of fare, to catch the ebb and flow of the Bowery, good, bad and indifferent. Prices of meals will be only sufficient to warrant the purchase of good food. The inn is not only for laboring men, but for clerks and young men and women of the neighborhood and all passersby. Women are not to be barred.
It is hoped that the inn will draw away from the saloons which flank it on either side.

On the second floor will be a fine hall where entertainments will be given.
The plan and scope of these entertainments have not yet been fully decided upon. A moderate price of admission is to be charged. Concerts and lectures will probably take turns with a mild form of theatrical entertainment. In the upper portion, for the present, will be dormitories, where 100 men can be accommodated at a reasonable rate.

In the city of Liverpool there are 63 establishments of this sort, not only self supporting, but paying a good return on the investment. There are 30 in the city of Manchester.—New York Journal.

Peacock Plume Trimming.

On more than one of the newest French hats peacock feathers are being used by way of trimming, and there is so much beauty in the brilliant blue and green of the peacock plumage that one cannot wonder at the enthusiasm with which the new mode is being taken up by those strong minded women who rise superior to small superstitions.
writes a woman from Paris.

CUTTING OUT THE ICE

Coal Men Endeavoring to Save Property.

NO TIME IS BEING LOST

While Some Believe That There Is Little Cause For Danger, Others Fear the Worst, and Are Preparing to Meet It
When It Comes.

The coal dealers who do business along the river front yesterday afternoon commenced the work of breaking the shore ice and getting their floats and barges in readiness for the rise and breakup that will surely come. The dealers anticipate some loss, but will do all they can to save as much of their property as possible before the flood comes.

At the float of the Enterprise company a force of men were working all of yesterday sawing the ice and pushing it under the gorge into the current. In this way clear water was secured, and this morning the work was resumed.
Wherever the river has been cleared it will be kept so until the rise reaches this port. Lines have been tied to the shore, and at the first indication they will be fastened to the barges, and in this manner they will be pulled to the shore.

The East Liverpool Coal company began work on the ice late yesterday afternoon. Much was disposed of, and should a flood come the property of the firm will be in good shape.

The Jutte company commenced to clear the river south of the breakers today. They will pull the float in this space, which is the safest ice bottom about this section.

The string of barges lying opposite Walker are in bad shape, and from present indications it is probable they will all be lost.

While some of the men view the matter with composure others look for the worst, and one of the latter stated to a reporter yesterday that before the expected flood ended he counted upon losing between $200 and $300. One man stated the ice was lasting too long to pass off gradually. A sudden rise in the temperature and with a warm rain would bring down probably a great avalanche of heavy ice that could only mean disaster and destruction of property. Not only will the coal men suffer but also the residents of shantyboats and probably the railroad should the river reach the height it did March 24 of last year.

DEFENDERS' DAY

Was Observed Last Evening by the Sons of Veterans, a Good Program Being Rendered

The Sons of Veterans last evening commemorated the birth of Lincoln in a fitting manner.

After the usual routine business had been transacted the committee having in charge the exercises assumed charge of the hall and W. R. Dawson acted as chairman of the meeting.

The opening address was delivered by J. J. Rose and he gave a very interesting talk upon the life of Lincoln.
The quartet rendered a very pleasing selection and Captain Criss McConnell spoke from the subject,
"Our Defenders." His address was very interesting and instructive. He was followed by Colonel Frederick W.
Myers, of Parkersburg, in a very pleasing address upon Lincoln. The quartet sang another selection, and the address of the evening were closed by James A.
Calhoun, who spoke on the object and aims of the order.

The guests then sat down to the most elaborate banquet ever served by the order, and spent several enjoyable hours, and at the close it was declared the most successful and best attended affair ever given by the order.

A large hole was burned through the floor and the damage will amount to about $10, which is covered by insur-

MUTE TRAVELING MAN.

Though Deaf and Dumb, Wisconsin
Chair Salesman Is Very Successful.

A. G. Kent of Grand Rapids, Mich., is a traveling salesman for a Wisconsin chair factory, and as such there is not another in the country like him.
He is young, handsome, bright. His peculiarity lies in the fact that he is a deaf mute. On his card is the inscription, "The Company That Needs No Talking," and he lets the photographs which he carries with him do the talking for him.

Kent is 28 years old, and that the world is silent to him is due to an infantile disease that destroyed the hearing. He was educated at the state school for the deaf, and when he came out to find a place for himself in the world he at first worked for his father in making and selling furniture. Then he secured a position as traveling salesman for the Wisconsin concern and has been highly successful in the business.

When he enters the store of a customer he lays down his card, and as he has already become well known to the trade it is no longer necessary for him to explain his application. He produces his photographs with the cost mark on each, and the dickering which ensues is done on a scratch bank or by signs. In stead of being a handicap, Kent's afflic-tion really is a help to him in his business.—Chicago Record.

To Sanabag a Draft.

Sand bags furnish the most effectual and easily applied remedy against drafts from windows and under doors. There is no special art in making them. Rags made like umbrella covers, as long as the doors or windows are wide, of canvas or cloth of any kind, are filled with sand. The larger they are the better, though there is no necessity of making them very large. An inch or two inches in diameter is about the proper size for windows, though they can be made larger for doors. An extra size will prove more effectual for outside doors.
The bag should not be more than two-thirds filled with sand, for the liner it is the more readily it will conform to the purposes for which it is used.—
Washington Star.

Flounces.

Circular flounces are pretty enough
if they are made of the proper material, and indeed it is difficult to say what the proper material is, as in almost every case the flounce sags in spots, drags all out of symmetry and forms points that dip most ungracefully upon the ground whenever the wearer steps.
The fashion is likely to be short lived.

At the float of the Enterprise company a force of men were working all of yesterday sawing the ice and pushing it under the gorge into the current. In this way clear water was secured, and this morning the work was resumed. Wherever the river has been cleared it will be kept so until the rise reaches this port. Lines have been tied to the shore, and at the first indication they will be fastened to the barges, and in this manner they will be pulled to the shore.

The East Liverpool Coal company began work on the ice late yesterday afternoon. Much was disposed of, and should a flood come the property of the firm will be in good shape.

The Jutte company commenced to clear the river south of the breakers today. They will pull the float in this space, which is the safest ice bottom about this section.

The string of barges lying opposite Walker are in bad shape, and from present indications it is probable they will all be lost.

While some of the men view the matter with composure others look for the worst, and one of the latter stated to a reporter yesterday that before the expected flood ended he counted upon losing between $200 and $300. One man stated the ice was lasting too long to pass off gradually. A sudden rise in the temperature and with a warm rain would bring down probably a great avalanche of heavy ice that could only mean disaster and destruction of property. Not only will the coal men suffer but also the residents of shantytowns and probably the railroad should the river reach the height it did March 24 of last year.

DEFENDERS' DAY

Was Observed Last Evening by the Sons of Veterans, a Good Program Being Rendered

The Sons of Veterans last evening commemorated the birth of Lincoln in a fitting manner.

After the usual routine business had been transacted the committee having in charge the exercises assumed charge of the hall and W. R. Dawson acted as chairman of the meeting.

The opening address was delivered by J. J. Rose and he gave a very interesting talk upon the life of Lincoln. The quartet rendered a very pleasing selection and Captain Criss McConnell spoke from the subject, "Our Defenders." His address was very interesting and instructive. He was followed by Colonel Frederick W. Myers, of Parkersburg, in a very pleasing address upon Lincoln. The quartet sang another selection, and the addresses of the evening were closed by James A. Calhoun, who spoke on the object and aims of the order.

The guests then sat down to the most elaborate banquet ever served by the order, and spent several enjoyable hours, and at the close it was declared the most successful and best attended affair ever given by the order.

A HOT STOVE

Caused Fire in a Broadway Saloon This Morning.

Fire was discovered this morning in a small room in the rear of a saloon owned by Michael O'Malley in Broadway. The department was called and when an investigation was made it was found the flames were caused by an overheated stove. The fire was extinguished by the use of small Babcocks.

A large hole was burned through the floor and the damage will amount to about $10, which is covered by insurance.

MUTE TRAVELING MAN.

Though Deaf and Dumb, Wisconsin Chair Salesman Is Very Successful.

A. G. Kent of Grand Rapids, Mich., is a traveling salesman for a Wisconsin chair factory, and as such there is not another in the country like him. He is young, handsome, bright. His peculiarity lies in the fact that he is a deaf mute. On his card is the inscription, "The Company That Needs No Talking," and he lets the photographs which he carries with him do the talking for him.

Kent is 28 years old, and that the world is silent to him is due to an infantile disease that destroyed the hearing. He was educated at the state school for the deaf, and when he came out to find a place for himself in the world he at first worked for his father in making and selling furniture. Then he secured a position as traveling salesman for the Wisconsin concern and has been highly successful in the business.

When he enters the store of a customer he lays down his card, and as he has already become well known to the trade it is no longer necessary for him to explain his application. He produces his photographs with the cost mark on each, and the dickering which ensues is done on a scratch bank or by signs. In stead of being a handicap, Kent's affliction really is a help to him in his business.—Chicago Record.

To Sandbag a Draft.

Sand bags furnish the most effectual and easily applied remedy against drafts from windows and under doors. There is no special art in making them. Rags made like umbrella covers, as long as the doors or windows are wide, of canvas or cloth of any kind, are filled with sand. The larger they are the better, though there is no necessity of making them very large. An inch or two inches in diameter is about the proper size for windows, though they can be made larger for doors. An extra size will prove more effectual for outside doors. The bag should not be more than two-thirds filled with sand, for the liner it is the more readily it will conform to the purposes for which it is used.—Washington Star.

Flouncies.

Circular flouncies are pretty enough if they are made of the proper material, and indeed it is difficult to say what the proper material is, as in almost every case the flounce sags in spots, drags all out of symmetry and forms points that dip most ungracefully upon the ground whenever the wearer steps. The fashion is likely to be short lived.

Bishop Potter's First Saloon
Without Liquors.

A NEW YORK CLUB FOR POOR MEN.

Noted Divine's Temperance Ideas
Will Be Carried Out In the New Inn.
All Attractions of the Saloon Will
Be Offered Excepting Intoxicants.
Plans of the Inn.

Sandwiched between the Equitable hotel and ex-Alderman Patrick Farley's saloon just above Grand street on the Bowery, in New York, the Church Temperance society will open the first of the "twentieth century saloons."

These are the saloons which are favored by Bishop Potter as the proper successors of the present "poor man's clubs." They will offer all the attractions and more than the ordinary saloon, but intoxicating drinks will have no place there. The $15,000 needed for the experiment has been subscribed. The six story building at 131 Bowery will be fitted up as speedily as possible as Squirrel Inn No. 1. Bishop Potter hopes that in ten years there will be in New York a "Squirrel Inn No. 100, and that they will solve the great social problem of providing for those who like to patronize the saloon something they will like better." It was to further the interests of this undertaking that Bishop Potter recently made an address at the Waldorf-Astoria. His remarks were construed by many as a defense of the saloon. Bishop Potter believes the saloon exists because it meets a want, but he also believes that it meets it in a way destructive of home and all that the name stands for.

His idea of a "twentieth century saloon" is that it should be a bright, cheery place, accessible as the saloon, where a man may get a clean, well cooked meal at a cheap rate, some form of entertainment, and where he can read his newspaper, smoke his pipe and talk with his fellows, with a freedom tempered by good behavior—a place that will only differ from the saloon in that it sells no intoxicating liquor.

Squirrel Inn No. 1 is the crowning result of the labor of Bishop Potter, Mr. Graham and their associates of the Church Temperance society. It is their idea that the saloon can be beaten only by something bright as itself and at the same time more beneficial to the workmen. The Squirrel inn promises to be both.

It has been told how Mrs. W. H. Bradford, a wealthy woman of Lenox, Mass., decided to evict a saloon from 131 Bowery, a building she owned, and turn it over to the Church Temperance society. She agreed to donate three years' rent of $3,500 a year and also pledged the taxes for that period. The conditions attached to her generous offer were that the society raise, as a gift, $10,000 for remodeling and furnishing the inn and $5,000 for working capital. This sum it became necessary to have in bank by Jan. 31. Mr. George S. Bowdoin gave $1,000 to the new inn, and Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt gave another thousand. Mr. W. E. Dodge gave $500, Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan gave $500, and then, in sums ranging from $5 to $500, the whole amount was made up.

The ground floor is to be occupied by a restaurant, and there will be no temperance labels in view. Mr. Graham's idea is to attract people by a first class bill of fare, to catch the ebb and flow of the Bowery, good, bad and indifferent. Prices of meals will be only sufficient to warrant the purchase of good food. The inn is not only for laboring men, but for clerks and young men and women of the neighborhood and all passersby. Women are not to be barred. It is hoped that the inn will draw away from the saloons which flank it on either side.

On the second floor will be a fine hall where entertainments will be given. The plan and scope of these entertainments have not yet been fully decided upon. A moderate price of admission is to be charged. Concerts and lectures will probably take turns with a mild form of theatrical entertainment. In the upper portion, for the present, will be dormitories, where 100 men can be accommodated at a reasonable rate.

In the city of Liverpool there are 63 establishments of this sort, not only self supporting, but paying a good re-

WOMAN AND FASHION.

Electric Blue Cloth Toilet—Peacock Plume Trimming—An Attractive Afternoon Hat.

Electric blue cloth is the material selected for creating the smart toilet shown in the sketch. The skirt is cut in the one piece circular shape, fitting perfectly, and trimmed at the knees with seven superposed scalloped bands of the cloth.

The bodice opens at the neck in two large revers with wavy edges, which

It fastens a little to the left of the middle of the front, from the bust to the waist, with two large crystal buttons and is surrounded with five rows of the scalloped cloth bands. The narrow belt is of dark blue velvet. The sleeves are made in the tailor fashion and trimmed with fancifully shaped cuffs of white satin, enriched with rows of stitching.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Peacock Plume Trimming.

On more than one of the newest French hats peacock feathers are being used by way of trimming, and there is so much beauty in the brilliant blue and green of the peacock plumage that one cannot wonder at the enthusiasm with which the new mode is being taken up by those strong minded women who rise superior to small superstitions. writes a woman from Paris.

A wide brimmed hat of white felt has a peacock's tail feather, with its Argus eyes, curving round the crown and a second feather of a similar description resting upon the hair on the opposite side under the brim. Just where the hat is turned up at the side there are big double bows of mirror velvet, some blue and some green, repeating the coloring of the feathers.

CUTTING OUT THE ICE

Coal Men Endeavoring to Save Property.

While Some Believe That There Is Little Cause For Danger, Others Fear the Worst, and Are Preparing to Meet It When It Comes.

The coal dealers who do business along the river front yesterday afternoon commenced the work of breaking the shore ice and getting their floats and barges in readiness for the rise and breakup that will surely come. The dealers anticipate some loss, but will do all they can to save as much of their property as possible before the flood comes.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, FEB. 15

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above
 Union Labels at the head of their columns

SPAIN bought Aguinaldo, but Uncle Sam is too strong these days to think of spending money on a beardless youth who needs nothing more than the right kind of a spanking.

NO ONE will object to the title of admiral being conferred on George Dewey.
 He has done his duty like a man, and best of all has made no claim that could not be sustained. Scandal has left Dewey religiously alone.

THERE is but one report from the far east. American officers and men are fighting with that valor which reflects with great credit upon the nation they represent. If there are individual cases of men slinking from the foe, they have not yet been made public, and the average American has faith enough in the army to believe they are few and far between.

THE effort being made in behalf of the hospital deserves the co-operation of every person in East Liverpool, and the presentation of the "Chimes of Normandy" should be patronized by all desiring of helping the good cause along.
 There are men waiting for an opportunity to place money in the hands of the committee when it is known the project is well started. This is an excellent opportunity to give it that needed start.

FOR COUNCIL.

The great mass of wise, conservative and thoughtful Republicans of East Liverpool, men who are looking to the best interests of their party, and to the welfare of this growing city, will see to it that good and true men are placed in nomination for council at the coming primaries. The demand of the hour is for men of honor and intelligence; men who will look after the business of the city as they would that of a private venture on their part.

A GOOD GOVERNOR.

General Roosevelt has not long been governor of New York, but he is already making a record which other officials would do well to follow. Particularly is he earnest in his desire to compel the enforcement of the law, and he has repeatedly refused to interfere after sentence has been passed by a court. So far has he carried this principle into practice that the friends of a woman condemned to death appealed to him in vain. If the governors of a number of states could see these things as the dashing rough rider views them, there would not be so many criminals walking the streets of the towns and cities of this country, while the courts would serve as some protection to society.

GENERAL MILES AND BEEF.

Much as the political friends of General Miles would have it appear that he is being subjected to persecution, it must not be understood that the last commission, appointed to investigate army beef, is a move against the major general commanding. The government wants information. President McKinley, like the public, wants to know what is in all this talk of the past five months. If it is shown that General Miles has spoken the truth he has nothing whatever to fear, but if he, in his anger, has seen fit to cite a few particular cases and not dealt with the matter honestly, there may be another chapter or two added to the story before it is ended. But at this time it cannot be said that he is being persecuted.

THE OTHER SIDE

Of the Story Concerning the Mother Who It Was Alleged Deserted Her Child.

A few days ago a case of where a mother deserted her child was reported to the Humane society and investigated, and the father agreed to pay the board of the little one in the Fairmount children's home.

It now transpires that the mother of the child has been more sinned against than sinning, and has done everything in her power to care for the child and did not desert it at any time.

Several persons visited the house, and from a reliable source it is learned that the woman had been subjected to much abuse from her husband, and even while the gentlemen were in the house he threw her down in a back room and choked her.

The party found that the little four-months-old child was being well cared for and did not believe the case had been properly reported.

Later developments are that the husband and wife have settled the matter, and the child will remain with them.

TRUSTEE LLOYD'S COAT

Was In Danger For a Short Time, but Was Saved.

Yesterday afternoon a man walked into the office of the trustees, and seeing the overcoat of Trustee Lloyd lying in the back room part of the office said it looked like a good coat, and taking off his old coat put on the coat of the trustee and started for the door.

Trustee Albright was in the office at the time, and when the man had about reached the door it was discovered the coat belonged to Mr. Lloyd, and the man did not get a new coat.

ANTI-SALOON DAY

Will Be Observed in City Churches Next Sunday.

Superintendent Rev. P. A. Baker, of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league, Prof. T.
 W. Karr, field secretary, and W. B.
 Wheeler of the Cleveland district, will be in the city next Sunday and occupy the pulpits of some of the churches.
 The arrangements for the meetings have not been made, and it is not known yet what pulpits the gentlemen will occupy.

Filed a Number of Deeds.

LISBON, Feb. 12.—[Special]—M. C.
 Beachy, of Rochester, N. Y., has filed a petition for foreclosure on two tracts of land in West township, given to secure the payment of a note for $400, and executed by Annie M. and James H. Kennedy.

The Fairfield Coal company left 19 deeds for record yesterday, which they had taken since 1894. The aggregate amount paid was $15,080.

On the River.

The approach of warm weather is creating much anxiety among rivermen.
 Every effort will be made to protect interests about this city. The ice at this place will cause no trouble to the rivermen here, but they are fearing the ice which will come down from above.

 ters six feet and stationary.

Ensign Young Has Gone.

Ensign Young and wife, who have had charge of the Salvation Army in this city for the past 17 months, left this morning for Cleveland, where they will report to the divisional headquarters.

Mr. Young was unable to say when he would be assigned or who would come to this place.

SALEM MAN UNDER HEAVY BOND

He Is Charged With Keeping a Gambling Device—William Oliver, of Lisbon, Got a Salty Dose For Breaking the Liquor Laws and His Promise.

LISBON, Feb. 15.—[Special]—Judge
 Smith continues to dispose of criminal cases, and a number of saloonists have received sentences.

A. Bernstein, of East Liverpool, was charged with selling liquor to men in the habit of becoming intoxicated. He was fined $35 on each of two counts.

Albert Rutter, a Salem man, gave bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance. He is charged with keeping a gambling device.

William Oliver, of Lisbon, came in for a salty dose. Not long ago he was before the court charged with breaking the liquor laws. He promised at that time to quit the business, but forgot about it as soon as he left the court house. The last grand jury indicted him for again breaking the law, and when arraigned before Judge Smith he was fined $100 and costs.

Jacob Adolph & Co., took judgment on a cognovit note against O. M.
 Hendricks, of Salem, for $301.92.
 Hendricks was indicted for permitting gambling and selling liquor illegally.

FOGO ON TRIAL.

Judge Smith Overruled the Demurrer to the Indictment.

LISBON, Feb. 15.—[Special]—Judge
 Smith overruled the demurrer to the indictment against A. C. Fogo, and the trial began this morning.

Mr. Devore and Superintendent Davidson, of the Wellsville water works, were the first witnesses called for the purpose of showing what the rules of the department are. The printed rules were offered in evidence.
 Mr. Davidson said that Fogo had told him that he (Fogo) had written the rules. The minutes of the meeting at which Fogo was appointed superintendent were read. Davidson took charge of the waterworks last June, and found books and papers but no money. The cash book was presented in court, and the amount of receipts recorded from March 14, 1898, the yearly settlement day, to June 16, the time Fogo left, were read. Official receipts aggregating $766 97 were also offered. They are dated before March 14, 1898, while comparison with the stubs showed the stubs to be dated after that date. Unofficial receipts, admitted by the defense to have been given and signed by Fogo, were offered. No record of these is found on the books of the water department.

Davidson was unable to say how much more Fogo had received, as indicated by his receipts, than had been turned over to the treasurer.

Accountant John Sant examined Fogo's books, and after going over all books and papers found there should be a cash balance of $1,018.60, but he only found with the treasurer a balance of $181.26, showing a shortage of $837.44.

T. R. Andrews, treasurer of Wells-ville, said he received money from the water works, and the last payment made by Fogo was March 18, the amount being $1,698.88. Fogo was given a receipt.

Mayor Dennis said Fogo was arrested on an affidavit made out by him. He plead not guilty, saying the amount was not as much as given in the affidavit, not being over $500, and he intended to pay it back.

William Byers said Fogo told him he had stolen enough off the water works to live two years. Byers claimed D. E.
 Brockett and Frank Geisse heard him say it.

Miss Edith McCord said Fogo told her he thought he would be able to settle with the trustees.

Councilman Goetz said Fogo asked him to wait until June before looking over the books, as his year would then be up and he would be able to make a better report.

D. E. Brockett corroborated the testimony of Byers. On cross examination he said he thought Fogo's remarks flip-pant.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, FEB. 15

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns

SPAIN bought Aguinaldo, but Uncle Sam is too strong these days to think of spending money on a beardless youth who needs nothing more than the right kind of a spanking.

NO ONE will object to the title of admiral being conferred on George Dewey. He has done his duty like a man, and best of all has made no claim that could not be sustained. Scandal has left Dewey religiously alone.

THERE is but one report from the far east. American officers and men are fighting with that valor which reflects with great credit upon the nation they represent. If there are individual cases of men slinking from the foe, they have not yet been made public, and the average American has faith enough in the army to believe they are few and far between.

THE effort being made in behalf of the hospital deserves the co-operation of every person in East Liverpool, and the presentation of the "Chimes of Normandy" should be patronized by all desirous of helping the good cause along. There are men waiting for an opportunity to place money in the hands of the committee when it is known the project is well started. This is an excellent opportunity to give it that needed start.

FOR COUNCIL

The great mass of wise, conservative and thoughtful Republicans of East Liverpool, men who are looking to the best interests of their party, and to the welfare of this growing city, will see to it that good and true men are placed in nomination for council at the coming primaries. The demand of the hour is for men of honor and intelligence; men who will look after the business of the city as they would that of a private venture on their part.

A GOOD GOVERNOR.

General Roosevelt has not long been governor of New York, but he is already making a record which other officials would do well to follow. Particularly is he earnest in his desire to compel the enforcement of the law, and he has repeatedly refused to interfere after sentence has been passed by a court. So far as he has carried this principle into practice that the friends of a woman condemned to death appealed to him in vain. If the governors of a number of states could see these things as the dashing rough rider views them, there would not be so many criminals walking the streets of the towns and cities of this country, while the courts would serve as some protection to society.

GENERAL MILES AND BEEF.

Much as the political friends of General Miles would have it appear that he is being subjected to persecution, it must not be understood that the last commission, appointed to investigate army beef, is a move against the major general commanding. The government wants information. President McKinley, like the public, wants to know what is in all this talk of the past five months. If it is shown that General Miles has spoken the truth he has nothing whatever to fear, but if he, in his anger, has seen fit to cite a few particular cases and not dealt with the matter honestly, there may be another chapter or two added to the story before it is ended. But at this time it cannot be said that he is being persecuted.

THE OTHER SIDE

Of the Story Concerning the Mother Who It Was Alleged Deserted Her Child.

A few days ago a case of where a mother deserted her child was reported to the Humane society and investigated, and the father agreed to pay the board of the little one in the Fairmount children's home.

It now transpires that the mother of the child has been more sinned against than sinning, and has done everything in her power to care for the child and did not desert it at any time.

Several persons visited the house, and from a reliable source it is learned that the woman had been subjected to much abuse from her husband, and even while the gentlemen were in the house he threw her down in a back room and choked her.

The party found that the little four-months-old child was being well cared for and did not believe the case had been properly reported.

Later developments are that the husband and wife have settled the matter, and the child will remain with them.

TRUSTEE LLOYD'S COAT

Was In Danger For a Short Time, but Was Saved.

Yesterday afternoon a man walked into the office of the trustees, and seeing the overcoat of Trustee Lloyd lying in the back room part of the office said it looked like a good coat, and taking off his old coat put on the coat of the trustee and started for the door.

Trustee Albright was in the office at the time, and when the man had about reached the door it was discovered the coat belonged to Mr. Lloyd, and the man did not get a new coat.

ANTI-SALOON DAY

Will Be Observed In City Churches Next Sunday.

Superintendent Rev. P. A. Baker, of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league, Prof. T. W. Karr, field secretary, and W. B. Wheeler of the Cleveland district, will be in the city next Sunday and occupy the pulpits of some of the churches. The arrangements for the meetings have not been made, and it is not known yet what pulpits the gentlemen will occupy.

Filed a Number of Deeds.

LISBON, Feb. 12.—[Special]—M. C. Beachy, of Rochester, N. Y., has filed a petition for foreclosure on two tracts of land in West township, given to secure the payment of a note for $400, and executed by Annie M. and James H. Kennedy.

The Fairfield Coal company left 19 deeds for record yesterday, which they had taken since 1894. The aggregate amount paid was $15,080.

On the River.

The approach of warm weather is creating much anxiety among rivermen. Every effort will be made to protect interests about this city. The ice at this place will cause no trouble to the rivermen here, but they are fearing the ice which will come down from above.

The stage of water at this port registers six feet and stationary.

Ensign Young Has Gone.

Ensign Young and wife, who have had charge of the Salvation Army in this city for the past 17 months, left this morning for Cleveland, where they will report to the divisional headquarters.

Mr. Young was unable to say when he would be assigned or who would come to this place.

SALEM MAN UNDER HEAVY BOND

He Is Charged With Keeping a Gambling Device—William Oliver, of Lisbon, Got a Salty Dose For Breaking the Liquor Laws and His Promise.

LISBON, Feb. 15.—[Special]—Judge Smith continues to dispose of criminal cases, and a number of saloonists have received sentences.

A. Bernstein, of East Liverpool, was charged with selling liquor to men in the habit of becoming intoxicated. He was fined $35 on each of two counts.

Albert Rutter, a Salem man, gave bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance. He is charged with keeping a gambling device.

William Oliver, of Lisbon, came in for a salty dose. Not long ago he was before the court charged with breaking the liquor laws. He promised at that time to quit the business, but forgot about it as soon as he left the court house. The last grand jury indicted him for again breaking the law, and when arraigned before Judge Smith he was fined $100 and costs.

Jacob Adolph & Co., took judgment on a cognovit note against O. M. Hendricks, of Salem, for $301.92. Hendricks was indicted for permitting gambling and selling liquor illegally.

FOGO ON TRIAL.

Judge Smith Overruled the Demurrer to the Indictment.

LISBON, Feb. 15.—[Special]—Judge Smith overruled the demurrer to the indictment against A. C. Fogo, and the trial began this morning.

Mr. Devore and Superintendent Davidson, of the Wellsville water works, were the first witnesses called for the purpose of showing what the rules of the department are. The printed rules were offered in evidence. Mr. Davidson said that Fogo had told him that he (Fogo) had written the rules. The minutes of the meeting at which Fogo was appointed superintendent were read. Davidson took charge of the waterworks last June, and found books and papers but no money. The cash book was presented in court, and the amount of receipts recorded from March 14, 1898, the yearly settlement day, to June 16, the time Fogo left, were read. Official receipts aggregating $766 97 were also offered. They are dated before March 14, 1898, while comparison with the stubs showed the stubs to be dated after that date. Unofficial receipts, admitted by the defense to have been given and signed by Fogo, were offered. No record of these is found on the books of the water department.

Davidson was unable to say how much more Fogo had received, as indicated by his receipts, than had been turned over to the treasurer.

A VERY BUSY SESSION

Council Talked of a Great Many Matters.

REVISING THE SALOON LAW

At Present the Ordinance Allows Screens to Remain Down All of Sunday—Complaints on Street Assessments Were Heard—Other Business.

Council met last evening at 8:10 o'clock, with all members present, except Messrs. Cain and Marshall.

The session was called to order by Vice President Stewart, and after the minutes had been read and approved, a petition was introduced from the residents of East Market street, near the Horn switch, asking that council rise the curb on the south side of the street, as they intended to build this year. The petition stated how many times the residents had been flooded out, and said if something was not done they would be compelled to place claims for damages. The petition was received and filed.

A petition was received from the Elks, stating that this was the centennial year of the city, and they wished to celebrate it and hold a street carnival the week of July 3. A resolution was passed granting them privilege to use Broadway, from Fourth to Sixth street, Fifth street, from Washington to Broadway, and Kossuth street, from Broadway to Walnut street, for the week of July 3, and one week previous to that time.

Resolutions were introduced to improve Trentvale street from Sheridan avenue to the north line of the corporation and Grant street from Lincoln avenue to Calcutta road, but no action was taken.

Ordinances were introduced to improve Grant street, Spring street and Basil avenue to Lincoln avenue; Woodlawn avenue, from Basil avenue to Grant street, and West Market street from Grant street to Waterloo road. Vice President Stewart said the ordinances should pass, but no motion was made and they went over to their second reading.

An ordinance to amend section 17 of the revised ordinances was read. The section as it now reads provides that all saloons shall be free from screens between the hours of 10 p. m. and 6 a. m., standard time. This permits the saloonkeepers to have screens at their windows all day Sunday. The amendment seeks to remedy the defect, and says that the saloons shall not have screens at the windows at any time on Sunday. The ordinance was permitted to pass its first reading without comment.

The pay ordinance was taken up, and Clerk Hanley called attention to the bill of $650 or fees of witnesses in the W. E. Morrow case. Mr. Chellis explained why claims committee had laid the bill over, and upon motion of Mr. Olmhausen the bill was referred to the solicitor.

J. M. Smith presented a bill of $5 for damage to a wheel on his wagon at the power house switch. The bill was referred to the street railway company.

H. S. Rinehart had a bill of $22.50 for gravel used in a ditch in Jethro street. Mr. Peach explained the controversy between the Ohio Valley Gas company and Contractor Rinehart in regard to the matter, and the bill went to the city engineer. The pay ordinance was then passed.

Commissioner Bryan reported doing general work during the month, while the fire department answered seven fire, 15 patrol and three ambulance calls and conveyed 12 prisoners to the lockup. Mayor Bough had a very poor month, and only collected $63 in fines and licenses. The reports were filed.

Mr. Peach called attention to the fact that during the floods of last spring the property of Thomas Lounds, of Fourth street, had been damaged, and council had relieved all the other property owners, and had done nothing for him. The matter was finally left in the hands of Messrs. Peach, Olmhausen and Ashbaugh, with power to act.

Upon motion of Mr. Chellis a committee composed of Messrs. Chellis, Seckerson and Stewart will investigate the rising of the East Market street curbs and report to council.

Clerk Hanley reported that in making the assessment for improving Jethro, Lisbon, Avondale and Oak streets the assessment overrun the 25 per cent that could be collected by law, and he wanted to know if council would authorize him to accept the 25 per cent. He said some persons who were ignorant of the law might pay the full assessment, but it was not just to take it.

Mr. Peach said he thought the best plan would be to collect what was allowed according to law and it would be unjust to collect more than that amount from people who were ignorant of the law, and if they had paid it the amount should be refunded.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Clerk Hanley stated that, while some of the property would not stand the assessment, some of it would pay double the amount it had been assessed.

Vice President Stewart said this was a knotty problem, and wanted to know if the deficiency should be made up from the property that would more than stand the assessment.

Mr. Peach said he certainly thought a man with a $30 piece of property should not pay as much as a man with a well improved piece.

Mr. Ashbaugh stated that he knew of one man who owned a $50 piece of property on the street, and his assessment was $110. The same man also had a $450 piece, and the assessment on it was also $110.

Attorney W. H. Vodrey was present and stated that he represented Mr. McGeever, and his assessment was $463.75, while his property was valued at but $590, making an assessment of 75 per cent, when they could collect but 25 per cent. He asked that a correction be made in the case of his client.

In the absence of the solicitor Attorney Vodrey was asked for advice on the subject and stated that council could collect but 25 per cent.

A suggestion was made that some of the property would stand more than the 25 per cent and it would make up the deficiency. Clerk Hanley stated that this would be hardly fair, as some people had improved their property while others with just as good lots had not improved them, and it was not fair that the persons who improved their property should pay more than the ones who had not. He said that before the next assessment was made a change would be wise, as the law permitted council to plat ground and place a valuation on it.

A motion was carried to collect but 25 per cent of the tax valuation, and Mr. Stewart remarked that it would be wise for council to consider matters of this kind before they again started to improve country roads.

Mr. Stewart remarked that the action would cause a deficiency and Clerk Hanley said it would come out of the general tax levy. Mr. Stewart said that meant to pay it out of an already overdrawn general fund. Clerk Hanley said a new assessment could be made, and the matter was referred to the solicitor. Mr. Olmhausen said: "We often run into things here which we do not understand, and I make a motion that hereafter the solicitor be present and if he is not we send for him. We have voted on things tonight that may cost the city thousands of dollars, and I am free to say that I didn't understand them, but only voted for them because Mr. Peach did."

Vice President Stewart stated that he thought both the engineer and solicitor should be present, but it was explained that Solicitor McGarry was ill, while Engineer George was detained on account of a death.

TOO HUNGRY

Was the Excuse Given by a Boy Who Did Not Go to School.

Constable Miller yesterday afternoon arrested a small boy named Harry Race on a charge of juvenile disorderly placed against him by Truant Officer Beardmore.

The boy has been residing in a shanty boat with his parents, and when brought into the court of Squire Hill stated that he did not go to school because he did not get enough to eat, and spent his time begging food. Squire Hill bound him over to the probate court for sentence to the Lancaster Industrial school. The boy seemed glad to receive the sentence, and made no comments upon it. He was given his supper and sent home to spend the night with his parents, and this morning was on hand bright and early to be taken to Lisbon by Constable Miller.

The father of the boy was also brought into the court, and stated that he had sent his boy to school, but he refused to go, and he was not able to keep him in school.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Len Hertel, a son.

A VERY BUSY SESSION

Council Talked of a Great Many Matters.

REVISING THE SALOON LAW

At Present the Ordinance Allows Screens to Remain Down All of Sunday—Complaints on Street Assessments Were Heard—Other Business.

Council met last evening at 8:10 o'clock, with all members present, except Messrs. Cain and Marshall.

The session was called to order by Vice President Stewart, and after the minutes had been read and approved, a petition was introduced from the residents of East Market street, near the Horn switch, asking that council rise the curb on the south side of the street, as they intended to build this year. The petition stated how many times the residents had been flooded out, and said if something was not done they would be compelled to place claims for damages. The petition was received and filed.

A petition was received from the Elks, stating that this was the centennial year of the city, and they wished to celebrate it and hold a street carnival the week of July 3. A resolution was passed granting them privilege to use Broadway, from Fourth to Sixth street, Fifth street, from Washington to Broadway, and Kosuth street, from Broadway to Walnut street, for the week of July 3, and one week previous to that time.

Resolutions were introduced to improve Trentvale street from Sheridan avenue to the north line of the corporation and Grant street from Lincoln avenue to Calcutta road, but no action was taken.

Ordinances were introduced to improve Grant street, Spring street and Basil avenue to Lincoln avenue; Woodlawn avenue, from Basil avenue to Grant street, and West Market street from Grant street to Waterloo road. Vice President Stewart said the ordinances should pass, but no motion was made and they went over to their second reading.

An ordinance to amend section 17 of the revised ordinances was read. The section as it now reads provides that all saloons shall be free from screens between the hours of 10 p. m. and 6 a. m., standard time. This permits the saloonkeepers to have screens at their windows all day Sunday. The amendment seeks to remedy the defect, and says that the saloons shall not have screens at the windows at any time on Sunday. The ordinance was permitted to pass its first reading without comment.

The pay ordinance was taken up, and Clerk Hanley called attention to the bill of $6 50 for fees of witnesses in the W. E. Morrow case. Mr. Challis explained why claims committee had laid the bill over, and upon motion of Mr. Olmhausen the bill was referred to the solicitor.

J. M. Smith presented a bill of $5 for damage to a wheel on his wagon at the power house switch. The bill was referred to the street railway company.

H. S. Rinehart had a bill of $22.50 for gravel used in a ditch in Jethro street. Mr. Peach explained the controversy between the Ohio Valley Gas company and Contractor Rinehart in regard to the matter, and the bill went to the city engineer. The pay ordinance was then passed.

Commissioner Bryan reported doing general work during the month, while the fire department answered seven fire, 15 patrol and three ambulance calls and conveyed 12 prisoners to the lockup. Mayor Bough had a very poor month, and only collected $63 in fines and licenses. The reports were filed.

Mr. Peach called attention to the fact that during the floods of last spring the property of Thomas Lounds, of Fourth street, had been damaged, and council had relieved all the other property owners, and had done nothing for him. The matter was finally left in the hands of Messrs. Peach, Olmhausen and Ashbaugh, with power to act.

Upon motion of Mr. Challis a committee composed of Messrs. Challis, Seckerson and Stewart will investigate the rising of the East Market street curbs and report to council.

Clerk Hanley reported that in making the assessment for improving Jethro, Lisbon, Avondale and Oak streets the assessment overrun the 25 per cent that could be collected by law, and he wanted to know if council would authorize him to accept the 25 per cent. He said some persons who were ignorant of the law might pay the full assessment, but it was not just to take it.

Mr. Peach said he thought the best plan would be to collect what was allowed according to law and it would be unjust to collect more than that amount from people who were ignorant of the law, and if they had paid it the amount should be refunded.

Clerk Hanley stated that, while some of the property would not stand the assessment, some of it would pay double the amount it had been assessed.

Vice President Stewart said this was a knotty problem, and wanted to know if the deficiency should be made up from the property that would more than stand the assessment.

Mr. Peach said he certainly thought a man with a $30 piece of property should not pay as much as a man with a well improved piece.

Mr. Ashbaugh stated that he knew of one man who owned a $50 piece of property on the street, and his assessment was $110. The same man also had a $450 piece, and the assessment on it was also $110.

Attorney W. H. Vodrey was present and stated that he represented Mr. McGeever, and his assessment was $463.75, while his property was valued at but $590, making an assessment of 75 per cent, when they could collect but 25 per cent. He asked that a correction be made in the case of his client.

In the absence of the solicitor Attorney Vodrey was asked for advice on the subject and stated that council could collect but 25 per cent.

A suggestion was made that some of the property would stand more than the 25 per cent and it would make up the deficiency. Clerk Hanley stated that this would be hardly fair, as some people had improved their property while others with just as good lots had not improved them, and it was not fair that the persons who improved their property should pay more than the ones who had not. He said that before the next assessment was made a change would be wise, as the law permitted council to plat ground and place a valuation on it.

A motion was carried to collect but 25 per cent of the tax valuation, and Mr. Stewart remarked that it would be wise for council to consider matters of this kind before they again started to improve country roads.

Mr. Stewart remarked that the action would cause a deficiency and Clerk Hanley said it would come out of the general tax levy. Mr. Stewart said that meant to pay it out of an already overdrawn general fund. Clerk Hanley said a new assessment could be made, and the matter was referred to the solicitor.

Mr. Olmhausen said: "We often run into things here which we do not understand, and I make a motion that hereafter the solicitor be present and if he is not we send for him. We have voted on things tonight that may cost the city thousands of dollars, and I am free to say that I didn't understand them, but only voted for them because Mr. Peach did."

Vice President Stewart stated that he thought both the engineer and solicitor should be present, but it was explained that Solicitor McGarry was ill, while Engineer George was detained on account of a death.

TOO HUNGRY

Was the Excuse Given by a Boy Who Did Not Go to School.

Constable Miller yesterday afternoon arrested a small boy named Harry Race on a charge of juvenile disorderly placed against him by Truant Officer Beardmore.

The boy has been residing in a shanty boat with his parents, and when brought into the court of Squire Hill stated that he did not go to school because he did not get enough to eat, and spent his time begging food. Squire Hill bound him over to the probate court for sentence to the Lancaster Industrial school. The boy seemed glad to receive the sentence, and made no comments upon it. He was given his supper and sent home to spend the night with his parents, and this morning was on hand bright and early to be taken to Lisbon by Constable Miller.

The father of the boy was also brought into the court, and stated that he had sent his boy to school, but he refused to go, and he was not able to keep him in school.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Len Hertel, a son.

TOWN WILL CELEBRATE

The Elks Arranging For a Great Big Week.

FAMOUS MIDWAY IS COMING

The Centennial of East Liverpool Is to Be Made a Memorable Occasion—Contracts Signed and Only the Details to Be Worked Out.

The city will be 100 years old this year, and East Liverpool Lodge No. 258, B. P. O. E. and Protective Order of Elks, propose to celebrate the centennial in a fitting manner, and in a way that will cause neighboring cities to realize that the people here have not forgotten that they have a city of which they are justly proud.

The plans for the celebration were thoroughly discussed, and after many suggestions had been made, and much advice received, it was decided to hold a street carnival the week beginning July 3, and to have a special display on the glorious Fourth.

The Elks at a meeting appointed an executive committee to look into the matter, and they at once realized that to make the affair a success it was necessary to secure an attraction of merit. They began to look for attractions, and after some correspondence a representative of the Exposition Circuit company came to the city and met with the executive committee, and as a result a contract was closed with the representative and the leading feature of the carnival will be the presentation of the Midway as it was presented at the World's fair.

The business men of the city will also make displays and there will be speeches and parades while a number of other attractions will be engaged, and it is expected to make the event one long to be remembered as well as to advertise the numerous advantages of the city.

It was decided at first to hold the affair at Goldenbush park, but after discussing the matter the conclusion was reached that the affair would be much more of a success if it was held in the center of the city and the use of the streets obtained. The committee started out to secure the permission of the property owners along the route desired, and found almost every person heartily in accord with the idea.

Every day there will be special programs ordered, and at no time during the week will the attraction be permitted to grow old. Arrangements are now being made with the Pennsylvania company to run special trains into the city, every morning in order that the large crowds who will undoubtedly visit the city, can be accommodated. The trains will return in the evening to carry the visitors to their homes, and a low excursion rate will be secured. It is fully expected that at least 100,000 people will visit the city during the week, as everywhere the carnival has been presented it has been an immense success.

There will be special features added daily for the benefit of the country people, and there will be many attractions that will be of interest to them, while every effort will be made to secure attractions that will appeal directly to the people of West Virginia.

With the thoughts of the Steubenville centennial celebration still fresh in their minds, the committee will make every effort to eclipse it, and are confident that they can do so. From this time forth the committee will devote their effort to making the affair the greatest in the history of the city. The chairman of the executive committee is G. L. S. Brook, and meetings of the committee are being held three and four nights every week.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

[Special Correspondence.]

There is a novel charity work being done on the west side of this town. Clothing for men, women, girls and babies is sold for whatever price the purchaser can afford to pay for it. Sometimes the clothing is sold for 1 cent, sometimes more—good clothing, too; clothing which cost the original purchaser $50 and even $75 a suit. Sounds improbable. Yet that is what is being done by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, whose fold is on West Nineteenth street. The selling of clothing at a nominal price is not by any means all that the sisterhood does, but it is a department which under wise guidance has been a great success and has been commended by many churches and societies all over this and other cities.

The clothing bureau has done much good work during the year, although there has been a great decrease in the number of packages left at its door owing to the fact that churches and societies all over the city and in the neighboring cities and towns have learned this superior way of benefiting the poor and have opened clothing bureaus in connection with their own work. The fact that the plan is so largely followed shows its practical usefulness. Many of the purchasers are washerwomen, seamstresses, housewives and scrubwomen. The men customers are usually out of employment and also, but at the knees, elbows and toes as to attire. To these are sold comfortable secondhand, partly worn clothes at whatever price they would be purchaser can afford to pay. Often it is $1 and often 1 cent.

A $30,000 Set of China.

Mrs. William Astor has recently paid a fortune for some dishes. She has given in return for a mere set of china $30,000 American dollars. There are 212 pieces in all, each of which is worth almost its weight in gold. Mrs. Astor now owns the most costly china in America. This $30,000 set of china was originally intended for royalty.

The china was made in the famous Royal Meissen factory in Dresden, and a sample was sent to Mrs. Astor when she was in Paris last March. The plate sent on approval so delighted New York's society leader that she ordered the china at once, with instructions to add the Astor crest and her own monogram.

The china is rich cream white in tint, with a slightly scalloped edge. Close to the rim, traced in glittering gold, is the famous star scattered Astor crest. Below the crest and encircling each plate is a band of gold, then a band of brilliant red, bordered by another gleaming gold line, and then, still farther down in the plate, directly under the crest, are the golden letters "O. A." (Caroline Astor), wrought into a monogram.

The care of it is a story all of itself. Not one of the 212 pieces is ever allowed to touch the other, so brittle are these wonderfully costly plates. A china closet has been built to hold them, and each dish has a niche of its own.

In Provincial New York.

The invasion of several Westchester county towns by trolley cars recently has produced some curious results, and not the least of these is the way in which a man who spends his days in New York and who sleeps in the country will stand for half an hour on a corner in a suburban town to watch a trolley car go by. They watch the car with rapt attention as it rockets by, shooting electric sparks on either side. A thousand such cars in New York would not interest them. Until recently the only car line in New Rochelle consisted of at least one car, which had, sleep better days, and a pair of horses with no particular ambition. Twice a day this collection of antiquities made the trip from the railroad station to Hudson Park. Several evenings ago two commuters, who were waiting for a trolley car, on Main street were surprised to see this old horse car standing on the tracks.

"Don't know," was the reply in disconsolate tones.

"Where are you going?"

"Don't know. I'm new on this line, and I'm looking for Rose street. I've lost my way."

Rival Truckmen.

Richard Croker is not going to have things all his own way in the motor truck business. There are rivals in the field, and the most powerful of them has big names back of it. There are Astors and Depews and Seward Webs in the new concern, which is to be known as the Storage Power company, and which will use the inventions of one Prall, who has been patenting compressed air motors ever since 1871.

"I discovered that air was merely a medium," said Prall today, "and not an actual, efficient power in itself. Our company is now constructing a motor which will run 50 miles an hour, and the entire system of compressed air and superheated water has been covered by numerous patents." Prall claims that the rival systems are failures, and criminal and retractions are in order.

No More "Kissing Gate."

Gone are the pleasures of the "Kissing Gate." The cold and heartless policemen of the Harlem district have placed a ban upon it. The boys had been having such a good time there! The "Kissing Gate" is the One Hundred and Twenty-second street entrance to Mount Morris park. Young brigands lay in wait there, and when young and attractive persons of the opposite sex entered or left by it they would be pounced upon and embraced with ardor and ferocity. Some of the girls liked it, some did not. It was the latter who made the trouble and caused the police to take a hand in the game. The other morning in court several of the kissers were fined $10 each.

JOSEPH RUSSELL.

YOUTHS' DEPARTMENT.

Led by a Little Blind Child - The Game of Cricket - A Cat's Nine Lives.

In one of Philadelphia's hospitals there is a curly haired, pink cheeked little 5-year-old boy, blind in both eyes, maimed, twisted and a cripple for life, and yet he is the joy of the hospital and the light of the wards and has been the direct cause of a dying man's conversion. The patients call him "Little Sunshine." Every morning he is led through the wards and the private rooms by one of the nurses, and the patients cuddle their pet and kiss him.

In room 10 there is a coal heater, a big, brown fellow, dying of an incurable disease, and "Sunshine's" crystal-like purity and innocence so appealed to him that the man's heart was touched. He was reminded of his early childhood days, when at his mother's knees he listened, "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep." Four days ago the dying coal heater asked to see a clergyman, and the pastor of a nearby Methodist church was sent for. The good man told of the sacrifice and sufferings of the Saviour; and in the barren room of the hospital between the day and the dark the man found peace.

"Sunshine's" chubby little fist—the uninjured one—was buried deep in the great knotted palms of the dying man.

He lay still, with the light of new found peace upon his face. "Dear God," he murmured as the great tears chased one another down his cheeks and lost themselves in the snowy linen, "dear God, 'Little Sunshine' done it; Sonny done it! The parson said as how a little kid could lead a feller, and 'Sunshine' done it."

There was a moment of silence; then "Little Sunshine" gently withdrew his hands from those of the dying man and whispered to the nurse: "Tan he see Dod? Wiss, I could." Philadelphia Press.

Game of Cricket.

To play this game one member of the company is chosen by lot and becomes the cricket. The cricket then writes upon a piece of paper the name of some kind of grain and folds it, so that no one else can see it. Then the cricket begins his search, saying something like this:

"My good friends, I am very, very hungry. You ants are known as good providers, with always plenty to eat in your houses. I will not one of you give me some kind of provisions, now that it is too cold for me to seek for food?"

Then, as the cricket stops before one of the ants, he or she says:

"I can give you a grain of wheat."

If wheat is not the name of the grain written down, the cricket must refuse in some such terms as:

"Wheat does not agree with my constitution." And then the cricket is to address himself to all the ants in turn and is to find some apt reply to the offer of all the grains until the one written down is reached, when he says:

"Thank you. That is just what I have been longing for. Now, seeing that it is better to be an ant than a cricket, I propose to become an ant, and you may be cricket in my place."

As the cricket says this all the company jump up and try to escape, and the cricket pursues until he catches one, who becomes cricket in turn.

Motor Cars in Spain.

Motor cars are beginning to make their appearance even in Spain and seem strangely out of place in the streets of her medieval towns. A great many motor tri-cycles have been seen in Madrid and now the first motor carriage has arrived in Seville and creates some stir in the narrow, ill paved streets. It belongs to a famous treader and was brought by him at great expense from Paris. Chicago News.

A Winter Song.

The whole wide world is filled with snow. Whichever way I look or go. The cold wind down the chimney comes. The little snowbirds chirp for crumbs.

Jack Frost is pinching every nose. He stings our cheeks and nips our toes. And I'm afraid he's none too good. To birds and squirrels in the wood.

O little creatures, are you cold? I pity you, though I've been told. That you are snug and warm as we in fur and feathers in a tree!

I think of you when comes the snow. And when the cold winds howl and blow. My heart would warm you if it could. O little creatures in the wood! Anne Willis McCullough in Youth's Companion.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others? The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making purchases.

Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Good only when months named in lower left hand corner are properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailors' Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BI-COLOR LABEL.

"Do unto others as you would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, with a background of deep green, bordered by gold.

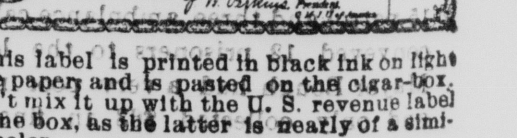

The label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the label of the Baker and Confectioners' union. It is printed on the white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions.

TOWN WILL CELEBRATE

FAMOUS MIDWAY IS COMING

The Centennial of East Liverpool Is to Be Celebrated in a Grand Way. The Elks are the ones who are working out the details of the celebration.

The city will be 100 years old this year, and East Liverpool Lodge No. 258, Elks, are the ones who are working out the details of the celebration. The plan for the celebration was thoroughly discussed and after many suggestions had been made and much advice received, it was decided to hold a street carnival the week beginning July 3, and to have a special display on the glorious Fourth.

The Elks at a meeting appointed an executive committee to look into the matter, and they at once realized that to make the affair a success it was necessary to secure an attraction of merit. They began to look for attractions, and after some correspondence a representative of the Exposition Circuit company came to the city and met with the executive committee, and as a result a contract was closed with the representative and the leading feature of the Midway as it was presented at the World's fair. The company carry seven or eight shows. The Hindoo, Arab, Turk, Japanese and Egyptians are still with them and their performances will be the same as they were at the World's fair. There are 300 people in the company, and the streets of Cairo with its oriental theaters and heathen music, donkeys and camels will be reproduced. The company is the only one of its kind in the United States, and never until this year did it ever visit a city with less than 50,000 population, and only the large guarantee given by the Elks secured it for the celebration.

The business men of the city will also make displays and there will be speeches and parades while a number of other attractions will be engaged, and it is expected to make the event one long to be remembered as well as to advertise the numerous advantages of the city.

It was decided at first to hold the celebration at the old park, but after discussing the matter the conclusion was reached that the affair would be much more of a success if it was held in the city. The committee started out to secure the permission of the property owners along the route desired, and found almost every person heartily in accord with the idea. As a result, the celebration will be held in Broadway, from Tenth street to Sixth street, Broadway, from Washington street to Broadway, from Kossuth street from Broadway to Walnut street. This was not enough room for the carnival, and the committee succeeded in securing leases on the Croxall property in Washington street and the lumber yard of Robert Shaw. The Midway and streets of Cairo will be presented on these two pieces of property. The Court of Honor or main entrance will be erected at the triangular space at the corner of Broadway and Fourth streets. A brilliant electrical display will take place at this point, and handsome arches will be erected as it is intended that the central portion of the celebration shall take place here.

Every day there will be special programs, and at no time during the week will the attraction be permitted to grow old. Arrangements are now being made with the Pennsylvania company to run special trains into the city every morning in order that the large crowds who will undoubtedly visit the city can be accommodated. The trains will return in the evening to carry the visitors to their homes, and a low excursion rate will be secured. It is fully expected that at least 100,000 people will visit the city during the week, as everywhere the carnival has been presented it has been an immense success.

There will be special features added daily for the benefit of the country people, and there will be many attractions that will be of interest to them, while every effort will be made to secure attractions that will appeal directly to the people of the city. With the thoughts of the Steubenville centennial celebration still fresh in their minds, the committee will make every effort to eclipse it, and are confident that they can do so. From this time forth the committee will devote their effort to making the affair the greatest in the history of the city. The chairman of the executive committee is G. L. S. Brook, and meetings of the committee are being held three and four nights every week.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

[Special Correspondence.]

There is a novel charity work being done on the west side of this town. Clothing for men, women, girls and babies is sold for whatever price the purchaser can afford to pay for it. Sometimes the clothing is sold for 1 cent, sometimes more - good clothing, too; clothing which cost the original purchaser $50 and even $75 a suit. Sounds improbable. Yet that is what is being done by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, whose field is on West Street, between the city and the river. The selling of clothing at a nominal price is not by any means all that the sisterhood does, but it is a department which under wise guidance has been a great success and has been commended by the city and the sisterhood all over the world.

The clothing bureau has done much good work during the year, although there has been a great decrease in the number of packages left at its door owing to the fact that churches and societies all over the city and in the neighboring cities and towns have learned this superior way of benefiting the poor and have opened clothing bureaus in connection with their own work. The fact that the plan is so largely followed shows its practical usefulness. Many of the purchasers are washwomen, seamstresses, housewives and scrubwomen. The men customers are usually out of employment and also, out at the elbow and toes as to attire. To these are sold comfortable secondhand, partly worn clothes at whatever price the would be purchaser can afford to pay. Often it is $1 and often 1 cent.

Mrs. William Astor has recently paid a fortune for some dishes. She has given in return for a mere set of china $30,000 American dollars. There are 212 pieces in all, each of which is worth almost its weight in gold. Mrs. Astor now owns the most costly china in America. This $30,000 set of china was originally intended for royalty.

The china was made in the famous Royal Meissen factory in Dresden, and a sample was sent to Mrs. Astor when she was in Paris last March. The plate sent in approval so delighted New York society leader that she ordered the china at once, with instructions to add the Astor crest and her own monogram.

The china is rich cream white in tint, with a slightly scalloped edge. Close to the rim, traced in glittering gold, is the famous star scattered Astor crest. Below the crest and encircling each plate is a band of gold, then a band of brilliant red, bordered by another gleaming gold line, and then still farther down in the plate, directly under the crest, are the golden letters "O. A. S." (Caroline Astor), wrought into a monogram.

The case of it is a story all of itself. Not one of the 212 pieces is ever allowed to touch the other, so brittle are these wonderfully costly plates. A china closet has been built to hold them, and each dish has a niche of its own. In Provincial New York. The invasion of several Westchester country towns by trolley cars recently has produced some curious results, and not the least of these is the way in which a man who spends his days in New York and who sleeps in the country will stand for half an hour on a corner, watching a trolley car go by. They watch the car with rapt attention as it rockets by, shooting electric sparks on either side. A trolley car in New York would not interest them. Until recently the only car line in New Rochelle consisted of at least one car, which had, seen better days, a pair of horses with no particular ambition. Twice a day this collection of antiquities made the trip from the railroad station to Hudson Park. Several evenings ago two commuters who were waiting for a trolley car on Main street were surprised to see this old horse car standing on the tracks.

"Don't know," was the reply in disconsolate tones.
"Where are you going?"
"Don't know. I'm new on this line, and I'm looking for Rose street. I've lost my way."

Rival Truckmen.
Richard Croker is not going to have things all his own way in the motor truck business. There are rivals in the field, and the most powerful of them has big names back of it. There are Astor and Dapens and Seward Webb in the new concern, which is to be known as the Storage Power company, and which will use the inventions of one Prall, who has been patenting compressed air motors ever since 1871. "I discovered that air was a very medium," said Prall today, "and not an actual efficient power in itself. Our company is now constructing a motor which will run 50 miles an hour, and the entire system be compressed air and superheated water has been covered by numerous patents." Prall claims that the rival systems are failures, and criminalizations and recriminations are in order.

Gone are the pleasures of the "Kissing Gate." The cold and heartless policemen of the Harlem district have placed a ban upon it. The boys had been having such a good time there! The "Kissing Gate" is the One Hundred and Twenty-second street entrance to Mount Morris park. Young brigands lay in wait there, and when young and attractive persons of the opposite sex entered or left by it they would be pounced upon and embraced with ardor and ferocity. Some of the girls liked it, some did not. It was the latter who made the trouble and caused the police to take a hand in the game. The other morning in court several of the kissers were fined $10 each.

Lost by a Little Blind Child - The Game of Cricket - A Cat's Nine Lives.

In one of Philadelphia's hospitals there is a curly haired, pink cheeked little 5-year-old boy, blind in both eyes, maimed, twisted and a cripple for life, and yet he is the joy of the hospital and the light of the wards and has been the direct cause of a dying man's conversion. The patients call him "Little Sunshine." Every morning he is led through the wards and the private rooms by one of the nurses, and the patients fondle their pet and kiss him.

In room 10 there is a coal heaver, a big, drawn fellow, dying of an incurable disease, and "Sunshine's" crystal-like purity and innocence so appealed to him that the man's heart was touched. He was reminded of his early childhood days, when at his mother's knees he lay, "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep." Four days ago the dying coal heaver asked to see a clergyman, and the pastor of a nearby Methodist church was sent for. The good man told of the sacrifice and sufferings of the Saviour, and in the barren room of the hospital between the day and the dark the man found peace.

"Sunshine's" chubby little fist—the uninjured one—was buried deep in the great knotted palms of the dying man. He lay still, with the light of new found peace upon his face. "Dear God," he murmured as the great tears chased one another down his cheeks and lost themselves in the snowy linen. "Dear God, 'Little Sunshine' done it. Sonny done it. The parson said as how a little kid could lead a feller, and 'Sunshine' done it."

There was a moment of silence; then "Little Sunshine" gently withdrew his hands from those of the dying man and whispered to the nurse: "Tan he see Dad? Wiss I could." Philadelphia Press.

Game of Cricket.

To play this game one member of the company is chosen by lot and becomes the cricket. The cricket then writes upon a piece of paper the name of some kind of grain and folds it, so that no one else can see it. Then the cricket begins his search, saying something like this:
"My good friends, I am very, very hungry. You ants are known as good providers, with always plenty to eat in your houses. Will not one of you give me some kind of provision, now that it is too cold for me to seek for food?"

Then, as the cricket stops before one of the ants, he or she says:
"I can give you a grain of wheat."
If wheat is not the name of the grain written down, the cricket must refuse in some such terms as:
"Wheat does not agree with my constitution. And then the cricket is to address himself to all the ants in turn and to find some ant reply to the offer of all the grains until the one written down is reached, when he says:
"Thank you. That is just what I have been longing for. Now, seeing that it is better to be an ant than a cricket, I propose to become an ant, and you may be cricket in my place."

As the cricket says this all the company jump up and try to escape, and the cricket pursues until he catches one, who becomes cricket in turn.

Motor Cars in Spain.

Motor cars are beginning to make their appearance even in Madrid and seem strangely out of place in the streets of her medieval towns. A great many motor tricycles have been seen in Madrid and now the first motor carriage has arrived in Seville and creates some stir in the narrow, ill paved streets. It belongs to a famous Toreador and was brought by him at great expense from Paris. Chicago News.

The Journeymen Tailors' Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every hat made before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the Union Label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

"Do unto others as ye would be done unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The labels are as follows: The Union shield is in white and blue on a background of red, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on blue paper and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is really of a similar color.

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

FAMOUS MIDWAY IS COMING

The Centennial of East Liverpool is to be celebrated in a fitting manner, and the Elks are arranging for a great big week.

The city will be 100 years old this year, and East Liverpool Lodge No. 258, Elks, propose to celebrate the centennial in a fitting manner, and the Elks are arranging for a great big week.

The Elks at a meeting appointed an executive committee to look into the matter, and they at once realized that to make the affair a success it was necessary to secure an attraction of merit. They began to look for attractions, and after some correspondence a representative of the Exposition Circuit company came to the city and met with the executive committee, and as a result a contract was closed with the representative and the leading feature of the Midway was the presentation of the World's fair.

The business men of the city will also make displays and there will be speeches and parades while a number of other attractions will be engaged, and it is expected to make the event one long to be remembered as well as to advertise the numerous advantages of the city.

Every day there will be special programs, and at no time during the week will the attraction be permitted to grow old. Arrangements are now being made with the Pennsylvania company to run special trains into the city, every morning in order that the large crowds who will undoubtedly visit the city can be accommodated. The trains will return in the evening to carry the visitors to their homes, and a low excursion rate will be secured. It is fully expected that at least 100,000 people will visit the city during the week, as everywhere the carnival has been presented it has been an immense success.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

[Special Correspondence.]

There is a novel charity work being done on the west side of this town. Clothing for men, women, girls and babies is sold for whatever price the purchaser can afford to pay for it. Sometimes the clothing is sold for 1 cent, sometimes more - good clothing, too, clothing which cost the original purchaser $50 and even $75 a suit. Sounds improbable. Yet that is what is being done by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, whose fold is on West Twentieth street. The selling of clothing at a nominal price is not by any means all that the sisterhood does, but it is a department which under wise guidance has been a great success and has been commended by many of the societies of the city.

The clothing bureau has done much good work during the year, although there has been a great decrease in the number of packages left at its door owing to the fact that churches and societies all over the city and in the neighboring cities and towns have learned this superior way of benefiting the poor and have opened clothing bureaus in connection with their own work. The fact that the plan is so largely followed shows its practical usefulness. Many of the purchasers are washwomen, seamstresses, housemaids and scrubwomen. The men customers are usually out of employment and also out at the elbow and toes as to attire. To these are sold comfortable secondhand, partly worn clothes at whatever price the would be purchaser can afford to pay. Often it is $1 and often 1 cent.

Mrs. William Astor has recently paid a fortune for some dishes. She has given in return for a mere set of china $30,000, American dollars. There are 212 pieces in all, each of which is worth almost its weight in gold. Mrs. Astor now owns the most costly china in America. This $30,000 set of china was originally intended for royalty.

The china was made in the famous Royal Meissen factory in Dresden, and a sample was sent to Mrs. Astor when she was in Paris last March. The plate sent in approval so delighted New York society leader that she ordered the china at once, with instructions to add the Astor crest and her own monogram.

The china is rich cream white in tint, with a slightly scalloped edge. Close to the rim, traced in glittering gold, is the famous star scattered Astor crest. Below the crest and encircling each plate is a band of gold, then a band of brilliant red, bordered by another gleaming gold line, and then still farther down in the plate directly under the crest are the golden letters "O. A. M." (Caroline Astor), wrought into a monogram.

The case of it is a story all of itself. Not one of the 212 pieces is ever allowed to touch the other, so brittle are these wonderfully costly plates. A china closet has been built to hold them, and each dish has a niche of its own.

In Provincial New York.
The invasion of several Westchester county towns by trolley cars recently has produced some curious results, and not the least of these is the way in which a man who spends his days in New York and who sleeps in the country will stand for half an hour on a corner in a suburban town to watch a trolley car go by. They watch the car with rapt attention as if rockets by, shooting electric sparks on either side. A thousand such cars in New York would not interest them. Until recently the only car line in New Rochelle consisted of at least one car, which had seen better days, and a pair of horses with no particular ambition. Twice a day this collection of antiquities made the trip from the railroad station to Hudson Park. Several evenings ago two commuters who were waiting for a trolley car on Main street were surprised to see this old horse car standing on the tracks.

"Don't know," was the reply in disconsolate tones.
"Where are you going?"
"Don't know. I'm new on this line, and I'm looking for Rose street. I've lost my way."

Rival Truckmen.
Richard Croker is not going to have things all his own way in the motor truck business. There are rivals in the field, and the most powerful of them has big names back of it. There are Astors and Depews and Stewarts and Wabbs in the new concern, which is to be known as the Storage Power company, and which will use the inventions of one Prall, who has been patenting compressed air motors ever since 1871. "I discovered that air was merely a medium," said Prall today, "and not an actual, efficient power in itself. Our company is now constructing a motor which will run 50 miles an hour, and the entire system of compressed air and superheated water has been covered by numerous patents." Prall claims that the rival systems are failures, and criminal and retractions are in order.

Gone are the pleasures of the "Kissing Gate." The cold and heartless policemen of the Harlem district have placed a ban upon it. The boys had been having such a good time there! The "Kissing Gate" is the One Hundred and Twenty-second street entrance to Mount Morris park. Young brigands lay in wait there, and when young and attractive persons of the opposite sex entered or left by it they would be pounced upon and embraced with ardor and ferocity. Some of the girls liked it, some did not. It was the latter who made the trouble and caused the police to take a hand in the game. The other morning in court several of the kissers were fined $10 each.

YOUTHS' DEPARTMENT.

Led by a Little Blind Child - The Game of Cricket - A Cat's Nine Lives.

In one of Philadelphia's hospitals there is a curly haired, pink cheeked little 5-year-old boy, blind in both eyes, maimed, twisted and a cripple for life, and yet he is the joy of the hospital and the light of the wards and has been the direct cause of a dying man's conversion. The patients call him "Little Sunshine." Every morning he is led through the wards and the private rooms by one of the nurses, and the patients cuddle their pet and kiss him.

In room 19 there is a coal heaver, a big, drawn fellow, dying of an incurable disease, and "Sunshine's" crystal-like purity and innocence so appealed to him that the man's heart was touched. He was reminded of his early childhood days, when at his mother's knees he lay, "New I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep." Four days ago the dying coal heaver asked to see a clergyman, and the pastor of a nearby Methodist church was sent for. The good man told of the sacrifice and sufferings of the Saviour, and in the barren room of the hospital between the day and the dark the man found peace.

"Sunshine's" chubby little fist - the uninjured one - was buried deep in the great knotted palms of the dying man. He lay still, with the light of new found peace upon his face. "Dear God," he murmured as the great tears chased one another down his cheeks and lost themselves in the snowy linen. "Dear God, 'Little Sunshine' done it. Sonny done it. The parson said as how a little kid could lead a feller, and 'Sunshine' done it."

There was a moment of silence; then "Little Sunshine" gently withdrew his hands from those of the dying man and whispered to the nurse: "Tan he see Dod? Wiss I could." - Philadelphia Press.

Game of Cricket.

To play this game one member of the company is chosen by lot and becomes the cricket. The cricket then writes upon a piece of paper the name of some kind of grain and folds it, so that no one else can see it. Then the cricket begins his search, saying something like this:

"My good friends, I am very, very hungry. You ants are known as good providers; with always plenty to eat in your houses. Will not one of you give me some kind of provision, now that it is too cold for me to seek for food?"

Then, as the cricket stops before one of the ants, he or she says:

"I can give you a grain of wheat." If wheat is not the name of the grain written down, the cricket must refuse in some such terms as:

"Wheat does not agree with my constitution." And then the cricket is to address himself to all the ants, in turn and is to find some apt reply to the offer of all the grains until the one written down is reached, when he says:

"Thank you. That is just what I have been longing for. Now, seeing that it is better to be an ant than a cricket, I propose to become an ant, and you may be cricket in my place."

As the cricket says this all the company jump up and try to escape, and the cricket pursues until he catches one, who becomes cricket in turn.

Motor Cars in Spain.

Motor cars are beginning to make their appearance even in Spain and seem strangely out of place in the streets of her medieval towns. A great many motor tricycles have been seen in Madrid and now the first motor carriage has arrived in Seville and creates some stir in the narrow, ill paved streets. It belongs to a famous toreador and was brought by him at great expense from Paris. - Chicago News.

A Winter Song.

The whole wide world is filled with snow
Whichever way I look or go.
The cold wind down the chimney comes,
The little snowbirds chirp for crumbs.

Jack Frost is pinching every nose,
He stings our cheeks and nips our toes,
And I'm afraid he's none too good
To birds and squirrels in the wood.

O little creatures, are you cold?
I pity you, though I've been told
That you are snug and warm as we
In fur and feathers in a tree!

I think of you when comes the snow,
And when the cold winds howl and blow
My heart would warm you if it could,
O little creatures in the wood!

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others? The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

Sewer Commissioners Gave No Contract.

BIDDERS SENT PIPE SPECIMENS

They Were Tested Yesterday Afternoon and the Plan For Sewering the District Was Discussed, but No Conclusion Was Reached—Will Begin in the Spring.

The sewer commissioners held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the office of F. H. Croxall, but again could not see their way clear to let the contract for seven miles of pipe.

The specimens of pipe asked from the bidders had been sent, and were subjected to the test usually used in cases of that kind. It is known as the "hammer test," and was satisfactory. When it was over the commissioners settled down to discuss the important matter of letting the contract, but it was decided to hold it over until next Friday when another meeting will be held. The commissioners argued that since they must advertise to have the work done, and that was an important matter, they could well afford to consider the question of pipe until later in the week.

There are but two bidders for the big contract. Knowles, Taylor & Anderson and Lythe & Sons.

Plans for the sewerage of the new district were carefully discussed, and it was the opinion of every member present that work must be commenced early in the spring.

A GARBAGE FURNACE

Will Be Discussed If the Board of Health Meets.

At the next meeting of the board of health H. A. Keffer will again present the question of erecting a garbage furnace. In speaking of this matter yesterday Mr. Keffer said:

"There should be something done and that very soon in this matter. It is almost a year since the matter was first presented, but as it is seldom a meeting is held it is almost impossible to get business of any kind transacted. We should meet with the Wellsville board before the meeting next month to talk over the building of a furnace but it is doubtful if such a meeting will be held."

STOPPED WORK.

Railroad Improvement at Smith's Ferry Delayed.

The steam shovel which has been in use at Smith's Ferry for several months grading, was taken to Wellsville last evening, where it will be extensively repaired.

The cold weather has interfered considerably with the work of the company at that place, and it is thought by those in charge that the improvements will not be completed until late in March, and possibly April. There is yet considerable work to be done, and unless warm weather sets in the work will drag.

DIGGING FOR PIPES

Water Department Is Searching For Those That Are Frozen.

Employees of the water department are exceedingly busy at the present time digging up frozen water pipes and shutting them off. Many people, when their water pipe freeze up and bursts, pay no attention to it, and the department is compelled to dig up the private line and shut off the water.

Creston Clarke to Return.

Mr. Creston Clarke, who will produce the new romantic play, "The Ragged Cavalier," at the new Grand on Thursday night, is a nephew of the famous actor, Edwin Booth, to whom he bears a wonderful facial resemblance. Mr. Clarke's father was John Sleeper Clarke, who was a generation ago the most prominent comedian of this country and England. He married Asia Booth, the eldest sister of Edwin Booth, and during the life of America's greatest tragedian the elder Clarke and Mr. Booth were inseparable friends and business associates.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[Special Correspondence.]

John Russell Young, whose death shocked members of congress and public men to an extraordinary degree, was almost an ideal librarian, and yet, curiously enough, was not satisfied with his work. Although 57 years old, he still had a hankering for foreign travel, and it is now an open secret that he was endeavoring to secure a transfer to the diplomatic service. He brought to the control of the library large executive ability and pronounced literary tastes. In addition to this he was popular among members of congress and looked after their interests so carefully as to win their affection. His service as minister to China and his trip around the world with General Grant left in him a deep desire to see still more of foreign countries, and at the time of his death he was endeavoring to find a good successor in the library and get into the diplomatic harness once more. It is said that negotiations had proceeded so far that John Addison Porter, secretary to the president, had been taken into consideration as librarian of congress to succeed Mr. Young in case of his transfer. For this reason, it is believed, Mr. Porter's name may be considered in connection with the vacancy which now exists.

Senators Who Give Tips.

Although the senate is popularly known as the Millionaires' club, the individual members are not as a rule given to liberality. This is what the white aproned servants who look after the senators' wants in the restaurant say. One of the old waiters was asked if he would rather wait on senators than on sports. He grinned and said: "Der's no camp'sen. Gimme de sports."

"How much do you average each day from tips?"

"Usually 'bout $2."

"Who are the star tip men?"

"Well, I reckon Mr. Hanna, Mr. Lodge, Mr. Warren and Mr. Smith come near being the bestest. O' cose dere are oders, but dese are my men. Gimme dese four and I wants no more."

The old waiter is right in what he says. Senators are not prodigal in giving tips. The little page boys, who are paid $2.50 a day, make little outside of their salaries. There are senators who give pages a nickel to get two postage stamps and take the penny change.

That Good Feeling.

Sir Tatton Sykes and Mr. Reginald Cholmonder of London are in the city on their way through to Mexico. Mr. Cholmonder is said to be the prospective recipient of a lordship. He is a young man reserved and modest in manner. He spoke entertainingly of the gayer sides of London life.

"Yes, we notice the growth of good feeling between your country and ours in many of the petty frivolities of human life," he said. "The Belle of New York has been all the rage in London this season, and when the American and the British flags are brought out together in the last act the crowds cheer and cheer as though they never would stop. We hear American patriotic airs on the streets and jokes in the newspapers and farces in the music halls, all indicative of the good feeling between the two nations. I think the growth of this sentiment has been most marked among the class of people whom you might call the men of the street. But you know we Englishmen, the better class particularly, have felt kindly toward America and Americans for many years."

The Deposed Queen of Hawaii.

Some time ago Mrs. Dominis, formerly known as Liliuokalani, installed herself in one of the down town hotels in such state as her diminished purse allowed. It was not known at the time of her arrival what project brought her again to this country, and various rumors were current. One to the effect that she would shortly take to the lecture platform seemed probable, as there is no doubt that her highness would make a success in that field. Her business, however, has finally been made apparent by a formal protest filed with congress against the absorption of the pseudo crown lands by this government, insisting that her deposition does not affect her title to this realty and demanding that it be returned.

Colonel Berry Awaits the Challenge.

Colonel Albert S. Berry of Kentucky was the subject of considerable badinage in the house the other day on account of a press dispatch from Germany stating that the German newspapers were urging the emperor to take some official recognition of his speech, in which he declared that it might be necessary to turn in and lick the German people if they did not stop meddling with our affairs in the far east. The same dispatch said that some member of the reichstag might think it incumbent upon himself to challenge Colonel Berry should he not retract his pugnacious statement. The Kentuckian took the matter good naturedly. He is 6 feet 4 inches high, weighs 225 pounds and is in good repair. Colonel Berry says he has nothing against the German people, although he doesn't like their system of government or their emperor. If they want to send a champion from the reichstag, Colonel Berry will not quail.

Representative A. M. Dockery of Missouri, one of the Democratic floor leaders, is a constant theater goer. Nearly every night during the week he visits one of the Washington theaters. The congressman is generally alone on his tour of the playhouses. He appears to get considerable amusement out of the passing shows. His particular fancy runs toward minstrelsy. This is Mr. Dockery's last term in congress. He believes he can be elected governor of Missouri two years hence, and of his own free will he declined a re-nomination, preferring to take chances on the governorship. CARL SCHOFIELD.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

If you have not already a sufficient supply of kitchen tables to pattern after, let me add one more to the list. Mine is made, with the exception of drawer fronts and top, of ceiling boards, such as are used for wainscoting. It is two feet four and three-quarters inches high, three feet one-half inch long and two feet three-quarters inch deep. The top extends three inches over the body of the table to prevent anything being slopped down the front or sides. The top is covered with oilcloth.

Now for the body. It is divided in the middle perpendicularly. The top of each division contains a drawer. Each drawer is of the same size. I keep in one the spices, dish towels, recipe books, etc. In the other are the knives and forks used in cooking, the graters, chopping knife, rolling pin, potato masher, etc. Below the right drawer the remaining space is left clear. The floor of this part is covered with oilcloth. In this I set my kettles. Cleats are fastened on each side of this compartment, and driven into them are nails on which I hang the spiders and colander. The other cupboard contains one shelf, on which are kept baking powder, soda, coffee and tea, also coffee mill and coffee and tea pots. Below this I keep pans and baking tins. As the drawers are large one can keep many things besides the ones mentioned in them.

My "John" (only his name happens to be Will) built this for me, and consequently it cost only a dollar in money. He worked at it during spare moments, so he did not use time which should have been used otherwise. The drawers are fitted up with pulls, the cupboard doors with hinges and spring catches, and it is mounted on casters. It is well painted, which makes it easy to keep clean, and being on casters is easily moved about.—Housekeeper.

Draping the Bed.

From the earliest times luxurious people have had luxurious beds, and, though their use was certainly very limited, downy beds, embroidered sheets and rich draperies were spoken of in the early centuries. These comforts succeeding centuries have not lost sight of, and from the boxlike arrangement, with raised sides, filled with sacks of straw, the comfortable beds fitted with springs, mattresses, pillows, sheets, blankets and quilts have been evolved and have become a necessity to mankind, while the luxury of artistic draperies, which in many instances can be made and hung at trifling expense, especially if time must not be taken into account, are within the means of many, and the transformation of the room will well repay one for all the labor spent upon it.

The illustration shows a dainty corner bed, with the drapery suspended from poles protruding from brackets fastened in the wall. Carried out in white figured china silk or white swiss this is an easy way of making an enamel bed very attractive.—American Queen.

The Juicy Oyster Pie.

Oyster pie may be baked in a large pudding dish or in individual patties, as desired; if in a large dish that holds three pints, line the sides of the dish with puff paste or a rich crust and put in a quart of oysters, layer by layer, seasoning each one with a teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of pepper and an even tablespoonful of butter cut in bits. Cover with a crust, leaving an opening in the center, and bake. In the meantime make a good smooth white sauce by melting one tablespoonful of butter in a small frying pan, adding to it a tablespoonful of flour, cooking until it bubbles, then adding the strained oyster liquor and a half cup of water. Cook until it thickens, then add a little white pepper and a cup of cream or milk. When the pie is nearly done, raise the crust from the side or insert a

No wonder some women feel as if the disease which constantly pursues them is just a malignant devil dooming them to endless misery. Thousands of women who could get no relief from any other source have written grateful letters to Doctor R. V.

Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., telling him of the benefits received from his wonderful prescriptions and the careful professional advice which he sends by mail without charge.

A lady living in West Eaton, Madison Co., N. Y., Mrs. Mattie A. Walker, in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce, says: "I write to inform you what your remedies have done for me; but they have helped me so much that I know not where to commence or where to leave off, as I had such a complication of ailments. For three years I had such bad spells I thought that if dying was only just a sleep I did not want to wake and suffer again; I would be glad to have death come any night. I got so discouraged it seemed as if I could never be well and happy again. I had asthmatic spells towards morning. Sometimes I felt as if I could not get breath enough to live; had dreadful pains in the top of my head, and was so nervous I felt as if something dreadful was going to happen—I could not tell why either. I could write a dozen sheets full and not tell all the dreadful things I suffered, from female weakness, constipation, asthmatic spells, and rheumatic neuralgia."

"I advise all who are suffering not only to use Dr. Pierce's medicines, but to get his advice also, for it has helped me so much I cannot say enough in praise of both the advice and the remedies. I look on your medicines as being a God-send, and will ask God to guide suffering humanity to the right relief."

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

The Gratuitous Information Given Here Cannot Be Overestimated by Residents of East Liverpool.

If a resident of East Liverpool is sent to a drug store by a neighbor for a preparation which that resident has tested and proved to be up to its representation, and that neighbor implicitly pins his faith to that resident's experiences, is it stretching the credulity of the reader to investigate the following particulars, or is it overtaxing his faith in medicinal preparations when he is asked to call at the W. & W. pharmacy and obtain minutest particulars touching this statement:

Mr. S. C. Hill, of Ester, Pa., carpenter, says: "For a year I suffered from pain across my back, difficulty with the kidney secretions, and was naturally anxious to procure some treatment which would check, if not radically cure the trouble. Advised by a friend, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy, and I want East Liverpool people to thoroughly grasp this fact, before I used the entire contents of a box I was cured. To prove that my convictions were laid on solid foundation, I have since purchased for a neighbor of mine three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured him. Now, when a preparation which cured me in the condition I was in, and also my neighbor, a preparation which is held in such reputation in and around East Liverpool that an acquaintance of mine advised me through a newspaper statement to obtain it, when that preparation performs exactly what it promises, what can be expected of any resident of East Liverpool suffering from kidney complaint who will not take advantage of his neighbor's experience and profit by his opinions?"

Sewer Commissioners Gave No Contract.

BIDDERS SENT PIPE SPECIMENS

They Were Tested Yesterday Afternoon and the Plan For Sewering the District Was Discussed, but No Conclusion Was Reached—Will Begin in the Spring.

The sewer commissioners held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the office of F. H. Croxall, but again could not see their way clear to let the contract for seven miles of pipe.

The specimens of pipe asked from the bidders had been sent, and were subjected to the test usually used in cases of that kind. It is known as the "hammer test," and was satisfactory. When it was over the commissioners settled down to discuss the important matter of letting the contract, but it was decided to hold it over until next Friday when another meeting will be held. The commissioners argued that since they must advertise to have the work done, and that was an important matter, they could well afford to consider the question of pipe until later in the week.

There are but two bidders for the big contract. Knowles, Taylor & Anderson and Lythe & Sons.

Plans for the sewerage of the new district were carefully discussed, and it was the opinion of every member present that work must be commenced early in the spring.

It is almost a year since the matter was first presented, but as it is seldom a meeting is held it is almost impossible to get business of any kind transacted. We should meet with the Wellsville board before the meeting next month to talk over the building of a furnace but it is doubtful if such a meeting will be held."

Railroad Improvement at Smith's Ferry Delayed.

The steam shovel which has been in use at Smith's Ferry for several months grading, was taken to Wellsville last evening, where it will be extensively repaired.

The cold weather has interfered considerably with the work of the company at that place, and it is thought by those in charge that the improvements will not be completed until late in March, and possibly April. There is yet considerable work to be done, and unless warm weather sets in the work will drag.

Secretary Porter For Librarian—Senators Who Give Tips—That Good Feeling.

[Special Correspondence.]

John Russell Young, whose death shocked members of congress and public men to an extraordinary degree, was almost an ideal librarian, and yet, curiously enough, was not satisfied with his work. Although 57 years old, he still had a hankering for foreign travel, and it is now an open secret that he was endeavoring to secure a transfer to the diplomatic service. He brought to the control of the library large executive ability and pronounced literary tastes. In addition to this he was popular among members of congress and looked after their interests so carefully as to win their affection. His service as minister to China and his trip around the world with General Grant left in him a deep desire to see still more of foreign countries, and at the time of his death he was endeavoring to find a good successor in the library and get into the diplomatic harness once more. It is said that negotiations had proceeded so far that John Addison Porter, secretary to the president, had been taken into consideration as librarian of congress to succeed Mr. Young in case of his transfer. For this reason, it is believed, Mr. Porter's name may be considered in connection with the vacancy which now exists.

Senators Who Give Tips.

"How much do you average each day from tips?"

"Usually 'bout $2."

"Who are the star tip men?"

"Well, I reckon Mr. Hanna, Mr. Lodge, Mr. Warren and Mr. Smith come near bein the bestest. O' cose dere are oders, but dese are my men. Gimme dese oders and I wants no more."

The old waiter is right in what he says. Senators are not prodigal in giving tips. The little page boys, who are paid $2.50 a day, make little outside of their salaries. There are senators who give pages a nickel to get two postage stamps and take the penny change.

That Good Feeling.

Sir Tatten Sykes and Mr. Reginald Cholmonder of London are in the city on their way through to Mexico. Mr. Cholmonder is said to be the prospective recipient of a lordship. He is a young man reserved and modest in manner. He spoke entertainingly of the gayer sides of London life.

"Yes, we notice the growth of good feeling between your country and ours in many of the petty frivolities of human life," he said. "The Belle of New York has been all the rage in London this season, and when the American and the British flags are brought out together in the last act the crowds cheer and cheer as though they never would stop. We hear American patriotic airs on the streets and jokes in the newspapers and farces in the music halls, all indicative of the good feeling between the two nations. I think the growth of this sentiment has been most marked among the class of people whom you might call the men of the street. But you know we Englishmen, the better class particularly, have felt kindly toward America and Americans for many years."

The Deposed Queen of Hawaii.

Some time ago Mrs. Dominis, formerly known as Liliuokalani, installed herself in one of the down town hotels in such state as her diminished purse allowed. It was not known at the time of her arrival what project brought her again to this country, and various rumors were current. One to the effect that she would shortly take to the lecture platform seemed probable, as there is no doubt that her highness would make a success in that field. Her business, however, has finally been made apparent by a formal protest filed with congress against the absorption of the pseudo crown lands by this government, insisting that her deposition does not affect her title to this realty and demanding that it be returned.

Colonel Berry Awaits the Challenge.

Colonel Albert S. Berry of Kentucky was the subject of considerable badinage in the house the other day on account of a press dispatch from Germany stating that the German newspapers were urging the emperor to take some official recognition of his speech, in which he declared that it might be necessary to turn in and lick the German people if they did not stop meddling with our affairs in the far east. The same dispatch said that some member of the reichstag might think it incumbent upon himself to challenge Colonel Berry should he not retract his pugnacious statement. The Kentuckian took the matter good naturedly. He is 6 feet 4 inches high, weighs 225 pounds and is in good repair. Colonel Berry says he has nothing against the German people, although he doesn't like their system of government or their emperor. If they want to send a champion from the reichstag, Colonel Berry will not quail.

Representative A. M. Dockery of Missouri, one of the Democratic floor leaders, is a constant theater goer. Nearly every night during the week he visits one of the Washington theaters. The congressman is generally alone on his tour of the playhouses. He appears to get considerable amusement out of the passing shows. His particular fancy runs toward minstrelsy. This is Mr. Dockery's last term in congress. He believes he can be elected governor of Missouri two years hence, and of his own free will he declined a renomination, preferring to take chances on the governorship. CARL SCHOFIELD.

A Cheap Kitchen Table—Dainty Drapings For a Bed—The Juicy Oyster Pie.

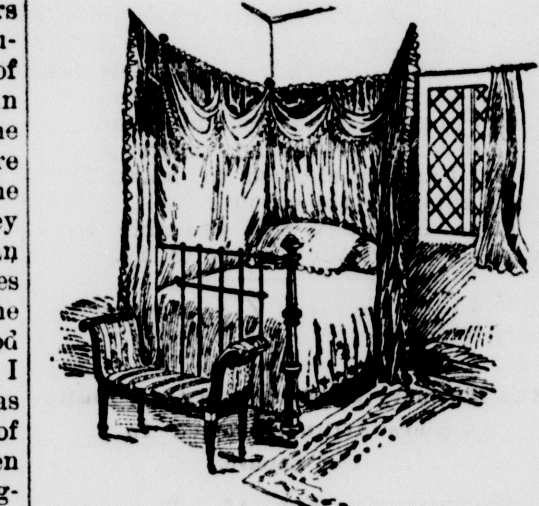

If you have not already a sufficient supply of kitchen tables to pattern after, let me add one more to the list. Mine is made, with the exception of drawer fronts and top, of ceiling boards, such as are used for wainscoting. It is two feet four and three-quarters inches high, three feet one-half inch long and two feet three-quarters inch deep. The top extends three inches over the body of the table to prevent anything being slopped down the front or sides. The top is covered with oilcloth.

Now for the body. It is divided in the middle perpendicularly. The top of each division contains a drawer. Each drawer is of the same size. I keep in one the spices, dish towels, recipe books, etc. In the other are the knives and forks used in cooking, the graters, chopping knife, rolling pin, potato masher, etc. Below the right drawer the remaining space is left clear. The floor of this part is covered with oilcloth. In this I set my kettles. Cleats are fastened on each side of this compartment, and driven into them are nails on which I hang the spiders and colander. The other cupboard contains one shelf, on which are kept baking powder, soda, coffee and tea, also coffee mill and coffee and tea pots. Below this I keep pans and baking tins. For this reason, it is believed, Mr. Porter's name may be considered in connection with the vacancy which now exists.

Senators Who Give Tips.

"How much do you average each day from tips?"

"Usually 'bout $2."

"Who are the star tip men?"

"Well, I reckon Mr. Hanna, Mr. Lodge, Mr. Warren and Mr. Smith come near bein the bestest. O' cose dere are oders, but dese are my men. Gimme dese four and I wants no more."

The old waiter is right in what he says. Senators are not prodigal in giving tips. The little page boys, who are paid $2.50 a day, make little outside of their salaries. There are senators who give pages a nickel to get two postage stamps and take the penny change.

That Good Feeling.

Sir Tatton Sykes and Mr. Reginald Cholmonder of London are in the city on their way through to Mexico. Mr. Cholmonder is said to be the prospective recipient of a lordship. He is a young man reserved and modest in manner. He spoke entertainingly of the gayer sides of London life.

"Yes, we notice the growth of good feeling between your country and ours in many of the petty frivolities of human life," he said. "The Belle of New York has been all the rage in London this season, and when the American and the British flags are brought out together in the last act the crowds cheer and cheer as though they never would stop. We hear American patriotic airs on the streets and jokes in the newspapers and farces in the music halls, all indicative of the good feeling between the two nations. I think the growth of this sentiment has been most marked among the class of people whom you might call the men of the street. But you know we Englishmen, the better class particularly, have felt kindly toward America and Americans for many years."

The Deposed Queen of Hawaii.

Some time ago Mrs. Dominis, formerly known as Liliuokalani, installed herself in one of the down town hotels in such state as her diminished purse allowed. It was not known at the time of her arrival what project brought her again to this country, and various rumors were current. One to the effect that she would shortly take to the lecture platform seemed probable, as there is no doubt that her highness would make a success in that field. Her business, however, has finally been made apparent by a formal protest filed with congress against the absorption of the pseudo crown lands by this government, insisting that her deposition does not affect her title to this realty and demanding that it be returned.

Colonel Berry Awaits the Challenge.

Colonel Albert S. Berry of Kentucky was the subject of considerable badinage in the house the other day on account of a press dispatch from Germany stating that the German newspapers were urging the emperor to take some official recognition of his speech, in which he declared that it might be necessary to turn in and lick the German people if they did not stop meddling with our affairs in the far east. The same dispatch said that some member of the reichstag might think it incumbent upon himself to challenge Colonel Berry should he not retract his pugnacious statement. The Kentuckian took the matter good naturedly. He is 6 feet 4 inches high, weighs 235 pounds and is in good repair. Colonel Berry says he has nothing against the German people, although he doesn't like their system of government or their emperor. If they want to send a champion from the reichstag, Colonel Berry will not quail.

Representative A. M. Dockery of Missouri, one of the Democratic floor leaders, is a constant theater goer. Nearly every night during the week he visits one of the Washington theaters. The congressman is generally alone on his tour of the playhouses. He appears to get considerable amusement out of the passing shows. His particular fancy runs toward minstrelsy. This is Mr. Dockery's last term in congress. He believes he can be elected governor of Missouri two years hence, and of his own free will he declined a renomination, preferring to take chances on the governorship. CARL SCHOFIELD.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

If you have not already a sufficient supply of kitchen tables to pattern after, let me add one more to the list. Mine is made, with the exception of drawer fronts and top, of ceiling boards, such as are used for wainscoting. It is two feet four and three-quarters inches high, three feet one-half inch long and two feet three-quarters inch deep. The top extends three inches over the body of the table to prevent anything being slopped down the front or sides. The top is covered with oilcloth.

Now for the body. It is divided in the middle perpendicularly. The top of each division contains a drawer. Each drawer is of the same size. I keep in one the spices, dish towels, recipe books, etc. In the other are the knives and forks used in cooking, the graters, chopping knife, rolling pin, potato masher, etc. Below the right drawer the remaining space is left clear. The floor of this part is covered with oilcloth. In this I set my kettles. Cleats are fastened on each side of this compartment, and driven into them are nails on which I hang the spiders and colander. The other cupboard contains one shelf, on which are kept baking powder, soda, coffee and tea, also coffee mill and coffee and tea pots. Below this I keep pans and baking tins. As the drawers are large one can keep many things besides the ones mentioned in them.

My "John" (only his name happens to be Will) built this for me, and consequently it cost only a dollar in money. He worked at it during spare moments, so he did not use time which should have been used otherwise. The drawers are fitted up with pulls, the cupboard doors with hinges and spring catches, and it is mounted on casters. It is well painted, which makes it easy to keep clean, and being on casters is easily moved about.—Housekeeper.

Draping the Bed.

From the earliest times luxurious people have had luxurious beds, and, though their use was certainly very limited, downy beds, embroidered sheets and rich draperies were spoken of in

the early centuries. These comforts succeeding centuries have not lost sight of, and from the boxlike arrangement, with raised sides, filled with sacks of straw, the comfortable beds fitted with springs, mattresses, pillows, sheets, blankets and quilts have been evolved and have become a necessity to mankind, while the luxury of artistic draperies, which in many instances can be made and hung at trifling expense, especially if time must not be taken into account, are within the means of many, and the transformation of the room will well repay one for all the labor spent upon it.

The illustration shows a dainty corner bed, with the drapery suspended from poles protruding from brackets fastened in the wall. Carried out in white figured china silk or white swiss this is an easy way of making an enamel bed very attractive.—American Queen.

The Juicy Oyster Pie.

Oyster pie may be baked in a large pudding dish or in individual patties, as desired; if in a large dish that holds three pints, line the sides of the dish with puff paste or a rich crust and put in a quart of oysters, layer by layer, seasoning each one with a teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of pepper and an even tablespoonful of butter cut in bits. Cover with a crust, leaving an opening in the center, and bake. In the meantime make a good smooth white sauce by melting one tablespoonful of butter in a small frying pan, adding to it a tablespoonful of flour, cooking until it bubbles, then adding the strained oyster liquor and a half cup of water. Cook until it thickens, then add a little white pepper and a cup of cream or milk. When the pie is nearly done, raise the crust from the side or insert a

Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., telling him of the benefits received from his wonderful prescriptions and the careful professional advice which he sends by mail without charge.

A lady living in West Eaton, Madison Co., N. Y., Mrs. Mattie A. Walker, in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce, says: "I write to inform you what your remedies have done for me; but they have helped me so much that I know not where to commence or where to leave off, as I had such a complication of ailments. For three years I had such bad spells I thought that if dying was only just a sleep I did not want to wake and suffer again. I got so discouraged it seemed as if I could never be well and happy again. I had asthmatic spells towards morning. Sometimes I felt as if I could not get breath enough to live; had dreadful pains in the top of my head, and was so nervous I felt as if something dreadful was going to happen—I could not tell what either. I could write a dozen sheets full and not tell all the dreadful things I suffered, from female weakness, constipation, asthmatic spells, and rheumatic neuralgia."

For nervous troubles and ailments peculiar to women Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only proprietary remedy designed by a regularly educated physician. For bronchial affections and digestive difficulties his "Golden Medical Discovery" is the one permanent cure. His "Pleasant Pellets" are the most effective natural non-gripping laxative for constipation.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

The Gratuitous Information Given Here Cannot Be Overestimated by Residents of East Liverpool.

If a resident of East Liverpool is sent to a drug store by a neighbor for a preparation which that resident has tested and proved to be up to its representation, and that neighbor implicitly pins his faith to that resident's experiences, is it stretching the credulity of the reader to investigate the following particulars, or is it overtaxing his faith in medicinal preparations when he is asked to call at the W. & W. pharmacy and obtain minutely particulars touching this statement?

Mr. S. O. Hill, of Ester, Pa., carpenter, says: "For a year I suffered from pain across my back, difficulty with the kidney secretions, and was naturally anxious to procure some treatment which would check, if not radically cure the trouble. Advised by a friend, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy, and I want East Liverpool people to thoroughly grasp this fact, before I used the entire contents of a box I was cured. To prove that my convictions were laid on solid foundation, I have since purchased for a neighbor of mine three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured him. Now, when a preparation which cured me in the condition I was in, and also my neighbor, a preparation which is held in such reputation in and around East Liverpool that an acquaintance of mine advised me through a newspaper statement to obtain it, when that preparation performs exactly what it promises, what can be expected of any resident of East Liverpool suffering from kidney complaint who will not take advantage of his neighbor's experience and profit by his opinions?"

THE POISON INQUIRY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The inquest into the cause of the death of Mrs. Kate J. Adams, who died on Dec. 28 from the effects of poison received through the mails by Harry Cornish at the Knickerbocker Athletic club, was resumed after a three days' recess.

Molineux told all about his disagreements with Cornish and his efforts to have the latter ousted from the Knickerbocker Athletic club, of how he met Miss Blanche Chesboro, who is now his wife; of how he presented his friend Barnett to her and of Barnett's friendly attentions to her. A letter from Miss Chesboro to Barnett, which has never before been published, was put in evidence.

Barnett received it on his deathbed. It contained solicitous inquiries for his health and evinced very friendly spirit.

After the adjournment Cornish was reported to have said: "I want to make a straightforward statement tomorrow (Wednesday) without any interruptions, and if I am not allowed to make it I shall appeal to the coroner."

Mrs. Molineux will probably be a witness before the coroner today.

In accordance with that agreement the vote was taken on the resolution and it was adopted—25 to 22. It was noticeable that several Democrats who were present and not paired refrained from voting. An amendment offered by Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.) several days ago was defeated. The vote on the amendment was a tie—29 to 29—and Vice President Hobart cast the deciding vote against the proposition.

Speeches were delivered by Mr. Stewart (Pop., Nev.), Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.), Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.), Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.) and Mr. Mason (Rep., Ill.). The speeches of Mr. Hoar and Mr. Hale were notable utterances. They defended the position they had taken on the Philippine question.

"Therefore, after the receipt of this order, commanding officers and commandants are forbidden to allow any malt or other alcoholic liquor to be sold to or issued to enlisted men, either on board ship or within the limits of navy yards, naval stations or marine barracks, except in the medical department.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The inquest into the cause of the death of Mrs. Kate J. Adams, who died on Dec. 28 from the effects of poison received through the mails by Harry Cornish at the Knickerbocker Athletic club, was resumed after a three days' recess.

Molineux told all about his disagreements with Cornish and his efforts to have the latter ousted from the Knickerbocker Athletic club, of how he met Miss Blanche Cheseboro, who is now his wife; of how he presented his friend Barnett to her and of Barnett's friendly attentions to her. A letter from Miss Cheseboro to Barnett, which has never before been published, was put in evidence.

An amendment offered by Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.) several days ago was defeated. The vote on the amendment was a tie—29 to 29—and Vice President Hobart cast the deciding vote against the proposition.

The Swiss society Rambertia has laid out an Alpine garden at Montreux, at an elevation of 6,000 feet, where the characteristic trees and flowers of the country are to be cultivated.

Only 70 years have elapsed since the first railway in the world was finished. During that comparatively brief period 400,000 miles have been constructed, the British empire accounting for about a sixth.

Ninety-five per cent of all the tooth-picks made in the United States are formed from white birch timber in Franklin county, Me., and yet scarcely more than 100 persons are employed in the industry in that state.

Cocoon shells make excellent fuel. The enormous amount of oil they contain causes them to take fire at once. Many hotel keepers in England recognize the fact and buy large quantities of them to mix with coal as fire lighters.

The French language, it appears, is better adapted to the purpose of the telephone than the English. It is stated that the large number of sibilant, or hissing, syllables in English renders it a less easy and accurate means of communication.

Lord Kitchener's punishment for drunkenness, which has passed into a British army proverb, is to tog out the culprit in full marching equipment, a matter of 60 pounds, and compel him for six hours to march, carrying a 50 pound bag of shot in either hand.

The German Order of Merit was founded by Frederick the Great as the highest distinction for military service. Its statute was revised in 1842 in order to include scientists and artists. The latter class is limited to a membership of 30 Germans and 30 foreigners.

A curious custom is made known by a correspondent in Berlin. The butchers of that town are in the habit of informing their customers of the days on which fresh sausages are made by placing a chair, covered with a large, clean apron, at the side of the shop door.

In 1548 garlic was introduced into England from the shores of the Mediterranean, where it is abundant. In Sicily it grows naturally. It was in greater repute with our ancestors, although it is still used as a seasoning herb. On the continent, especially in Italy, it is much used, and the French consider it an essential in many made dishes.

Dr. Alexander Marmorek of Paris compares the opponents of serum therapy to the Italian men of science who brought Galilee before the inquisition because they were afraid of his new doctrines, and when, to convince them, he asked them simply to look through his telescope they refused for fear of being convinced against their will.

In the first four weeks after the opening of the electric railroad at Cairo, Egypt, it is said that no less than 80 persons were killed, and since that time the weekly average of victims is seven or eight. This very high rate of casualties is supposed to be due in part to the imperfect sight of many natives in consequence of the prevalent eye diseases, but fully as much is due perhaps to the fact that they are unfamiliar with such swift moving vehicles.

ANARCHY PREVAILED.

Rebellious Conditions Continued In Samoa According to Advice Received. British Interfered With.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Feb. 15.—Advice received here from Samoa, under date of Feb. 8, reported that anarchy and rebellion still prevailed there. The provisional government persisted in interfering with the British subjects and also with servants of British residents.

The decision of the triple council in the matter of the kingly succession was anxiously awaited. Annexation was looked upon as the only possible solution of existing difficulties. It was stated that even Mataafa's followers would prefer English to German control.

The British cruiser Porpoise returned to Apia on Feb. 1 from a cruise of the Samoan group and reported having found affairs quiet on the other islands. The people of Futula were unanimously in favor of Mataafa Tanus. In Savaii each claimant to the throne was strongly supported.

The United States cruiser Philadelphia was expected at Apia.

THE POISON INQUIRY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The inquest into the cause of the death of Mrs. Kate J. Adams, who died on Dec. 28 from the effects of poison received through the mails by Harry Cornish at the Knickerbocker Athletic club, was resumed after a three days' recess.

Molineux told all about his disagreements with Cornish and his efforts to have the latter ousted from the Knickerbocker Athletic club, of how he met Miss Blanche Chesboro, who is now his wife; of how he presented his friend Barnett to her and of Barnett's friendly attentions to her. A letter from Miss Chesboro to Barnett, which has never before been published, was put in evidence.

Barnett received it on his deathbed. It contained solicitous inquiries for his health and evinced very friendly spirit. After the adjournment Cornish was reported to have said: "I want to make a straightforward statement tomorrow (Wednesday) without any interruptions, and if I am not allowed to make it I shall appeal to the coroner."

Mrs. Molineux will probably be a witness before the coroner today.

DECLARING A POLICY.

The McNery Resolution as to a Philippine Attitude Passed in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The unanimous consent agreement reached by the senate last Saturday to vote on the resolution of Mr. McNery (Dem., La.) declaring a policy of this government in the Philippines was not vacated. In accordance with that agreement the vote was taken on the resolution and it was adopted—26 to 22. It was noticeable that several Democrats who were present and not paired refrained from voting. An amendment offered by Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.) several days ago was defeated. The vote on the amendment was a tie—29 to 29—and Vice President Hobart cast the deciding vote against the proposition.

Speeches were delivered by Mr. Stewart (Pop., Nev.), Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.), Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.), Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.) and Mr. Mason (Rep., Ill.). The speeches of Mr. Hoar and Mr. Hale were notable utterances. They defended the position they had taken on the Philippine question.

Long Issued an Order Forbidding the Sale of Liquors on Board Naval Vessels.

"After mature deliberation the department has decided that it is for the best interest of the service that the sale or issue to enlisted men of malt or other alcoholic liquors on board ships of the navy, or within the limits of naval stations, be prohibited.

"Therefore, after the receipt of this order, commanding officers and commandants are forbidden to allow any malt or other alcoholic liquor to be sold to or issued to enlisted men, either on board ship or within the limits of navy yards, naval stations or marine barracks, except in the medical department. (Signed) "JOHN D. LONG, "Secretary."

THE VICTORY AT MANILA

Captain March Describes Conditions at Scene of Fight.

Captain Peyton C. March, U. S. A., who was recently in command of the Astor battery, is resting at his old home in Easton, Pa., his father being Dr. Francis A. March, the famous English scholar and philologist at Lafayette college. The students of the college gave him a reception the other night. Several hundred of them marched over to the pretty home on the west of the college grounds and cheered and cheered until the gallant captain came out and made a speech to them. His speech over, he answered a number of inquiries concerning the recent battle at Manila. He said:

"I am intensely interested in all the news from Manila. Our line now forms a semicircle about Manila. It starts on the water edge on the north of the city and circles around until it meets the water again on the south side. This line was about 16 miles in length, possibly a little more. Now that our troops are occupying advanced positions, it is probably nearer 20 miles. It reaches the south shore at Malate, and it was here that the Astor battery was stationed. The Fourteenth infantry is now encamped in that locality. The line from the Fourteenth's position to that of the Third artillery, on the other side of the city, is six miles."

"Were there any anticipations of trouble when you left Manila?"

"Yes. This attack has been anticipated. We had repeated warnings, and there were numerous alarms at night, when we turned out, expecting the crisis had arrived. The general policy of General Otis was to be as moderate in dealing with the Filipinos as possible. They misunderstood this, and in the opinion of many this policy is considered to have been too lenient. They thought we were afraid of them."

"What do you think of the fight?"

"I expected it, and the outcome is settled in advance. We have beaten them, and if we go at them vigorously we will clean them off the island. They are brave and fearless, it is true, but they do not know how to fight. I have no doubt that the terrible slaughter which they sustained will teach them a lesson they will not forget."

"How many of them are armed with bows and arrows?"

"I do not take any stock in that story. I was out in their lines a good deal, but did not see any bows or arrows. I did see many Mauser rifles, however. They are well armed, but they do not know how to use their guns."

"Did you see them under fire?"

"Yes; at times I reconnoitered their lines during the time when they were exchanging shots with the Spaniards. They would keep their bodies well concealed behind the trenches and would lift their rifles in the air over their heads, point them toward the Spanish lines and blaze away. They never saw where they were shooting. I could not tell much about their firing at night. The Spaniards and insurgents would crack away at each other by the hour at night. The only evidence would be the flash of the gun and the report. As for killing anything, that rarely occurred. Still, the Filipinos were hard fighters in their way, for they drove the Spaniards from the island and penned them in Manila before we arrived."

"The severest fighting seems to have been near Paco. Are you familiar with that locality, captain?" was asked. Here the Astor battery commander grew more than ever interested, and his eye flashed as he recalled this place.

"Oh, yes! I know Paco. I fought there. It was across the open and through the bamboo about Paco that we charged when we had our fight. It was hot work then, and now that I am out of it I don't mind saying I am glad I am and that I was lucky to escape. We went right up the trenches, and I never expected to come out alive. The charge was made for the moral effect. The men behaved wonderfully well, and the way they went up over and into the trenches I will never forget. It was only the abominable marksmanship of the Spaniards that saved our lives, for there were enough Spaniards there and they fired enough bullets to have wiped out an entire regiment had the shots been well aimed."

"The present intrenchments of our troops at Paco face the level laid thick with bamboo and rice fields. It is a good country for the insurgents to fight in, as they can conceal themselves, but our position is most securely intrenched, and the Filipinos could never endanger it. The situation is absolutely controlled by the Americans. General Otis is a firm and excellent officer. One would think that if we would start right in and clean out the insurgents now it would settle matters. The reason the attack was made at night was very probably because most of the fighting has been done between sunset and

"What do you think of the troops now in Manila?"

"The Fourteenth infantry and the Third artillery are magnificent troops," replied Captain March. "The Eighth corps is composed of fighters. The troops from the western states are fully as good as the best of those coming from eastern states and are as good as any in the service. There need be no fear that they could not cope with the insurgents or any other body of men."—Philadelphia Press.

SOLD ARMS TO SPAIN.

Unpleasant Predicament of an Exporting House.

"There are a lot of queer inside stories connected with the war," said a northern visitor in the lobby of an up town hotel, according to the New Orleans Times-Democrat, "but I think I can tell the very oddest of the lot. I don't care to call any names, but the facts are these: Late last summer a certain manufacturing concern, one of the biggest in its line in the world, received quite a large order from the Spanish government for supplies to be sent to Cuba. There was nothing remarkable in this, because Spain was at that time a liberal customer in the American market, but it already owed a pretty good stiff bill to the house in question, and there was some doubt about filling the last requisition. However, the stuff was finally sent on promise of a 90 day settlement in full. That was in September, 1897."

"When the 90 days elapsed, a small payment was made and the balance promised directly after New Year's. Some time in January there was another small payment and another big promise. On Feb. 15, as you may happen to recall, the Maine was blown to smithereens in Havana harbor, and in the swift succession of events that followed the bill was simply ignored by the Spanish authorities. That very briefly is the commercial history of the case, and the house now finds itself in a peculiar predicament."

"It is possible that it might get its money by an appeal to the president, but as most of the stuff furnished to the dons was used as munitions of war against our own troops it is reluctant to make the claim for fear of exciting popular prejudice. The amount involved runs away up into the thousands, but they figure that it would be more than offset by loss of home trade. So they have concluded to keep their mouths shut and charge it to profit and loss. Funny situation, isn't it? The facts are exactly as I have stated them."

BURGLAR PROOF POOR BOX.

Church Thieves Defied by a Device Now For Sale.

A store in Boston which sells church supplies has among many things for sale a burglar proof poor box. The box is about one foot square and is surmounted by a golden cross. It is made of steel of the hardest kind. Should one try to lift the box, he would find that it would weigh at least 50 pounds.

The outside case, of iron, is not what gives the weight, but the arrangement inside. This is a device to prevent money from being pulled out of the box. The obliging clerk explained, "When a man has the patience to squat himself in front of an altar and by the light of the sanctuary lamp unscrew a poor box from the altar rail, the job occupying over two hours, it is hard to know what to expect next."

The same precautions are now taken in guarding valuables in a church as in a private house. This burglar proof poor box is the invention of a French priest. The mechanism inside is complex. The coin, when dropped into the box, travels downward in a spiral course. Should the coin stop in its passage a bell rings and continues ringing until the coin has reached the end of its course. Should a chisel, knife or hairpin be thrust into the box this ringing immediately warns the church people that some one is tampering with the poor box. It is thought that the unusual weight of the box and the mechanism inside will keep the money from being taken away.—Boston Herald.

A New Senator's Great Fortune.

W. A. Clark, senator elect from Montana, is worth $20,000,000. Taking into account all the various business interests with which he has a connection he probably stands, with his own wealth, surrounded by $100,000,000 of capital. His copper mine holdings in Montana and Arizona are most extensive, and at this time are worth about 200 per cent more than they were one year ago. He is said to have the ambition of being known as the "copper king" of this country. He is not an orator or a bookish man. He comes into the senate as another type of the era of business men legislators. It has been frequently said that his real reason for seeking the senate ever since 1889 has been due to a desire to gratify his family, who are rarely seen in Butte, but live in the east.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Captain Anson thinks the approaching season will be a most successful one for baseball. "With no war in the way and interest in the game constantly growing, I see no reason," says Anson, "why it should not be a successful year."

MANY QUAIL FROZEN

Cold Weather Too Much For the Birds.

SNOW CUT OFF THEIR SUPPLIES

Farmers in Some Sections Are Feeding Them, but Where the Custom Is Not General the Loss Has Been Great. Sportsmen's Hopes Gone.

Prominent sportsmen claim that the extreme cold weather last week killed more quail in Ohio than all hunters combined during the past season.

Thousands of birds have perished for want of food or have been frozen in localities affording poor cover. The snow has prevented them from feeding on seeds which have fallen to the ground, and unlike the pheasant, quail cannot survive weather 20 degrees below zero. Whole covies have been found stiff in death in neighboring thickets. Numerous farmers in this part of the state are feeding the quail, and the shrewd little fellows soon learn where to find an ample breakfast. If this method was practiced throughout Ohio thousands of quail would be saved.

At the close of last season quail were yet plentiful everywhere, and the prospects for an unprecedented season to come were never better until last week. The winter was open and not extremely cold, leaving the owls, hawks and foxes the only enemies of Bob White. Six years ago a similar cold snap nearly exterminated the quail, but since the winters have been more favorable and the birds have multiplied rapidly.

"I have heard that a great many quail have been frozen," said one prominent among the sportsmen of the city, "and I guess it is right. We had hopes for a good season next fall, but if the stories we hear of dead quail are true I think the shooting in this part of the country will not amount to much. Hard winters always kill off the birds, and if there are many more like this in Ohio there will be few if any quail left."

ELWOOD PUSEY,

Frequently during the recent cold weather the supply of gas at city hall has been very low and at times the large court room and mayor's office have been too cold for occupancy. ## "SQUIRREL INN NO. 1."

Bishop Potter's First Saloon

A NEW YORK CLUB FOR POOR MEN.

Noted Divine's Temperance Ideas
Will Be Carried Out in the New Inn.
All Attractions of the Saloon Will
Be Offered Excepting Intoxicants.
Plans of the Inn.

Sandwiched between the Equitable hotel and ex-Alderman Patrick Farley's saloon just above Grand street on the Bowery, in New York, the Church Temperance society will open the first of the "twentieth century saloons."

These are the saloons which are favored by Bishop Potter as the proper successors of the present "poor man's clubs." They will offer all the attractions and more than the ordinary saloon, but intoxicating drinks will have no place there. The $15,000 needed for the experiment has been subscribed. The six story building at 131 Bowery will be fitted up as speedily as possible as Squirrel Inn No. 1. Bishop Potter hopes that in ten years there will be in New York a "Squirrel Inn No. 100, and that they will solve the great social problem of providing for those who like to patronize the saloon something they will like better." It was to further the interests of this undertaking that Bishop Potter recently made an address at the Waldorf-Astoria. His remarks were construed by many as a defense of the saloon. Bishop Potter believes the saloon exists because it meets a want, but he also believes that it meets it in a way destructive of home and all that the name stands for.

His idea of a "twentieth century saloon" is that it should be a bright, cheery place, accessible as the saloon, where a man may get a clean, well cooked meal at a cheap rate, some form of entertainment, and where he can read his newspaper, smoke his pipe and talk with his fellows, with a freedom tempered by good behavior—a place that will only differ from the saloon in that it sells no intoxicating liquor.

Squirrel Inn No. 1 is the crowning result of the labor of Bishop Potter, Mr. Graham and their associates of the Church Temperance society. It is their idea that the saloon can be beaten only by something bright as itself and at the same time more beneficial to the workmen. The Squirrel inn promises to be both.

It has been told how Mrs. W. H. Bradford, a wealthy woman of Lenox, Mass., decided to evict a saloon from 131 Bowery, a building she owned, and turn it over to the Church Temperance society. She agreed to donate three years' rent of $3,500 a year and also pledged the taxes for that period. The conditions attached to her generous offer were that the society raise, as a gift, $10,000 for remodeling and furnishing the inn and $5,000 for working capital. This sum it became necessary to have in bank by Jan. 31. Mr. George S. Bowdoin gave $1,000 to the new inn, and Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt gave another thousand. Mr. W. E. Dodge gave $500, Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan gave $500, and then, in sums ranging from $5 to $500, the whole amount was made up.

The ground floor is to be occupied by a restaurant, and there will be no temperance labels in view. Mr. Graham's idea is to attract people by a first class bill of fare, to catch the ebb and flow of the Bowery, good, bad and indifferent. Prices of meals will be only sufficient to warrant the purchase of good food. The inn is not only for laboring men, but for clerks and young men and women of the neighborhood and all passersby. Women are not to be barred. It is hoped that the inn will draw away from the saloons which flank it on either side.

On the second floor will be a fine hall where entertainments will be given. The plan and scope of these entertainments have not yet been fully decided upon. A moderate price of admission is to be charged. Concerts and lectures will probably take turns with a mild form of theatrical entertainment. In the upper portion, for the present, will be a dining room, where 100 men can be accommodated at a reasonable rate.

In the city of Liverpool there are 63 establishments of this sort, not only self supporting, but paying a good re-

WOMAN AND FASHION.

Electric Blue Cloth Toilet—Peacock Plume Trimming—An Attractive Afternoon Hat.

Electric blue cloth is the material selected for creating the smart toilet shown in the sketch. The skirt is cut in the one piece circular shape, fitting perfectly, and trimmed at the knees with seven superposed scalloped bands of the cloth.

The bodice opens at the neck in two large revers with waved edges, which are faced with white satin, with a wide border of stitching, framing a little V shaped yoke and collar band of the satin, which are also ornamented with stitching. It fastens a little to the left of the middle of the front, from the bust to the waist, with two large crystal buttons and is surrounded with five rows of the scalloped cloth bands. The narrow belt is of dark blue velvet. The sleeves are made in the tailor fashion and trimmed with fancifully shaped cuffs of white satin, enriched with rows of stitching.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Peacock Plume Trimming.

On more than one of the newest French hats peacock feathers are being used by way of trimming, and there is so much beauty in the brilliant blue and green of the peacock plumage that one cannot wonder at the enthusiasm with which the new mode is being taken up by those strong minded women who rise superior to small superstitions. writes a woman from Paris.

A wide brimmed hat of white felt has a peacock's tail feather, with its Argus eyes, curving round the crown and a second feather of a similar description resting upon the hair on the opposite side under the brim. Just where the hat is turned up at the side there are big double bows of miroir velvet, some blue and some green, repeating the coloring of the feathers.

CUTTING OUT THE ICE

NO TIME IS BEING LOST

While Some Believe That There Is Little Cause For Danger, Others Fear the Worst, and Are Preparing to Meet It When It Comes.

The coal dealers who do business along the river front yesterday afternoon commenced the work of breaking the shore ice and getting their floats and barges in readiness for the rise and breakup that will surely come. The dealers anticipate some loss, but will do all they can to save as much of their property as possible before the flood comes.

At the float of the Enterprise company a force of men were working all of yesterday sawing the ice and pushing it under the gorge into the current. In this way clear water was secured, and this morning the work was resumed. Wherever the river has been cleared it will be kept so until the rise reaches this port. Lines have been tied to the shore, and at the first indication they will be fastened to the barges, and in this manner they will be pulled to the shore.

The East Liverpool Coal company began work on the ice late yesterday afternoon. Much was disposed of, and should a flood come the property of the firm will be in good shape.

The Jutte company commenced to clear the river south of the breakers today. They will pull the float in this space, which is the safest ice bottom about this section.

The string of barges lying opposite Walker are in bad shape, and from present indications it is probable they will all be lost.

While some of the men view the matter with composure others look for the worst, and one of the latter stated to a reporter yesterday that before the expected flood ended he counted upon losing between $200 and $300. One man stated the ice was lasting too long to pass off gradually. A sudden rise in the temperature and with a warm rain would bring down probably a great avalanche of heavy ice that could only mean disaster and destruction of property. Not only will the coal men suffer but also the residents of shantyboats and probably the railroad should the river reach the height it did March 24 of last year.

DEFENDERS' DAY

Was Observed Last Evening by the Sons of Veterans, a Good Program Being Rendered

The Sons of Veterans last evening commemorated the birth of Lincoln in a fitting manner.

After the usual routine business had been transacted the committee having in charge the exercises assumed charge of the hall and W. R. Dawson acted as chairman of the meeting.

The opening address was delivered by J. J. Rose and he gave a very interesting talk upon the life of Lincoln. The quartet rendered a very pleasing selection and Captain Criss McConnell spoke from the subject, "Our Defenders." His address was very interesting and instructive. He was followed by Colonel Frederick W. Myers, of Parkersburg, in a very pleasing address upon Lincoln. The quartet sang another selection, and the addresses of the evening were closed by James A. Calhoun, who spoke on the object and aims of the order.

The guests then sat down to the most elaborate banquet ever served by the order, and spent several enjoyable hours, and at the close it was declared the most successful and best attended affair ever given by the order.

A HOT STOVE

Caused Fire in a Broadway Saloon This Morning.

Fire was discovered this morning in a small room in the rear of a saloon owned by Michael O'Malley in Broadway. The department was called and when an investigation was made it was found the flames were caused by an overheated stove. The fire was extinguished by the use of small Babcocks.

A large hole was burned through the floor and the damage will amount to about $10, which is covered by insurance.

MUTE TRAVELING MAN.

Though Deaf and Dumb, Wisconsin Chair Salesman Is Very Successful.

A. G. Kent of Grand Rapids, Mich., is a traveling salesman for a Wisconsin chair factory, and as such there is not another in the country like him. He is young, handsome, bright. His peculiarity lies in the fact that he is a deaf mute. On his card is the inscription, "The Company That Needs No Talking," and he lets the photographs which he carries with him do the talking for him.

Kent is 28 years old, and that the world is silent to him is due to an infantile disease that destroyed the hearing. He was educated at the state school for the deaf, and when he came out to find a place for himself in the world he at first worked for his father in making and selling furniture. Then he secured a position as traveling salesman for the Wisconsin concern and has been highly successful in the business.

When he enters the store of a customer he lays down his card, and as he has already become well known to the trade it is no longer necessary for him to explain his application. He produces his photographs with the cost mark on each, and the dickering which ensues is done on a scratch bank or by signs. In stead of being a handicap, Kent's affliction really is a help to him in his business.—Chicago Record.

To Sandbag a Draft.

Sand bags furnish the most effectual and easily applied remedy against drafts from windows and under doors. There is no special art in making them. Rags made like umbrella covers, as long as the doors or windows are wide, of canvas or cloth of any kind, are filled with sand. The larger they are the better, though there is no necessity of making them very large. An inch or two inches in diameter is about the proper size for windows, though they can be made larger for doors. An extra size will prove more effectual for outside doors. The bag should not be more than two-thirds filled with sand, for the liner it is the more readily it will conform to the purposes for which it is used.—Washington Star.

Flounces. Circular flounces are pretty enough if they are made of the proper material, and indeed it is difficult to say what the proper material is, as in almost every case the flounce sags in spots, drags all out of symmetry and forms points that dip most ungracefully upon the ground whenever the wearer steps. The fashion is likely to be short lived.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns

Spain bought Aguinaldo, but Uncle Sam is too strong these days to think of spending money on a beardless youth who needs nothing more than the right kind of a spanking.

No one will object to the title of admiral being conferred on George Dewey. He has done his duty like a man, and best of all has made no claim that could not be sustained. Scandal has left Dewey religiously alone.

There is but one report from the far east. American officers and men are fighting with that valor which reflects with great credit upon the nation they represent. If there are individual cases of men slinking from the foe, they have not yet been made public, and the average American has faith enough in the army to believe they are few and far between.

The effort being made in behalf of the hospital deserves the co-operation of every person in East Liverpool, and the presentation of the "Chimes of Normandy" should be patronized by all desirous of helping the good cause along. There are men waiting for an opportunity to place money in the hands of the committee when it is known the project is well started. This is an excellent opportunity to give it that needed start.

FOR COUNCIL.

The great mass of wise, conservative and thoughtful Republicans of East Liverpool, men who are looking to the best interests of their party, and to the welfare of this growing city, will see to it that good and true men are placed in nomination for council at the coming primaries. The demand of the hour is for men of honor and intelligence; men who will look after the business of the city as they would that of a private venture on their part.

A GOOD GOVERNOR.

General Roosevelt has not long been governor of New York, but he is already making a record which other officials would do well to follow. Particularly is he earnest in his desire to compel the enforcement of the law, and he has repeatedly refused to interfere after sentence has been passed by a court. So far has he carried this principle into practice that the friends of a woman condemned to death appealed to him in vain. If the governors of a number of states could see these things as the dashing rough rider views them, there would not be so many criminals walking the streets of the towns and cities of this country, while the courts would serve as some protection to society.

GENERAL MILES AND BEEF.

Much as the political friends of General Miles would have it appear that he is being subjected to persecution, it must not be understood that the last commission, appointed to investigate army beef, is a move against the major general commanding. The government wants information. President McKinley, like the public, wants to know what is in all this talk of the past five months. If it is shown that General Miles has spoken the truth he has nothing whatever to fear, but if he, in his anger, has seen fit to cite a few particular cases and not dealt with the matter honestly, there may be another chapter or two added to the story before it is ended. But at this time it cannot be said that he is being persecuted.

THE OTHER SIDE

Of the Story Concerning the Mother Who It Was Alleged Deserted Her Child.

A few days ago a case of where a mother deserted her child was reported to the Humane society and investigated, and the father agreed to pay the board of the little one in the Fairmount children's home.

It now transpires that the mother of the child has been more sinned against than sinning, and has done everything in her power to care for the child and did not desert it at any time.

Several persons visited the house, and from a reliable source it is learned that the woman had been subjected to much abuse from her husband, and even while the gentlemen were in the house he threw her down in a back room and choked her.

The party found that the little four-months-old child was being well cared for and did not believe the case had been properly reported.

Later developments are that the husband and wife have settled the matter, and the child will remain with them.

TRUSTEE LLOYD'S COAT

Was In Danger For a Short Time, but Was Saved.

Yesterday afternoon a man walked into the office of the trustees, and seeing the overcoat of Trustee Lloyd lying in the back room part of the office said it looked like a good coat, and taking off his old coat put on the coat of the trustee and started for the door.

Trustee Albright was in the office at the time, and when the man had about reached the door it was discovered the coat belonged to Mr. Lloyd, and the man did not get a new coat.

ANTI-SALOON DAY

Will Be Observed In City Churches Next Sunday.

Superintendent Rev. P. A. Baker, of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league, Prof. T. W. Karr, field secretary, and W. B. Wheeler of the Cleveland district, will be in the city next Sunday and occupy the pulpits of some of the churches. The arrangements for the meetings have not been made, and it is not known yet what pulpits the gentlemen will occupy.

Filed a Number of Deeds.

LISBON, Feb. 12.—[Special]—M. C. Beachy, of Rochester, N. Y., has filed a petition for foreclosure on two tracts of land in West township, given to secure the payment of a note for $400, and executed by Annie M. and James H. Kennedy.

The Fairfield Coal company left 19 deeds for record yesterday, which they had taken since 1894. The aggregate amount paid was $15,080.

On the River.

The approach of warm weather is creating much anxiety among rivermen. Every effort will be made to protect interests about this city. The ice at this place will cause no trouble to the rivermen here, but they are fearing the ice which will come down from above.

The stage of water at this port registers six feet and stationary.

SALEM MAN UNDER HEAVY BOND

He Is Charged With Keeping a Gambling Device—William Oliver, of Lisbon, Got a Salty Dose For Breaking the Liquor Laws and His Promise.

LISBON, Feb. 15.—[Special]—Judge Smith continues to dispose of criminal cases, and a number of saloonists have received sentences.

A. Bernstein, of East Liverpool, was charged with selling liquor to men in the habit of becoming intoxicated. He was fined $35 on each of two counts.

Albert Rutter, a Salem man, gave bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance. He is charged with keeping a gambling device.

William Oliver, of Lisbon, came in for a salty dose. Not long ago he was before the court charged with breaking the liquor laws. He promised at that time to quit the business, but forgot about it as soon as he left the court house. The last grand jury indicted him for again breaking the law, and when arraigned before Judge Smith he was fined $100 and costs.

Jacob Adolph & Co., took judgment on a cognovit note against O. M. Hendricks, of Salem, for $301.92. Hendricks was indicted for permitting gambling and selling liquor illegally.

FOGO ON TRIAL.

Judge Smith Overruled the Demurrer to the Indictment.

LISBON, Feb. 15.—[Special]—Judge Smith overruled the demurrer to the indictment against A. C. Fogo, and the trial began this morning.

Mr. Devore and Superintendent Davidson, of the Wellsville water works, were the first witnesses called for the purpose of showing what the rules of the department are. The printed rules were offered in evidence. Mr. Davidson said that Fogo had told him that he (Fogo) had written the rules. The minutes of the meeting at which Fogo was appointed superintendent were read. Davidson took charge of the waterworks last June, and found books and papers but no money. The cash book was presented in court, and the amount of receipts recorded from March 14, 1898, the yearly settlement day, to June 16, the time Fogo left, were read. Official receipts aggregating $766.97 were also offered. They are dated before March 14, 1898, while comparison with the stubs showed the stubs to be dated after that date. Unofficial receipts, admitted by the defense to have been given and signed by Fogo, were offered. No record of these is found on the books of the water department.

Davidson was unable to say how much more Fogo had received, as indicated by his receipts, than had been turned over to the treasurer.

Accountant John Sant examined Fogo's books, and after going over all books and papers found there should be a cash balance of $1,013.60, but he only found with the treasurer a balance of $131.26, showing a shortage of $881.44.

T. R. Andrews, treasurer of Wellsville, said he received money from the water works, and the last payment made by Fogo was March 18, the amount being $1,698.88. Fogo was given a receipt.

Mayor Dennis said Fogo was arrested on an affidavit made out by him. He plead not guilty, saying the amount was not as much as given in the affidavit, not being over $500, and he intended to pay it back.

William Byers said Fogo told him he had stolen enough off the water works to live two years. Byers claimed D. E. Brockett and Frank Geisse heard him say it.

Miss Edith McCord said Fogo told her he thought he would be able to settle with the trustees.

Councilman Goetz said Fogo asked him to wait until June before looking over the books, as his year would then be up and he would be able to make a better report.

D. E. Brockett corroborated the testimony of Byers. On cross examination he said he thought Fogo's remarks flippant.

A VERY BUSY SESSION

Council Talked of a Great Many Matters.

REVISING THE SALOON LAW

At Present the Ordinance Allows Screens to Remain Down All of Sunday—Complaints on Street Assessments Were Heard—Other Business.

Council met last evening at 8:10 o'clock, with all members present, except Messrs. Cain and Marshall.

The session was called to order by Vice President Stewart, and after the minutes had been read and approved, a petition was introduced from the residents of East Market street, near the Horn switch, asking that council rise the curb on the south side of the street, as they intended to build this year. The petition stated how many times the residents had been flooded out, and said if something was not done they would be compelled to place claims for damages. The petition was received and filed.

A petition was received from the Elks, stating that this was the centennial year of the city, and they wished to celebrate it and hold a street carnival the week of July 3. A resolution was passed granting them privilege to use Broadway, from Fourth to Sixth street, Fifth street, from Washington to Broadway, and Kosuth street, from Broadway to Walnut street, for the week of July 3, and one week previous to that time.

Resolutions were introduced to improve Trentvale street from Sheridan avenue to the north line of the corporation and Grant street from Lincoln avenue to Calcutta road, but no action was taken.

Ordinances were introduced to improve Grant street, Spring street and Basil avenue to Lincoln avenue; Woodlawn avenue, from Basil avenue to Grant street, and West Market street from Grant street to Waterloo road. Vice President Stewart said the ordinances should pass, but no motion was made and they went over to their second reading.

An ordinance to amend section 17 of the revised ordinances was read. The section as it now reads provides that all saloons shall be free from screens between the hours of 10 p. m. and 6 a. m., standard time. This permits the saloonkeepers to have screens at their windows all day Sunday. The amendment seeks to remedy the defect, and says that the saloons shall not have screens at the windows at any time on Sunday. The ordinance was permitted to pass its first reading without comment.

The pay ordinance was taken up, and Clerk Hanley called attention to the bill of $650 for fees of witnesses in the W. E. Morrow case. Mr. Challis explained why claims committee had laid the bill over, and upon motion of Mr. Olmhausen the bill was referred to the solicitor.

J. M. Smith presented a bill of $5 for damage to a wheel on his wagon at the power house switch. The bill was referred to the street railway company.

H. S. Rinehart had a bill of $22.50 for gravel used in a ditch in Jethro street. Mr. Peach explained the controversy between the Ohio Valley Gas company and Contractor Rinehart in regard to the matter, and the bill went to the city engineer. The pay ordinance was then passed.

Commissioner Bryan reported doing general work during the month, while the fire department answered seven fire, 15 patrol and three ambulance calls and conveyed 12 prisoners to the lockup. Mayor Bough had a very poor month, and only collected $63 in fines and licenses. The reports were filed.

Mr. Peach called attention to the fact that during the floods of last spring the property of Thomas Lounds, of Fourth street, had been damaged, and council had relieved all the other property owners, and had done nothing for him. The matter was finally left in the hands of Messrs. Peach, Olmhausen and Ashbaugh, with power to act.

Upon motion of Mr. Challis a committee composed of Messrs. Challis, Seckerson and Stewart will investigate the rising of the East Market street curbs and report to council.

Clerk Hanley reported that in making the assessment for improving Jethro, Lisbon, Avondale and Oak streets the assessment overrun the 25 per cent that could be collected by law, and he wanted to know if council would authorize him to accept the 25 per cent. He said some persons who were ignorant of the law might pay the full assessment, but it was not just to take it.

Mr. Peach said he thought the best plan would be to collect what was allowed according to law and it would be unjust to collect more than that amount from people who were ignorant of the law, and if they had paid it the amount should be refunded.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Makes the food more delicious and wholesome

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Clerk Hanley stated that, while some of the property would not stand the assessment, some of it would pay double the amount it had been assessed.

Vice President Stewart said this was a knotty problem, and wanted to know if the deficiency should be made up from the property that would more than stand the assessment.

Mr. Peach said he certainly thought a man with a $30 piece of property should not pay as much as a man with a well improved piece.

Mr. Ashbaugh stated that he knew of one man who owned a $50 piece of property on the street, and his assessment was $110. The same man also had a $450 piece, and the assessment on it was also $110.

Attorney W. H. Vodrey was present and stated that he represented Mr. McGeever, and his assessment was $463.75, while his property was valued at but $590, making an assessment of 75 per cent, when they could collect but 25 per cent. He asked that a correction be made in the case of his client.

In the absence of the solicitor Attorney Vodrey was asked for advice on the subject and stated that council could collect but 25 per cent.

A suggestion was made that some of the property would stand more than the 25 per cent and it would make up the deficiency. Clerk Hanley stated that this would be hardly fair, as some people had improved their property while others with just as good lots had not improved them, and it was not fair that the persons who improved their property should pay more than the ones who had not. He said that before the next assessment was made a change would be wise, as the law permitted council to plat ground and place a valuation on it.

A motion was carried to collect but 25 per cent of the tax valuation, and Mr. Stewart remarked that it would be wise for council to consider matters of this kind before they again started to improve country roads.

Mr. Stewart remarked that the action would cause a deficiency and Clerk Hanley said it would come out of the general tax levy. Mr. Stewart said that meant to pay it out of an already overdrawn general fund. Clerk Hanley said a new assessment could be made, and the matter was referred to the solicitor.

Mr. Olmhausen said: "We often run into things here which we do not understand, and I make a motion that hereafter the solicitor be present and if he is not we send for him. We have voted on things tonight that may cost the city thousands of dollars, and I am free to say that I didn't understand them, but only voted for them because Mr. Peach did."

Vice President Stewart stated that he thought both the engineer and solicitor should be present, but it was explained that Solicitor McGarry was ill, while Engineer George was detained on account of a death.

TOO HUNGRY

Was the Excuse Given by a Boy Who Did Not Go to School.

Constable Miller yesterday afternoon arrested a small boy named Harry Race on a charge of juvenile disorderly placed against him by Truant Officer Beardmore.

The boy has been residing in a shanty boat with his parents, and when brought into the court of Squire Hill stated that he did not go to school because he did not get enough to eat, and spent his time begging food. Squire Hill bound him over to the probate court for sentence to the Lancaster Industrial school. The boy seemed glad to receive the sentence, and made no comments upon it. He was given his supper and sent home to spend the night with his parents, and this morning was on hand bright and early to be taken to Lisbon by Constable Miller.

The father of the boy was also brought into the court, and stated that he had sent his boy to school, but he refused to go, and he was not able to keep him in school.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Len Hertel, a son.

FAMOUS MIDWAY IS COMING

The Centennial of East Liverpool Is to Be Made a Memorable Occasion—Contract Signed and Only the Details to Be Worked Out.

The city will be 100 years old this year, and East Liverpool Lodge No. 258, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, propose to celebrate the centennial in a fitting manner, and in a way that will cause neighboring cities to realize that the people here have not forgotten that they have a city of which they are justly proud.

The plans for the celebration were thoroughly discussed, and after many suggestions had been made, and much advice received, it was decided to hold a street carnival the week beginning July 3, and to have a special display on the glorious Fourth.

The Elks at a meeting appointed an executive committee to look into the matter, and they at once realized that to make the affair a success it was necessary to secure an attraction of merit. They began to look for attractions, and after some correspondence a representative of the Exposition Circuit company came to the city and met with the executive committee, and as a result a contract was closed with the representative and the leading feature of the carnival will be the presentation of the Midway as it was presented at the World's fair. The company carry seven or eight shows. The Hindoo, Arab, Turk, Japanese and Egyptians are still with them and their performances will be the same as they were at the World's Fair. There are 300 people in the company, and the streets of Cairo with its oriental theaters and heathen music, donkeys and camels will be reproduced. The company is the only one of its kind in the United States, and never until this year did it ever visit a city with less than 50,000 population, and only the large guarantee given by the Elks secured it for the celebration.

The business men of the city will also make displays and there will be speeches and parades which a number of other attractions will be engaged, and it is expected to make the event one long to be remembered as well as to advertise the numerous advantages of the city.

It was decided at first to hold the affair at Goldenbush park, but after discussing the matter the conclusion was reached that the affair would be much more of a success if it was held in the center of the city, and the use of the streets obtained. The committee started out to secure the permission of the property owners along the route desired, and found almost every person heartily in accord with the idea. As a result the celebration will be held in Broadway, from Fourth street to Sixth street, Sixth street, from Washington street to Broadway; Kossuth street, from Broadway to Walnut street. This was not enough room for the carnival, and the committee succeeded in securing leases on the Croxall property in Washington street and the lumber yard of Robert Hall. The Midway and streets of Cairo will be reproduced on these two pieces of property. The Court of Honor or main entrance will be erected at the triangular space at the corner of Broadway and Fourth streets. A brilliant electrical display will take place at this point, and handsome arches will be erected as it is intended that the centennial portion of the celebration shall take place here.

Every day there will be special programs ordered, and at no time during the week will the attraction be permitted to grow old. Arrangements are now being made with the Pennsylvania company to run special trains into the city, every morning in order that the large crowds who will undoubtedly visit the city, can be accommodated. The trains will return in the evening to carry the visitors to their homes, and a low excursion rate will be secured. It is fully expected that at least 100,000 people will visit the city during the week, as everywhere the carnival has been presented it has been an immense success.

There will be special features added daily for the benefit of the country people, and there will be many attractions that will be of interest to them, while every effort will be made to secure attractions that will appeal directly to the people of Wellsville.

With the thoughts of the Steubenville centennial celebration still fresh in their minds, the committee will make every effort to eclipse it, and are confident that they can do so. From this time forth the committee will devote their effort to making the affair the greatest in the history of the city. The chairman of the executive committee is G. L. S. Brook, and meetings of the committee are being held three and four nights every week.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

(Special Correspondence.)

There is a novel charity work being done on the west side of this town. Clothing for men, women, girls and babies is sold for whatever price the purchaser can afford to pay for it. Sometimes the clothing is sold for 1 cent, sometimes more, good clothing, too; clothing which cost the original purchaser $50 and even $75 a suit. Sounds improbable. Yet that is what is being done by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, whose fold is on West Nineteenth street. The selling of clothing at a nominal price is not by any means all that the sisterhood does, but it is a department which under wise guidance has been a great success and has been commended by many churches and societies all over this and other cities.

The clothing bureau has done much good work during the year, although there has been a great decrease in the number of packages left at its door owing to the fact that churches and societies all over the city and in the neighboring cities and towns have learned this superior way of benefiting the poor and have opened clothing bureaus in connection with their own work. The fact that this plan is so largely followed shows its practical usefulness. Many of the purchasers are washwomen, seamstresses, housemaids and scrubwomen. The men customers are usually out of employment and also out at the knees, elbows and toes as to attire. To these are sold comfortable secondhand, partly worn clothes at whatever price they would be purchased at if they were new. Often it is $1 and often 1 cent.

A $30,000 Set of China.

Mrs. William Astor has recently paid a fortune for some dishes. She has given in return for a mere set of china $30,000 American dollars. There are 212 pieces in all, each of which is worth almost its weight in gold. Mrs. Astor now owns the most costly china in America. This $30,000 set of china was originally intended for royalty.

The china was made in the famous Royal Meissen factory in Dresden, and a sample was sent to Mrs. Astor when she was in Paris last March. The plate sent on approval so delighted New York's society leader that she ordered the china at once, with instructions to add the Astor crest and her own monogram.

The china is rich cream white in tint, with a slightly scalloped edge. Close to the rim, traced in glittering gold, is the famous star scattered Astor crest. Below the crest and encircling each plate is a band of gold, then a band of brilliant red, bordered by another gleaming gold line, and then, still farther down in the plate, directly under the crest, are the golden letters "C. A." (Caroline Astor), wrought into a monogram.

The care of it is a story all of itself. Not one of the 212 pieces is ever allowed to touch the other, so brittle are these wonderfully costly plates. A china closet has been built to hold them, and each dish has a niche of its own.

In Provincial New York.

The invasion of several Westchester county towns by trolley cars recently has produced some curious results, and not the least of these is the way in which a man who spends his days in New York and who sleeps in the country will stand for half an hour on a corner in a suburban town to watch a trolley car go by. They watch the car with rapt attention as it rockets by, shooting electric sparks on either side. A thousand such cars in New York would not interest them. Until recently the only car line in New Rochelle consisted of at least one car, which had seen better days, and a pair of horses with no particular ambition. Twice a day this collection of antiquities made the trip from the railroad station to Hudson Park. Several evenings ago two commuters, who were waiting for a trolley car, on Main street were surprised to see this old horse car standing on the tracks.

"Don't know," was the reply in disconsolate tones.

"Where are you going?"

"Don't know. I'm new on this line, and I'm looking for Rose street. I've lost my way."

Rival Truckmen.

Richard Croker is not going to have things all his own way in the motor truck business. There are rivals in the field, and the most powerful of them has big names back of it. There are Astors and Depews and Seward Webbs in the new concern, which is to be known as the Storage Power company, and which will use the inventions of one Prall, who has been patenting compressed air motors ever since 1871. "I discovered that air was a pretty good medium," said Prall today, "and not an actual, efficient power in itself. Our company is now constructing a motor which will run 50 miles an hour, and the entire system of compressed air and superheated water has been covered by numerous patents." Prall claims that the rival systems are failures, and unimagination and recriminations are in order.

No More "Kissing Gate."

Gone are the pleasures of the "Kissing Gate." The cold and heartless policemen of the Harlem district have placed a ban upon it. The boys had been having such a good time there! The "Kissing Gate" is the One Hundred and Twenty-second street entrance to Mount Morris park. Young brigands lay in wait there, and when young and attractive persons of the opposite sex entered or left by it they would be pounced upon and embraced with ardor and ferocity. Some of the girls liked it, some did not. It was the latter who made the trouble and caused the police to take a hand in the game. The other morning in court several of the kissers were fined $10 each.

YOUTHS' DEPARTMENT.

In one of Philadelphia's hospitals there is a curly haired, pink cheeked little 5-year-old boy, blind in both eyes, maimed, twisted and a cripple for life, and yet he is the joy of the hospital and the light of the wards and has been the direct cause of a dying man's conversion. The patients call him "Little Sunshine." Every morning he is led through the wards and the private rooms by one of the nurses, and the patients coo to their pet and kiss him.

In room 10 there is a coal heaver, a big, brawny fellow, dying of an incurable disease, and "Sunshine's" crystal-like purity and innocence so appealed to him that the man's heart was touched. He was reminded of his early childhood days, when at his mother's knees he listened, "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep." Four days ago the dying coal heaver asked to see a clergyman, and the pastor of a nearby Methodist church was sent for. The good man told of the sacrifice and sufferings of the Saviour, and in the barren room of the hospital between the day and the dark the man found peace.

"Sunshine's" chubby little fist—the unimpaired one—was buried deep in the great knotted palms of the dying man. He lay still, with the light of new found peace upon his face. "Dear God," he murmured as the great tears chased one another down his cheeks, and lost themselves in the snowy linen. "Dear God, 'Little Sunshine' done it. Sonny done it. The parson said as how a little kid could lead a feller, and 'Sunshine' done it."

There was a moment of silence; then "Little Sunshine" gently withdrew his hands from those of the dying man and whispered to the nurse: "Tan he see God? Wiss, I could."

Game of Cricket.

To play this game one member of the company is chosen by lot and becomes the cricket. The cricket then writes upon a piece of paper the name of some kind of grain and folds it, so that no one else can see it. Then the cricket begins his search, saying something like this:

"My good friends, I am very, very hungry. You ants are known as good providers, with always plenty to eat in your houses. Will not one of you give me some kind of provisions, now that it is too cold for me to seek for food?"

Then, as the cricket stops before one of the ants, he or she says:

"I can give you a grain of wheat."

If wheat is not the name of the grain written down, the cricket must refuse in some such terms as:

"Wheat does not agree with my constitution. And then the cricket is to address himself to all the ants, in turn and is to find some ant reply to the offer of all the grains until the one written down is reached, when he says:

"Thank you. That is just what I have been longing for. Now, seeing that it is better to be an ant than a cricket, I propose to become an ant, and you may be cricket in my place."

As the cricket says this all the company jump up and try to escape, and the cricket pursues until he catches one, who becomes cricket in turn.

Motor Cars in Spain.

Motor cars are beginning to make their appearance even in Spain and seem strangely out of place in the streets of her medieval towns. A great many motor tricycles have been seen in Madrid, and now the first motor carriage has arrived in Seville and creates some stir in the narrow, ill paved streets. It belongs to a famous treader and was brought by him at great expense from Paris.

A Winter Song.

The whole wide world is filled with snow
Whichever way I look or go.
The cold wind down the chimney comes,
The little snowbirds chirp for crumbs.

Jack Frost is pinching every nose,
He strings our cheeks and nips our toes.
And I'm afraid he's none too good
To birds and squirrels in the wood.

O little creatures, are you cold?
I pity you, though I've been told
That you are snug and warm as wool
In fur and feathers in a tree!

I think of you, when comes the snow,
And when the cold winds howl and blow
My heart would warm you if it could,
O little creatures in the wood!

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others? The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Good only a year or more. Name in lower left hand corner and properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same was made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a hat from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the Union Label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the Golden Rule by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a black ground, bordered by gold.

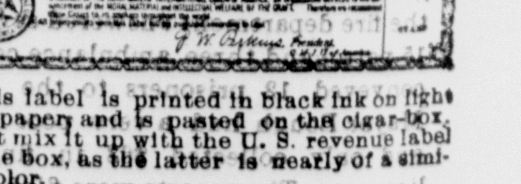

The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on this cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

Sewer Commissioners Gave No Contract.

BIDDERS SENT PIPE SPECIMENS

They Were Tested Yesterday Afternoon and the Plan For Sewering the District Was Discussed, but No Conclusion Was Reached—Will Begin in the Spring.

The sewer commissioners held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the office of F. H. Croxall, but again could not see their way clear to let the contract for seven miles of pipe.

The specimens of pipe asked from the bidders had been sent, and were subjected to the test usually used in cases of that kind. It is known as the "hammer test," and was satisfactory. When it was over the commissioners settled down to discuss the important matter of letting the contract, but it was decided to hold it over until next Friday when another meeting will be held. The commissioners argued that since they must advertise to have the work done, and that was an important matter, they could well afford to consider the question of pipe until later in the week.

There are but two bidders for the big contract. Knowles, Taylor & Anderson and Lythe & Sons.

Plans for the sewerage of the new district were carefully discussed, and it was the opinion of every member present that work must be commenced early in the spring.

A GARBAGE FURNACE

Will Be Discussed If the Board of Health Meets.

At the next meeting of the board of health H. A. Keffer will again present the question of erecting a garbage furnace. In speaking of this matter yesterday Mr. Keffer said:

"There should be something done and that very soon in this matter. It is almost a year since the matter was first presented, but as it is seldom a meeting is held it is almost impossible to get business of any kind transacted. We should meet with the Wellsville board before the meeting next month to talk over the building of a furnace but it is doubtful if such a meeting will be held."

STOPPED WORK.

Railroad Improvement at Smith's Ferry Delayed.

The steam shovel which has been in use at Smith's Ferry for several months grading, was taken to Wellsville last evening, where it will be extensively repaired.

The cold weather has interfered considerably with the work of the company at that place, and it is thought by those in charge that the improvements will not be completed until late in March, and possibly April. There is yet considerable work to be done, and unless warm weather sets in the work will drag.

Creston Clarke to Return.

Mr. Creston Clarke, who will produce the new romantic play, "The Ragged Cavalier," at the new Grand on Thursday night, is a nephew of the famous actor, Edwin Booth, to whom he bears a wonderful facial resemblance. He married Asia Booth, the eldest sister of Edwin Booth, and during the life of America's greatest tragedian the elder Clarke and Mr. Booth were inseparable friends and business associates.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[Special Correspondence.]

John Russell Young, whose death shocked members of congress and public men to an extraordinary degree, was almost an ideal librarian, and yet, curiously enough, was not satisfied with his work. Although 57 years old, he still had a hankering for foreign travel, and it is now an open secret that he was endeavoring to secure a transfer to the diplomatic service. He brought to the control of the library large executive ability and pronounced literary tastes. In addition to this he was popular among members of congress and looked after their interests so carefully as to win their affection. His service as minister to China and his trip around the world with General Grant left in him a deep desire to see still more of foreign countries, and at the time of his death he was endeavoring to find a good successor in the library and get into the diplomatic harness once more. It is said that negotiations had proceeded so far that John Addison Porter, secretary to the president, had been taken into consideration as librarian of congress to succeed Mr. Young in case of his transfer. For this reason, it is believed, Mr. Porter's name may be considered in connection with the vacancy which now exists.

Senators Who Give Tips.

Although the senate is popularly known as the Millionaires' club, the individual members are not as a rule given to liberality. This is what the white aproned servants who look after the senators' wants in the restaurant say. One of the old waiters was asked if he would rather wait on senators than on sports. He grinned and said:

"Der's no camp'son. Gimme de sports."

"How much do you average each day from tips?"

"Usually 'bout $2."

"Who are the star tip men?"

"Well, I reckon Mr. Hanna, Mr. Lodge, Mr. Warren and Mr. Smith come near bein the bestest. O' cose dere are oders, but dese are my men. Gimme dese four and I wants no more."

The old waiter is right in what he says. Senators are not prodigal in giving tips. The little page boys, who are paid $2.50 a day, make little outside of their salaries. There are senators who give pages a nickel to get two postage stamps and take the penny change.

That Good Feeling.

Sir Tatton Sykes and Mr. Reginald Cholmonder of London are in the city on their way through to Mexico. Mr. Cholmonder is said to be the prospective recipient of a lordship. He is a young man reserved and modest in manner. He spoke entertainingly of the gayer sides of London life.

"Yes, we notice the growth of good feeling between your country and ours in many of the petty frivolities of human life," he said. "The Belle of New York has been all the rage in London this season, and when the American and the British flags are brought out together in the last act the crowds cheer and cheer as though they never would stop. We hear American patriotic airs on the streets and jokes in the newspapers and farces in the music halls, all indicative of the good feeling between the two nations. I think the growth of this sentiment has been most marked among the class of people whom you might call the men of the street. But you know we Englishmen, the better class particularly, have felt kindly toward America and Americans for many years."

The Deposed Queen of Hawaii.

Some time ago Mrs. Dominis, formerly known as Liliuokalani, installed herself in one of the down town hotels in such state as her diminished purse allowed. It was not known at the time of her arrival what project brought her again to this country, and various rumors were current. One to the effect that she would shortly take to the lecture platform seemed probable, as there is no doubt that her highness would make a success in that field. Her business, however, has finally been made apparent by a formal protest filed with congress against the absorption of the pseudo crown lands by this government, insisting that her deposition does not affect her title to this realty and demanding that it be returned.

Colonel Berry Awaits the Challenge.

Colonel Albert S. Berry of Kentucky was the subject of considerable badinage in the house the other day on account of a press dispatch from Germany stating that the German newspapers were urging the emperor to take some official recognition of his speech, in which he declared that it might be necessary to turn in and lick the German people if they did not stop meddling with our affairs in the far east. The same dispatch said that some member of the reichstag might think it incumbent upon himself to challenge Colonel Berry should he not retract his pugnacious statement. The Kentuckian took the matter good naturedly. He is 6 feet 4 inches high, weighs 225 pounds and is in good repair. Colonel Berry says he has nothing against the German people, although he doesn't like their system of government or their emperor. If they want to send a champion from the reichstag, Colonel Berry will not quail.

Representative A. M. Dockery of Missouri, one of the Democratic floor leaders, is a constant theater goer. Nearly every night during the week he visits one of the Washington theaters. The congressman is generally alone on his tour of the playhouses. He appears to get considerable amusement out of the passing shows. His particular fancy runs toward minstrelsy. This is Mr. Dockery's last term in congress. He believes he can be elected governor of Missouri two years hence, and of his own free will he declined a renomination, preferring to take chances on the governorship.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

If you have not already a sufficient supply of kitchen tables to pattern after, let me add one more to the list. Mine is made, with the exception of drawer fronts and top, of ceiling boards, such as are used for wainscoting. It is two feet four and three-quarters inches high, three feet one-half inch long and two feet three-quarters inch deep. The top extends three inches over the body of the table to prevent anything being slopped down the front or sides. The top is covered with oilcloth.

Now for the body. It is divided in the middle perpendicularly. The top of each division contains a drawer. Each drawer is of the same size. I keep in one the spices, dish towels, recipe books, etc. In the other are the knives and forks used in cooking, the graters, chopping knife, rolling pin, potato masher, etc. Below the right drawer the remaining space is left clear. The floor of this part is covered with oilcloth. In this I set my kettles. Cleats are fastened on each side of this compartment, and driven into them are nails on which I hang the spiders and colander. The other cupboard contains one shelf, on which are kept baking powder, soda, coffee and tea, also coffee mill and coffee and tea pots. Below this I keep pans and baking tins. As the drawers are large one can keep many things besides the ones mentioned in them.

My "John" (only his name happens to be Will) built this for me, and consequently it cost only a dollar in money. He worked at it during spare moments, so he did not use time which should have been used otherwise. The drawers are fitted up with pulls, the cupboard doors with hinges and spring catches, and it is mounted on casters. It is well painted, which makes it easy to keep clean, and being on casters is easily moved about.—Housekeeper.

Draping the Bed.

From the earliest times luxurious people have had luxurious beds, and, though their use was certainly very limited, downy beds, embroidered sheets and rich draperies were spoken of in

the early centuries. These comforts succeeding centuries have not lost sight of, and from the boxlike arrangement, with raised sides, filled with sacks of straw, the comfortable beds fitted with springs, mattresses, pillows, sheets, blankets and quilts have been evolved and have become a necessity to mankind, while the luxury of artistic draperies, which in many instances can be made and hung at trifling expense, especially if time must not be taken into account, are within the means of many, and the transformation of the room will well repay one for all the labor spent upon it.

The illustration shows a dainty corner bed, with the drapery suspended from poles protruding from brackets fastened in the wall. Carried out in white figured china silk or white swiss this is an easy way of making an enamel bed very attractive.—American Queen.

The Juicy Oyster Pie.

Oyster pie may be baked in a large pudding dish or in individual patties, as desired; if in a large dish that holds three pints, line the sides of the dish with puff paste or a rich crust and put in a quart of oysters, layer by layer, seasoning each one with a teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of pepper and an even tablespoonful of butter cut in bits. Cover with a crust, leaving an opening in the center, and bake. In the meantime make a good smooth white sauce by melting one tablespoonful of butter in a small frying pan, adding to it a tablespoonful of flour, cooking until it bubbles, then adding the strained oyster liquor and a half cup of water. Cook until it thickens, then add a little white pepper and a cup of cream or milk. When the pie is nearly done, raise the crust from the side or insert a

No wonder some women feel as if the disease which constantly pursues them is just a malignant devil dooming them to endless misery. Thousands of women who could get no relief from any other source have written grateful letters to Doctor R. V.

Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., telling him of the benefits received from his wonderful prescriptions and the careful professional advice which he sends by mail without charge.

A lady living in West Eaton, Madison Co., N. Y., Mrs. Mattie A. Walker, in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce, says: "I write to inform you what your remedies have done for me; but they have helped me so much that I know not where to commence or where to leave off, as I had such a complication of ailments. For three years I had such bad spells I thought that if dying was only just a sleep I did not want to wake and suffer again; I would be glad to have death come any night. I got so discouraged it seemed as if I could never be well and happy again. I had asthmatic spells towards morning. Sometimes I felt as if I could not get breath enough to live, but I dreaded pains in the top of my head, and was so nervous I felt as if something dreadful was going to happen—I could not tell why either. I could write a dozen sheets full and not tell all the dreadful things I suffered, from female weakness, constipation, asthmatic spells, and rheumatic neuralgia."

For nervous troubles and ailments peculiar to women Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only proprietary remedy designed by a regularly educated physician. For bronchial affections and digestive difficulties his "Golden Medical Discovery" is the one permanent cure. His "Pleasant Pellets" are the most effective natural non-gripping laxative for constipation.

It was in greater repute with our ancestors, although it is still used as a seasoning herb. On the continent, especially in Italy, it is much used, and the French consider it an essential in many made dishes.

Dr. Alexander Marmorek of Paris compares the opponents of serum therapy to the Italian men of science who brought Galilei before the inquisition because they were afraid of his new doctrines, and when, to convince them, he asked them simply to look through his telescope they refused for fear of being convinced against their will.

In the first four weeks after the opening of the electric railroad at Cairo, Egypt, it is said that no less than 80 persons were killed, and since that time the weekly average of victims is seven or eight. This very high rate of casualties is supposed to be due in part to the imperfect sight of many natives in consequence of the prevalent eye diseases, but fully as much is due perhaps to the fact that they are unfamiliar with such swift moving vehicles.

ANARCHY PREVAILED.

Rebellious Conditions Continued In Samoa According to Advice Received. British Interfered With.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Feb. 15.—Advice received here from Samoa, under date of Feb. 8, reported that anarchy and rebellion still prevailed there. The provisional government persisted in interfering with the British subjects and also with servants of British residents.

The decision of the triple council in the matter of the king's succession was anxiously awaited. Annexation was looked upon as the only possible solution of existing difficulties. It was stated that even Mataafa's followers would prefer English to German control.

The British cruiser Porpoise returned to Apia on Feb. 1 from a cruise of the Samoan group and reported having found affairs quiet on the other islands. The people of Futula were unanimously in favor of Mataafa Tanus. In Savaii each claimant to the throne was strongly supported.

The German consul general, Mr. Rose, notified Chief Justice Chambers that his government had not upheld his protest regarding that officer. The news was received with great satisfaction.

THE POISON INQUIRY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The inquest into the cause of the death of Mrs. Kate J. Adams, who died on Dec. 28 from the effects of poison received through the mails by Harry Cornish at the Knickerbocker Athletic club, was resumed after a three days' recess.

Molineux told all about his disagreements with Cornish and his efforts to have the latter ousted from the Knickerbocker Athletic club, of how he met Miss Blanche Cheseboro, who is now his wife; of how he presented his friend Barnett to her and of Barnett's friendly attentions to her. A letter from Miss Cheseboro to Barnett, which has never before been published, was put in evidence.

Barnet received it on his deathbed. It contained solicitous inquiries for his health and evinced very friendly spirit. After the adjournment Cornish was reported to have said: "I want to make a straightforward statement tomorrow (Wednesday) without any interruptions, and if I am not allowed to make it I shall appeal to the coroner."

Mrs. Molineux will probably be a witness before the coroner today.

DECLARING A POLICY.

The McEnery Resolution as to a Philippine Attitude Passed In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The unanimous consent agreement reached by the senate last Saturday to vote on the resolution of Mr. McEnery (Dem., La.) declaring a policy of this government in the Philippines was not vacated. In accordance with that agreement the vote was taken on the resolution and it was adopted—26 to 29. It was noticeable that several Democrats who were present and not paired refrained from voting. An amendment offered by Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.) several days ago was defeated. The vote on the amendment was a tie—29 to 29—and Vice President Hobart cast the deciding vote against the proposition.

Speeches were delivered by Mr. Stewart (Pop., Nev.), Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.), Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.), Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.) and Mr. Mason (Rep., Ill.). The speeches of Mr. Hoar and Mr. Hale were notable utterances. They defended the position they had taken on the Philippine question.
